Defense spells defeat for Flashes

by Glen Lubbert
assistant sports editor

KENT, Ohio -- According to Kent coach Jim McDonald, the men's basketball team is like a buzz saw. If that's true, then the Golden Flashes would probably compare to butter as the Falcons sliced through KSU, 61-56 Saturday.

Thanks to a strong defensive effort in the first half, the Falcons were finally able to do what head coach Jim Larranaga said would be essential to a road victory -- leave the court with a lead at halftime. The defense was so effective that it didn't allow the Golden Flashes to get their score into double digits for 10 minutes.

"I thought our defense in the first 18 minutes of the game was just outstanding," Larranaga said. The Falcons were able to build their first half lead to 17 points with 1:58 remaining, but a last minute KSU surge cut into BG's lead ending the half, 34-24.

But there wouldn't be much more excitement for KSU fans during the second half. Despite being able to reduce the margin to five several times, the Golden Flashes were never able to get over the hump and make the big play.

"We're a team that just doesn't fight adversity very well," McDonald said. "We're just not fundamentally a very good team. We don't pass it well. We don't shoot it well. We do rebound on occasion."

The Golden Flashes could attribute some of their problem to shooting. KU was 32 percent (20-of-61) from the field.

"We had guys with other things on their mind. Whatever that is, I'm not sure," McDonald said.

"The moon has got to be right and the stars have to be in the proper orbit for us to shoot the damn thing well."

KSU was able to win the battle of the boards pulling down 42 compared to the BG's 28. However, that didn't effect the Falcons too much considering how well their defense was playing, according to the Larranaga.

"We were solid enough defensively that even when they got offensive rebounds...they didn't automatically lead to field goals or they would have had a lot more than 20," Larranaga said. "When we could set our defense, we did a very, very good job."

The Falcons offensive effort was led by Vada Burnett who scored 17 points. Burnett helped BG to shoot 49 percent (21-of-43) from the field and 40 percent (four-of-10) from the charity stripe.

"I think we're developing chemistry between our team," Burnett said. "We're playing our roles better."

BG, 12-11 overall and 7-5 in the MAC, got its second conference road win to extend its winning streak to five games. Prior to Saturday's game, the Falcons had lost all seven games on the road that were decided by 10 points or less.

The Golden Flashes fall to 7-16 overall and 4-9 in the conference. At home KU is now 6-5 overall and 3-4 in the MAC.

Wake Forest upsets Duke

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) -- Top-ranked Duke lost for the second time this season on Sunday as Anthony Tucker scored 24 points and hit the go-ahead basket with 1:25 left to lead Wake Forest to a 72-68 upset.

The Blue Devils (21-2, 11-2 in the Atlantic Coast Conference) led by as many as 10 points with nine minutes remaining, but were outscored 15-1 over the final 5:19 as Wake Forest shot 62 percent in the second half.

Duke took its final lead at 68-67 after Brian Davis made one of two free throws with 1:45 left. But Tucker, who scored a career-high 31 points in an upset victory over Duke last season, sank his 12-foot go-ahead jumper 20 seconds later to put the Deacons up for good.

Rodney Rogers added 18 points for the Demon Deacons (16-7, 7-6).

Falcon deuces outlast Kent State's treys 91-83

by Steve Seasily
sports writer

KENT, Ohio -- Good things come to those who wait. This was the case Saturday when the women's basketball team denied Kent State the upset behind 13 second-half points from forward Lori Albers.

Albers, 0 for 3 from the field in the first half, scored seven points and hauled down two clutch rebounds in the last six minutes of the game to push the Falcons to a 91-83 victory.

Clark

The Falcons stay in second place in the Mid-American conference at 19-4 overall and 10-2 in the league. Kent remains close behind at 15-9 and 9-4 in league action.

The Falcons led the game for most of the first half as juniors Andrea Nordmann and Judit Lendvay provided the spark offensively with 14 and 11 markers, respectively. The Flashes, however, remained in the hunt as sophomore center Tracey Lynn persistently towered over BG's interior defenders to score 10 first-half points. Teammate forward Ann Forbes handled duty on the perimeter, causing havoc with her slashing moves past disoriented BG pivot players. Forbes hit for 12 points in the half and grabbed four caroms.

In a game dictated by spurts, the Falcons ended the first half with a 12-4 run after Kent had pulled to within two at 35-33 with just over two minutes to play. The half ended with two BG put-backs from senior Katie McNulty and sophomore Talita Scott to propel the Falcons to a 47-37 margin.

"We started to recognize the numbers situation on the break," said BG coach Jaci Clark. "When we had the advantage we went and finished off the layups. We did a good job of balancing the floor. That's when Andrea and Lori started to take over."

Rejuvenated post defense, patient motion offense and the services of Nordmann and Albers allowed BG to expand its lead in the initial stages of the second half. BG lead 59-42 with 14 minutes to play as Scott drove into the heart of Kent's saggy defense and kissed one off the glass.

Kent's Forbes would score only five points the rest of the way and BG's hounding inside defense of Lynn pushed her outside where she proved to be ineffective.

"Individual post defense in the second half was very good," Clark said. "Everybody did a good job with their defensive assignments. Our posts did a good job of coming through."

Just when it looked like BG was ready to put the game away, Kent's three-point wizard Kim Homa started firing bullets. Homa, averaging just five points a game coming in, sizzled the nets for six treys in the stanza to pull Kent to within 87-83 with 48 seconds to play.

In steps Albers.

The sophomore forward connected on a pair of free throws to put BG up by six and then jolted to the bucket on the next possession to receive the assist from senior guard Cathy Koch to put the game out of reach.

"The free throws are just something you practice mentally," Albers said. "It is a pressure situation that is a free shot. For the layup, Cathy just read me and I happened to be there."

Nordmann led the Falcons with game-highs in points (25) and rebounds (9), with Lendvay adding 17 and Scott 13. Koch contributed six assists to the victory.

"I can credit my game to my teammates," Nordmann said. "Kent would double-team Lori (Albers) and she would pass it back to me and I was wide open. For me to miss a wide open shot, it is only my fault."

Kent coach Bob Lindsay felt his team's lack of three-point shooting down the stretch was the determining factor in the contest.

"With Homa hitting the three-pointers in the second half, we got back into the game," he said. "That was part of the reason Lynn and Forbes were not factors down the stretch. Unfortunately, Homa was unable to hit some threes at the end."

Collectively, the Falcons shot 50 percent from the field compared to KSU's 39 percent. BG also outrebounded Kent 53-34 on the evening.

Hockey team stuffed by Redskins

by Russ Eckard
sports writer

Will one Bowling Green hockey team please stand up?

This weekend, the Falcon icers played the role of Jekyll and Hyde as their five-game unbeaten streak was brought to a screeching halt in the form of a home-and-home sweep at the hands of the University of Miami. The Brown and Orange lost a 7-4 decision at home on Friday and were defeated 3-1 the following night in Oxford.

Saturday's game started well enough for Bowling Green as junior center Brett Harkins scored his seventh goal of the year to give the squad a narrow 1-0 lead after the first period.

However, that would be the only offense the Falcons could muster as they threw 15 shots at Miami goaltender Mark Michaud. They also had two goals disallowed.

Midway through the second period, an apparent score from senior defenseman Otis Plageman was waved off as fellow captain, Peter Holmes, was called for being in the crease. And in the third, Bret Harkins tipped in a blast from the point but the referee exclaimed, "Not," because he had knocked it in with a high stick.

Penalties wreaked havoc on the icers for most of the game. They chalked up 11 penalties which led to six Redskin power plays keeping the offense off the ice for a great deal of time.

"The penalties really hurt us," senior left winger Llew Ncwana said. "We want to play five-on-five hockey but for 12 minutes of the second period, we had our special teams on the ice and when we did get chances, we just weren't able to convert." On Friday, the Falcons jumped out early once again as Holmes scored his team-leading 25th goal of the campaign only a buck and change into the contest. The score came during the power play on a rebound from sophomore left winger Jeff Wells' shot that rung off the iron.

From that point, Miami reeled off five unanswered goals over the next two stanzas giving them an insurmountable 5-1 lead. The barrage led coach Jerry York to give the hook to starting backstop, freshman Will Clarke, in favor of junior Angelo Libertucci.

"Checking was our main drawback this weekend," explained Jiranek. "We didn't take the body effectively and we weren't finishing our checks."

"We were outworked, there's no other way to explain it," added Ncwana. "We were outthustled and outmuscled, and that just shouldn't happen to this hockey team."

Boys of summer ready for spring

(AP) — What would spring training be without a few missing players?

Ramon Martinez, embroiled in a contract dispute with the Los Angeles Dodgers, was the only member of the pitchers and catchers not present for the team's first workout Friday.

Martinez held out last season for 11 days. This time, however, he wants it known that he is not holding out from practices at Vero Beach, Fla.

"It has nothing to do with his contract situation," Dodgers general manager Fred Claire said. "I talked to Ramon and he has a few things to attend to. In fact, he wanted to reassure me that he just had some things to do."

Martinez's agent, Jim Bronner, said the 17-game winner was taking care of some personal business. He said Martinez would be in camp next week, whether a settlement on a new contract had been reached or not.

The New York Yankees, meanwhile, are unsure when to expect Pascual Perez in Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Perez has not reported on time in his two previous seasons with the Yankees. He was seven days late in 1990 and 10 days late last year.

His agent, Adam Katz, said Perez's visa from the Dominican Republic was in order, but the pitcher was not present as the Yankees opened camp. But Perez's brother and new teammate, Melido, was there.

"I think he'll be here tomorrow," Melido said. "He told me that he wants to come early this year."

As 15 teams held their first official workouts Monday, other clubs finished up some off-field business.

Muslim-Israeli fighting subsides

by Donna Abu-Nasr
The Associated Press

YATER, Lebanon -- Two days before the opening of the next round of Middle East peace talks, Shiite Muslim guerrillas and Israeli gunners traded rocket and artillery fire Saturday in southern Lebanon.

But in a move that could help defuse a weeklong outburst of violence, the guerrillas agreed Saturday to pull back their forces over the weekend, sources said. Also, U.N. Secretary-General Boutros Boutros-Ghali dispatched his top peacekeeping official, Marrack Goulding, to Lebanon to try to end the fighting.

In another sign of easing tensions, Israel's army chief of staff expressed hopes the confrontation was winding down. But he coupled that with a warning to the guerrillas not to stage any more rocket attacks.

The latest flare-up shattered an overnight lull and frightened thousands of villagers who were planning to return home to Kafra and Yater and other villages just north of Israel's self-styled "security zone" in southern Lebanon.

Security sources in Lebanon said the guerrillas fired mortars and Katyusha rockets. Israeli army and other sources said none of the rockets landed in Israeli territory, but an army official said the attack caused minor damage to an outpost of the Israeli-allied South Lebanon Army on the northern edge of the security zone.

Israeli gunners responded with 155 mm howitzers that targeted villages around the market town of Nabatiyeh, an area where the pro-Iranian Hezbollah militia is known to have bases.

Israel's army chief of staff, Ehud Barak, visited a northern Israeli farm settlement that was hit in a Katyusha strike on Friday, and warned the guerrillas they would "pay a very high price" if attacks continued.

Friday's attack, which killed a 5-year-old girl, came hours after the Israelis withdrew to the security zone after storming two south Lebanon villages in search of Katyusha launchers.

"I hope, although I can't say this for sure, that we are on the downhill side of this wave of Katyushas," Barak said.

The spiritual leader of the Hezbollah, Sheik Mohammed Hussein Fadlallah, urged a halt to Katyusha attacks once the Israelis pulled back to the security zone.

"Now that the enemy was defeated and forced to retreat, there is no need to resume the firing of Katyusha rockets," he said at prayers in Beirut on Friday. Lebanese Prime Minister Omar Karami also said firing Katyushas on Israel could not be classified as an act of resistance

GSS tables grad housing proposal

by Julie Tagliaterra
The BG News

After much discussion, Graduate Student Senate decided Friday to table a proposal urging the city to re-zone the Heinz Plant site into student housing.

The proposal, submitted by GSS Welfare Coordinator Jack Zibluk, calls for GSS to work with attorney and developer Bob Maurer to convince the city to allow for graduate student and greek housing to be built at the site of the former Heinz plant.

"Right now the site is zoned for industrial and commercial use," Zibluk said. "We can't build housing. I think [Maurer's proposal] deserves at least looking into and we should support him on that."

According to Zibluk, Maurer said the projected housing for graduate students would cost $300 or $325 if utilities are included. Maurer's plan would also include a parking lot to separate the graduate student housing from the greek housing.

Several senators opposed the proposal because of the idea of living near the greeks. Others doubted the intentions of Maurer.

The proposal was unanimously tabled so Maurer could talk to the senate about his plan, perhaps at the next meeting.

In other business, the senate voted to sponsor a two-part series featuring guest speakers for and against reproductive rights. The senate voted 32-0-2 to give from $2600 to $5200 for each speaker to come. Because of the cost, the senate decided to seek co-sponsorship for the events.

The first of the two-part series will feature Janet Benshoof, director of the Reproductive Freedom Project of the American Civil Liberties Union which is based in New York. She directs national legislation on such issues as abortion rights, forced sterilization and contraception.

The primary reason for initiating the series, according to Tim Bills, program committee chairman, involves the campus discussion evoked at the University about the condom issue.

He said GSS wants to bring programs that allow students to examine their values.

Increase in room and board fees ascribed to Founders renovation

by Kirk Pavelich
The BG News

University room and board fees for 1992-93 have been increased by almost 8 percent.

This Board of Trustees action brings a raise of almost 1 percent since last year and is in line with similar increases over the past three years.

The 7.97 percent increase brings the annual charges to $2,900 per year, up from the current rate of $2,686. This year's price hike is almost a full percent higher than 1991-92's increase of 6.84 percent, but only slightly higher than 1990-91's 7.25 percent increase.

According to Christopher Dalton, vice president of planning and budgeting, the higher increases can be attributed to the $15 million Founders renovation project, to which all residence and dining halls will be contributing.

"Essentially, as halls are renovated, everybody in the system helps pay for the renovation," he said. "These renovations...are the reasons the increase is somewhat higher than in past years. I would guess that the recommended rate of increase would have been on the border of a percent to a percent-and-a-half lower without the Founders project."

"In a sense, the people who live in the rest of the system will also be helping a little bit to pay for the renovation of Founders -- the same way that the students who've been living in Founders have been helping to pay for renovations of other residence halls in the system," he said.

Vice President for Student Affairs Mary Edmonds also emphasized this point in a report she presented at the Feb. 7 board meeting.

"Founders has been subsidizing the rest of the residence hall system for decades," she said. "Now that we are at the point where a major renovation is necessary for Founders, we believe that is clearly appropriate for the rest of the system to shoulder part of the burden for the Founders renovation."

Dalton said funding is being used only from the residence and dining hall budgets so there will be no effect on state subsidies, tuition fees, instructional fees or general fees.

The Founders renovation project will include construction of suites with private bathrooms, living rooms, single rooms and air-conditioning. Dalton said work will begin on the renovations as soon as students have moved out at the end of the semester.

The Founders reconfiguration is projected to be completed by Aug. 1993.

Order of Omega, greek honor society initiates new members

by Sherry Turco
The BG News

Order of Omega, a greek honor society, initiated 47 members on Feb. 16, along with two honor initiates.

Each chapter is permitted to nominate six members to be reviewed for possible membership. A person can submit an application themselves, but should they be selected, their chapter would not receive any points toward chapter excellence.

Community service, scholarship and chapter, and campus and greek involvement are the standards sought when reviewing applications.

"Candidates for Order of Omega are judged mostly on the leadership and service they offer to the community," said Lynn Rozzo, a new initiate of the honorary. To be nominated or to apply, one must be a rising junior, have at least a 2.5 cumulative grade point average and be in the top 35 percent of his class.

Order of Omega was founded at the University of Miami, Florida, in 1959, but the University chapter, Delta Omicron, was formed in 1983.

Panhellenic Council cabinet cuts jobs, creates new legal hierarchy

by Ashley Matthews
The BG News

The implementation of a liability educator on the Panhellenic Council cabinet signifies a beginning of a new legal hierarchy for the Panhellenic community.

The elimination of the chief justice and program consultant positions created the vacancy which the new liability educator, Marcy Collins, now fills.

Previously, the chief justice and judicial board handled all disciplinary procedures for the sorority system. Under the newly revised Article XVII of the Panhellenic Constitution, the liability educator will act as chief justice.

The judicial board will now consist of the vice president of rush, the junior Panhellenic delegate from each member sorority and the Panhellenic adviser.

Panhellenic President Nicky Pohlmann says the revised judicial board will be beneficial.

"The benefit of it will be that all the chapters will have representation from the junior delegates on the judicial board," she said.

In addition, Collins will serve as the vice president Panhellenic for the newly restructured GAMMA, and represent Panhellenic Council at BACHUS, an organization that plans Alcohol Awareness Week.

Assisting with Alcohol Awareness Week was formerly the primary responsibility of the program consultant.

By combining these responsibilities into one office, the Panhellenic Council cabinet will operate efficiently while saving money and training time, said JoAnn Arnholt, assistant director of Greek Life and Panhellenic adviser.

Arnholt said the council's decision was a wise one.

"It will provide Panhellenic assistance to GAMMA, which provides much needed education for sorority chapters," she said.

Collins says GAMMA will undergo much change and improvement in the next year.

Wood Cable ignores group request for BET

by Genora Rutherford
The BG News

The request for Black Entertainment Television (BET) at the University has been ignored over a two-year span.

From 1990-1992, People for Racial Justice and African-American organizations and leaders, including Vice President of Student Affairs Mary Edmonds and Conrad Pritscher, co-chairpeople for PRJ, have been lobbying for a BET channel at the University.

Chapman Hall Director Rick Nash and Bromfield Hall Director Chris Smitherman recently met with Larry Miller, general manager of Wood Cable TV, to discuss the social responsibility of the company to bring BET to the University.

According to Smitherman, Miller said the cable company made a business decision in deciding not to carry the BET channel. Such decisions are usually made at the annual budget process meetings in April.

◆ Someone reported three women were mooning people from a moving vehicle on Sixth Street Saturday, police said.

◆ A juvenile was cited for underage consumption and disorderly conduct Saturday on the corner of Thurstin Avenue and E. Wooster Street.

◆ Todd Schuesler, 20, 430 Conklin Hall, was cited for underage possession on Saturday, police said. Police were called to the scene on Lehman Avenue in response to a report of disorderly conduct and fighting.

◆ Eric Recker, 21, 656 Frazee Ave. #38, was cited for disorderly conduct Sunday at a loud party at his residence, police said.

◆ A man was assaulted Sunday outside Club S.O.P., 176 E. Wooster St., and suffered a serious head wound as a result of the incident. The victim had become involved in a verbal altercation with another man inside the establishment and both went outside. The complainant went outside later and found the victim lying on the ground bleeding from the head. The man was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital in Toledo where he had a CAT scan that confirmed he suffered internal bleeding on the brain. The other man involved in the fight has not yet been identified, police said.

◆ Eric Vanek, 18, 13299 Defiance Pike, Rudolph, Ohio, was cited for underage consumption on Sunday on Pike Street, police said.

◆ A patron of Taco Bell, 320 E. Wooster St., reported the windshield of her vehicle was smashed while she was inside the restaurant Monday, police said.

◆ A resident of North Enterprise Street reported someone threw a brick through the front living room window of the residence Monday, police said.

◆ A woman who parked her car on High Street Tuesday received damage to her vehicle from a fallen branch from a city-owned tree. The tree limb dented the roof, caused damage to the windshield and knocked the rear view mirror off the windshield. A copy of the report has been sent to the city administration for review, police said.

against occupation.

Word that the guerrillas were preparing to pull back came after a meeting in the port city of Sidon of Lebanese army and militia representatives.

Security sources said Hezbollah and the pro-Syrian secular Amal militia agreed to pull out an estimated 1,000 fighters they had dispatched to the Kafra-Yater battlefield following the Israeli incursion. The sources, who spoke on the condition of anonymity, said the Lebanese army pledged to allow the returnees to pass through its checkpoints unmolested.

yet filled with false images of African Americans, BET is needed," Smitherman said. "[BET] will educate and enrich those students not of color about African Americans and those that represent them in a positive and truthful manner."

One organization that initiated the demand for the BET channel was Phi Beta Sigma fraternity.

The fraternity followed Miller's advice and gathered requests in writing through signed petitions, but found the response was minimal, Nash said.

"The Wood Cable Company is currently representing a homogeneous society, which is not what the University reflects; therefore, [Wood Cable] is continuing to ignore and disrespect the students of this University," Smitherman said.

Wood Cable TV uses only 50 channels of its 62-channel capacity, and of those channels, none reflect Latino or African-American interests, nor do they reflect any other cultures differing from the status quo.

"No decision has been made," Miller said. "I am willing to negotiate with both Chris [Smitherman] and Rick [Nash]; and now I am waiting on feedback from Arletha Harris, a marketing representative, about making cost arrangements and drafting a shorter contract."

On Feb. 5, Nash and Smitherman met with Bowling Green Mayor Wes Hoffman and Municipal Administrator Colleen Smith, and were told Smith would contact them early in the next week to set up an appointment to discuss the dispute.

The following day, Nash and Smitherman met with Miller and Sal LaMarca, regional vice president of Wood Cable TV.

"LaMarca came across very negative and uncooperative," Smitherman said. "Considering we have just met, he had a preconceived notion about me personally, and he said, 'I don't like you,' and refused to make any concrete negotiations, saying, 'I didn't fly in just to meet you, I just fit you in my schedule.'"
