The BG News April 12, 1993

Bowling Green State University

Follow this and additional works at: https://scholarworks.bgsu.edu/bg-news

Recommended Citation
https://scholarworks.bgsu.edu/bg-news/5526

This work is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution-Noncommercial-No Derivative Works 4.0 License. This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the University Publications at ScholarWorks@BGSU. It has been accepted for inclusion in BG News (Student Newspaper) by an authorized administrator of ScholarWorks@BGSU.
Scrubbing a car at the Mid Am Bank parking lot on East Wooton Street Saturday afternoon, Craig Markley volunteers his time to raise money to send his pastor to Europe. Pastor Daryll Phillips from University Christian Church will meet other pastors and pass out Bibles in Europe.

Weekend activities slated for little sibs

by Ginger Phillips general assignment reporter

The pattering of little feet may be heard throughout the campus this weekend, as little sibs swarm to the University for a "colorful" weekend introducing them to college life.

Student Activities and Orientation, along with many other campus groups, has planned the annual Little Sibs Weekend for April 16 to 18, with the theme "BG: A Colorful Place to Be."

Gregory DeCrane, assistant vice president for student activities, said he thinks the weekend is a chance for families to do something different.

"The purpose is to bring siblings of students and kids of students to come and give them an opportunity to see where their brothers or sisters or parents go to show them where they're at all day," DeCrane said.

"The kids get to play grown-up," said Carrie Patrick, who is planning Little Sibs Weekend for her graduate practicum.

Patrick said the weekend is for kids ages 3 to 18, with different activities planned for different ages.

"We focused on all ages and made sure every age isn't bored," she said.

Throughout the weekend students and sibs have the opportunity to use campus facilities. The recreation center will sell tickets for sibs at $4 a day and $6 for the entire weekend.

Also, the Buckeye Room will be open during the weekend for sibs to bowl and play pool and video games. Skating in the Ice Arena will be free to sibs except for skate rental fee. The fee for ages 12 and under is $1.25 and 13 and over $1.75.

Eva Marie Saint Theatre will present "Lend Me A Tenor" at different times during the weekend.

On Friday night the Bowl 'n Greenery will have free karaoke from 9 p.m. to midnight. The UAO movie "Aladdin" will be shown.

Easter celebrated in different ways

by Ginger Phillips general assignment reporter

Ohioans celebrated Easter on Sunday with services in churches, parks, a mausoleum and a zoo, while some relaxed at golf courses, went to egg hunts and volunteered to dish out free meals.

The Greater Cleveland Committee on Hunger sponsored meals at three sites. Dorothy Bender of the St. Augustine Church in Cleveland, said people served about 5,000 meals, while 1,500 were delivered to shut-ins.

The Rev. Floyd Stolzenburg conducted a service from the Greenlawn Cemetery mausoleum in Columbus. Stolzenburg said holding a service in a mausoleum was historically appropriate.

"Where was the first Easter? The early Christians, when they were persecuted, met or worshipped in catacombs, which were a combination of sewers and burial grounds," Stolzenburg said.

Bishop Anthony M. Pilla, the spiritual leader of nearly 900,000 Roman Catholics in eight Northeast Ohio counties, said Easter "tells us that we are called to raise the condition of human life from misery, despair and despondency.

Kaple arrested in Birmingham

The Associated Press

TOLEDO — A man accused of killing his fiance in Georgia then dumping her body in Ohio has been arrested by police in Birmingham, Ala.

Daniel Kaple, 22, was taken into custody shortly after 10 p.m. Friday at his apartment, Birmingham police said. He is being held on a federal fugitive warrant in the Jefferson County, Ala., jail.

Putnam County Sheriff's Deputy Marvin Schievebert said Kaple was identified by a fellow bookstore employee who saw the television show "America's Most Wanted" which discussed the death of Brenda Jo Franks, 23.

Kaple is charged with strangling Franks with a belt late March 21 or early March 22 in the Atlanta suburb where they shared an apartment, then drove to Ohio and dumped her body.

It was found wrapped in a sleeping bag on March 26 in Putnam County, eight miles west of Kaple's childhood home.

Danny Porter, district attorney for Gwinnett County, said Kaple could face the death penalty if convicted on the murder charge, although he had not determined whether he would ask for Kaple's execution.

Franks and Kaple were to have been married next Saturday in Jellico, Tenn., near her grandmother's hometown.

Kaple is charged with strangling Franks with a belt late March 21 or early March 22 in the Atlanta suburb where they shared an apartment, then drove to Ohio and dumped her body.

It was found wrapped in a sleeping bag on March 26 in Putnam County, eight miles west of Kaple's childhood home.

Danny Porter, district attorney for Gwinnett County, said Kaple could face the death penalty if convicted on the murder charge, although he had not determined whether he would ask for Kaple's execution.

Franks and Kaple were to have been married next Saturday in Jellico, Tenn., near her grandmother's hometown.

Kaple is charged with strangling Franks with a belt late March 21 or early March 22 in the Atlanta suburb where they shared an apartment, then drove to Ohio and dumped her body.

It was found wrapped in a sleeping bag on March 26 in Putnam County, eight miles west of Kaple's childhood home.

Danny Porter, district attorney for Gwinnett County, said Kaple could face the death penalty if convicted on the murder charge, although he had not determined whether he would ask for Kaple's execution.

Franks and Kaple were to have been married next Saturday in Jellico, Tenn., near her grandmother's hometown.
Cyclists need caution
Collisions may be avoided if bikers watch road

by Courtney Gangemi
city reporter

As the weather warms and the number of bicyclists increases, so does the potential for accidents and injuries.

But with a few precautions -- and courtesy among pedestrians and motorists -- many collisions can be avoided, bicyclists and an Ohio Department of Transportation official said.

ODOT Administrative Assistant Glenda Johnson said one of the most basic things bicyclists should watch for are things in the road which might damage tires and cause accidents. She said such hazards would include gravel, leaves and sand.

Sometimes the road itself can be a hazard, some bicyclists said. "The sidewalks are uneven and curbs are high, especially in front of the [Business Administration] and the Education buildings," freshman Jennifer Barnes said.

But the elements of the road are not the only hazards of which bicyclists must be aware. Lack of space on sidewalks can often lead to collisions with pedestrians and motorists, bicyclists said.

Scott Thompson, a junior sports management major, said he believes pedestrians are much more courteous than cars. "Pedestrians usually get out of the way," he said. "When you're coming at them they don't know which way to walk, but they try to be courteous.

Barnes said although she did not think all pedestrians are so courteous, she agreed they are more polite than motorists. "People don't move!" she said. "You scare people [on sidewalks] when you come up behind them. But riding on the side of the road, cars come within inches of hitting you and speed up when they go by just to prove a point [of who owns the road]."

Johnson said bicyclists can take precautions when riding in the streets to avoid collisions. "Remember to ride with the traffic, not against it. Bicycles are considered vehicles," she said. "[And] never assume you've been seen by the traffic about you."

She added that bright-colored clothing and reflective tape on bikes and clothing will increase the bicyclist's visibility to others. Johnson said bicyclists should wear helmets, which can be purchased for $18 to $25. She feels the most important aspect to remember when riding is to make sure "the bike is safe mechanically."

Department of Transportation offers bicycle safety pointers
by Courtney Gangemi
city reporter

The Bicycle/Pedestrian Administration of the Ohio Department of Transportation offers the following safety tips and laws to review:

1. Do not ride more than two side-by-side except on paths for the exclusive use of bicyclists.

2. After dark, a white headlight, a red taillight and a red rear reflector are all required.

3. A bell or horn audible at least 100 feet away is necessary. However, sirens and whistles are not permitted.

4. Bicycles must have adequate brakes.

Easter
Continued from page one.

"We are not to ignore the burdens of others' lives," he said. The Rev. Stephen Norden of New Hope Reformed Church held service in the amphitheater at the Columbus Zoo.

"We have had 350 to 400 each year. If it is a nice spring day, it is spectacular," Norden said. "If the animals are out, it is a great setting to celebrate the promise of new life."

Weather conditions were dry and skies were partly sunny early Sunday, with highs ranging from the 50s over northern Ohio to 70 to 75 over the far southern counties.

While some took advantage of the weather for picnics and egg hunts, others went to golf courses -- but not many.

"There's always fewer golfers on Easter and Thanksgiving," said Jim Lemunyon, who works at the pro shop at Apple Valley Golf Course in Howard in central Ohio. Business was down about 90 percent from other Sundays, he said.

Mike Grayem, of the pro shop at Blacklick Woods Metro Golf Courses in Columbus, said only about half the regular golfers were on the courses.

"Easter is not the best day," Grayem said. He also attributed low attendance to winds and the threat of rain, along with the televised Masters tournament.

Fielder's Choice
Sportscards and Comics
188 S. Main

All titles 40% off with our Advanced Order Service
25% off all new titles in stock
NO FRILLS - JUST THE LOWEST POSSIBLE PRICES
353-2556
Service plan draws reaction

by John Williams
College Press Service

Students reacted favorably to President Clinton's call for a national service program to pay college tuition, although some tempered their enthusiasm with concerns about how the plan would be carried out.

Questions also were raised about the low number of students who would be involved the first year and the cost effectiveness of the plan, which will be introduced to Congress this spring.

"We're not saying that the national service program is a bad idea; it's a fine idea. And Clinton's strong emphasis on serving the common good is a welcome change from the dog-eat-dog ethics of the Reagan-Bush era. But national service isn't, and couldn't possibly be, for everybody."

-Ryan Ravinsky, a senior at the University of Florida, in Gainesville, told The Daily Princetonian.

The editorial board at The Daily called for $7.4 billion to finance the national service program to pay college tuition, although some proposals: giving loans to students which would be based on income, the editorial said. "Dukakis proposed that the deductions continue until retirement; Clinton is thinking 25 years. Either way, the plan would do wonders for the millions of students graduating with large loan debts."

"If someone cares enough about their education to apply for financial aid, then I don't then I don't understand why they can't work for it," Ravinsky told the paper.

Another University of Florida student who favors Clinton's plan was Susan Summers, a doctoral candidate in higher education administration. "The debt burden is becoming terrific for higher education," she told the paper. "It's time for relief, and this program bears a lot of thought."

"We're not saying that the national service program is a bad idea; it's a fine idea. And Clinton's strong emphasis on serving the common good is a welcome change from the dog-eat-dog ethics of the Reagan-Bush era. But national service isn't, and couldn't possibly be, for everybody."

-Editorial, The Daily

"There's an awful lot of hand-tooled, custom tailoring that has to go on," Neil L. Rudenstine told the Crimson. "Fortunately, there are quite a few good programs in place already around the country ... and I think if the government chooses to build quite a bit on those and go about it in a way of gradually scaling up ... then it has a good chance of working."

And what of students currently in high school? At least one Cassie Nylen of Ashfield, Mass. went public in a big way when she wrote in Newsweek magazine's "My Turn" column of her endorsement. Nylen is a high school senior and wrote that she will be attending Haverford College, in Haverford, Pa., beginning in the fall.

She said that her father supports Clinton's proposals. "My dad is excited about the prospect of a national service program - maybe a little too excited," she wrote. "The reason he likes the idea [and keeps yammering at me about it] is that he thinks young people will get a chance to gain the kind of understanding of their country and what makes it work that he got during his own military service."

Nylen said that national service will show students a broader scope of national problems.

"There are other reasons to be interested. We face awful societal problems today: crime, urban strife, racial and class conflicts, for instance, not to mention that this is the last season of 'Cheers.'"
Family raises monkey which will aid disabled

The Associated Press

SENECAVILLE, Ohio — Monkeys have always been a favorite attraction at the zoo or circus, but since Stuart arrived, the precocious primate has become the center of attention at the home of Karen and Richard Hossman.

Stuart is a brown-tufted capuchin monkey, one of approximately 175 such animals in Boston Medical University's Helping Hands Simeon Aides for the Disabled program.

The program, started in 1979, enlists people who want to become "foster parents" to a monkey that eventually will be assigned to help a quadriplegic with daily tasks, such as placing a meal in a microwave oven, setting a table or turning a page in a book.

The idea is to have the monkey live with people in a normal home for about four years to get used to living with people. When it becomes domesticated, it can be trained and placed with a quadriplegic.

Living in a rural area and used to being surrounded by animals, Mrs. Hossman was intrigued by a magazine article that explained Mrs. Hossman was intrigued by a magazine article that explained how a monkey could become a full-time "mother" to a quadriplegic.

As part of the process, the Hossmans drove to Cleveland to visit a family that already had one of the monkeys.

Last July, seven months from the time of the Hossmans' application, Stuart arrived at the Columbus airport from a breeding colony at Discovery Island at Disney World in Florida. He was greeted by the Hossman family and well-wishers amid the same fanfare that one would experience in anticipation of a new baby. Stuart was 7 weeks old and weighed 19 ounces.

The entire Hossman family has a role in caring for Stuart. Mrs. Hossman, the primary caregiver, had to quit her job to become a full-time "mother" to Stuart.

"Two weeks after his arrival, he was no longer considered an animal," Mrs. Hossman said.

Stuart requires the same care as a human baby such as changing diapers, making formula, giving him vitamins and arranging household schedules around his needs.

He should be weaned from the baby formula when he is about a year old, when his diet will consist of monkey chow, fruits and vegetables. He does not particularly like bananas, and he peels every piece of fruit given to him, including raisins.

Full-grown, Stuart will weigh between eight and 10 pounds. Intelligent and hyperactive, Stuart is sensitive to sudden movement or sound.

"It's like having a hyperactive 2-year-old, a trait they really never outgrow but subsides when they are about 4 years old, just about the time we will have to give him up," Mrs. Hossman said.

The Hossmans pay for all of Stuart's food and care, including medical bills, unless it is for something unique or requires a specialized service. Mrs. Hossman said it costs about $100 per month for Stuart's care.

Museum getting patriotic spiders

The Associated Press

CLEVELAND — An 86-year-old Tremont woman says she cannot wait to get rid of the dead spiders that helped the Allies win two world wars.

The Smithsonian Institution on Friday asked Ruth Ketteringham for the critters, which provided the microscopically thin cross hairs in the periscopes of submarines for accuracy when firing torpedoes.

Ketteringham said the spiders have been stored in test tubes in the cellar of the house where she has lived for the last 74 years.

The spiders, along with their carefully preserved webs, eggs and cocoons, will be shipped to Washington D.C. to be studied and put on display.

"My father was a very modest, quiet person, and I don't know what he'd think of all this," she said. "But I'm very proud of it because my father had a very good mind."

George H. Ketteringham was instrumental in developing spider silk for periscopes, microscopes, telescopes, surveying instruments and the bomber sights of airplanes.

In those days, scientists could not make metal strands thin enough for accurate cross hairs. Today, cross hairs are made with lasers.

Each September, Ketteringham hunted through his flowers for the large, delicate-looking garden spiders. Years of study had shown him that the black spiders with orange spots produced the fine, strong silk needed to make precise cross hairs.

"My father was a very modest, quiet person, and I don't know what he'd think of all this," she said. "But I'm very proud of it because my father had a very good mind."

George H. Ketteringham was instrumental in developing spider silk for periscopes, microscopes, telescopes, surveying instruments and the bomber sights of airplanes.

In those days, scientists could not make metal strands thin enough for accurate cross hairs. Today, cross hairs are made with lasers.

Each September, Ketteringham hunted through his flowers for the large, delicate-looking garden spiders. Years of study had shown him that the black spiders with orange spots produced the fine, strong silk needed to make precise cross hairs.

"Everywhere we go with Stuart — businesses, schools, churches, a nursing home — everyone has been super. They love it when we bring him around," Mr. Hossman said.

The Hossmans pay for all of Stuart's food and care, including medical bills, unless it is for something unique or requires a specialized service. Mrs. Hossman said it costs about $100 per month for Stuart's care.

The Hossmans' attitude is to have every piece of fruit given to him, including raisins.
Steep price hikes may be repealed by Yeltsin

The Associated Press

MOSCOW - President Boris Yeltsin, saying he is a last line of defense against extremism, is stepping up his campaign for an April 25 vote of confidence.

In a speech Friday to Russian newspaper editors and broadcast executives, Yeltsin said that if he wins and voters also call for new legislative elections, he would consider it a sign that Russia's hard-line legislature had lost its power and that he would assert presidential authority.

A similar statement that he would assume special powers last month led to an impeachment effort by parliament.

Yeltsin said that even if he loses the referendum, he would have to keep the presidency until early elections are held to prevent the country from falling into the hands of hard-liners, the ITAR-Tass news agency said. Yeltsin's term expires in 1996.

"If there is no president, the power will be as-signed to the people to pass judgment on his leadership."

Yeltsin also made a gesture to voters angered by soaring inflation brought by his economic reforms.

He said he would repeal steep price hikes for gasoline and rents for state-owned apartments in the Moscow area. He also said the Moscow officials responsible for raising the price of gasoline and rents for state-owned apartments in the world will shudder," Yeltsin said.

The Associated Press

Indian art students hijack jet, arrested

NEW DELHI, India - Four art students seeking to postpone their final examinations hijacked an Indian Airlines plane Saturday, but were quickly overpowered by passengers after the jetliner landed.

One hijacker was even slapped across the face "as if he were a naughty child," said Tom Segev, an Israeli journalist who was on the flight, the third hijacking this year on the state-owned domestic carrier.

"The whole thing was like a game," he said.

The New Delhi-bound Boeing 737, carrying 52 other passengers and seven crew members, was commandeered shortly after takeoff from Lucknow, 300 miles west of New Delhi, and was forced to return.

The students, from a nearby art college, brandished a bottle they claimed contained an explosive. They later admitted to passengers it was a combustible liquid that could only cause a small fire.

"The amazing thing was the reaction of the passengers. They hardly listened to him. They were reading, sleeping, talking, and when they turned to see what was happening, the hijackers told them the plane would be blown up unless they could meet the government of Uttar Pradesh state (where Lucknow is the capital)," Segev said.

Food for Thought

* What is white chocolate?
* Do Aphrodisiac foods work?
* When was the Pillsbury Doughboy born?
* Where can one find delicious food in BG?

find out these answers and more Monday, April 12 in Miscellany magazine

CHECK OUT UNION DISPLAY APRIL 11-17

Available near The BG News

PARIS -- After cutting prices and bridging culture gaps, Euro Disneyland finally has the locals wearing Goofy hats as they munch their fast food. But the thrill of profitability has yet to arrive in the Magic Kingdom.

The theme park marks its first anniversary Monday and business is booming - thanks to mild weather plus winter discounts. First-year admissions surpassed 10 million and the 11 million mark could be passed within weeks.

"Europeans didn't understand why we didn't have seasonal prices. We decided we should, to adapt to the environment," said Steve Burke, executive vice president for theme parks.

Now 40 to 45 percent of visitors are French, after the company decided to offer major discounts for January to March for Parisians.

The French press - which once dubbed the park a "cultural Chernobyl" - has calmed down, as have rights with labor unions over dress codes that prohibit jewelry and facial hair for employees.

But Euro Disney SCA, the park's operator, lost $36 million in its first fiscal year ending Sept. 30, and further development is on hold. Analysts predict a loss of up to $185 million this fiscal year.

The theme park marks its first anniversary Monday and business is booming - thanks to mild weather plus winter discounts. First-year admissions surpassed 10 million and the 11 million mark could be passed within weeks.

"Europeans didn't understand why we didn't have seasonal prices. We decided we should, to adapt to the environment," said Steve Burke, executive vice president for theme parks.

Now 40 to 45 percent of visitors are French, after the company decided to offer major discounts for January to March for Parisians.

The French press - which once dubbed the park a "cultural Chernobyl" - has calmed down, as have rights with labor unions over dress codes that prohibit jewelry and facial hair for employees.

But Euro Disney SCA, the park's operator, lost $36 million in its first fiscal year ending Sept. 30, and further development is on hold. Analysts predict a loss of up to $185 million this fiscal year.
SENECAVILLE, Ohio – Monkeys have always been a favorite attraction at the zoo or circus, but since Stuart arrived, the precocious primate has become the center of attention at the home of Karen and Richard Hosman.

Stuart is a brown-tailed capuchin monkey, one of approximately 175 such animals in Boston Medical University's Helping Hands Simeon Aides for the Disabled program.

The program, started in 1979, enlists people who want to become "foster parents" to a monkey that eventually will be assigned to help a quadriplegic with daily tasks, such as placing a meal in a microwave oven, setting a table or turning a page in a book.

The idea is to have the monkey live with a person in a normal home for about four years to get used to living with people. When it becomes domesticated, it can be trained and placed with a quadriplegic.

Living in a rural area and used to being surrounded by animals, Mrs. Hosman was intrigued by the idea; the health of the family; if they had access to a veterinarian; and the type of heating in their home.

As part of the process, the Hosmans drove to Cleveland to visit a family that already had one of the monkeys.

Last July, seven months from the time of the Hosmans' application, Stuart arrived at the Columbus airport from a breeding colony at Discovery Island at Disney World in Florida. He was greeted by the Hosman family and well-wishers amid the same fanfare that one would experience in anticipation of a new baby. Stuart was 7 weeks old and weighed 19 ounces.

The entire Hosman family has a role in caring for Stuart. Mrs. Hosman, the primary caregiver, had to quit her job to become a full-time "mother" to Stuart.

"Two weeks after his arrival, he was no longer considered an animal," Mrs. Hosman said.

Stuart requires the same care as a human baby such as changing diapers, making formula, giving him vitamins and arranging household schedules around his needs.

He should be weaned from the baby formula when he is about a year old, when his diet will consist of monkey chow, fruits and vegetables. He does not particularly like bananas, and he peels every piece of fruit given to him, including raisins.

Full-grown, Stuart will weigh between eight and 10 pounds.

Intelligent and hyperactive, Stuart is sensitive to sudden movement or sound.

"It's like having a hyperactive 2-year-old, a trait they really never outgrow but subsides when they are about 4 years old, just about the time we will have to give him up," Mrs. Hosman said.

She said Stuart will then go back to the university for his final training and will be matched with a quadriplegic.

The Hosmans are not required to teach him any tricks or perform tasks.

Even though Stuart is classified as an exotic animal, he is accorded the same status (in most places) as a guide dog for the blind because he is considered a medical aide, not a pet.

"Everywhere we go with Stuart, businesses, schools, churches, a nursing home — everyone has been super. They love it when we bring him around," Mr. Hosman said.

The Hosmans pay for all of Stuart's food and care, including medical bills, unless it is for something unique or requires a specialized service. Mrs. Hosman said it costs about $100 per month for Stuart's care.
Falcon Softball

Falcons lose two of three games Saturday
BG softball loses series 2-1

by Mike Kazlmore
sports writer

On Saturday, with Easter just around the corner, the Central Michigan pitchers played the role of the Easter Bunny as they greeted the Falcons with the traditional gift of Easter eggs.

Unfortunately for Bowling Green, they were all goose eggs and they would fill up the Falcon's scoring column for most of the day. In fact, in losing two out of three games to Central on Saturday, a tripleheader was played to make up for Friday's rainouts, the Falcon's offense was only able to squeak out one run, which fortunately was enough to pull out the victory in game three.

Bowling Green now stands at 9-7 overall and 5-2 in the MAC, while Central improved their record to 11-12 and 4-1 in league play.

In the first game of Saturday's tripleheader the Falcons looked very tight and nervous in facing perennial MAC power Central Michigan, Bowling Green head coach Jacquie Joseph's alma mater. This nervousness came back to hurt the Falcons as it paved the way for the Chippewas three-run third inning.

Central's Carrie Ruff led off the inning with a hard line-drive single to left field off of pitcher Lisa Mountjoy. Gina Gabrielle followed with a slap bunt single which found its way through the Falcons infield which was looking for the sacrifice bunt. Jill LeBourdais came to the plate next and, as expected, laid down a sacrifice bunt to the first base side of the mound. Falcon first baseman Julie Hudson fielded the ball, but threw wildly to second baseman Rachelle Highfill who was covering first on the play. The wild throw allowed Ruff to score all the way from second, but more importantly it put runners on first and third with nobody out.

Once again the Falcons brought in the corners looking for the bunt. However, Central crossed them up when Julayne Carrier was given the hit sign. Carrier hit a routine groundball to second which Highfill handled cleanly, but when she went to make a throw she couldn't find anyone covering a base and was forced to hold onto the ball which loaded up the bases. Carrie Henry followed with a run-scoring single to left. Mountjoy, seemingly becoming more and more frustrated on the mound proceeded to walk the next Chippewa batter which forced in the third run of the inning. After a Joseph visit to the mound Mountjoy was able to regroup and get out of the inning without anymore damage occurring.

Meanwhile, the Falcon hitters were struggling to create any kind of offense against junior pitcher Beth Osterland.

In the top of the fifth inning the Falcons suffered another defensive letdown as Central was able to take advantage of another BG error and score two more runs which for all intents put the game out of reach for the Falcons.

For the game the Falcons were only able to muster up four hits, all of them singles. Two of the

See Softball, page four.

Check out BUFF Apartments
We've Changed!

- All new kitchens
- All new carpet throughout the apartment
- Air Conditioning

1470 and 1490 Clough

*We have a limited number of new Columbia Court apartments available

Greenbriar Inc.
224 W. Wooster
352-0717

Is Your Fly Velcroed?
Loss to Toledo leaves men's tennis winless

by Scott Rowe
sports writer

The Falcons men's tennis team's losing streak remains intact after Friday's match against rival Toledo. The match was moved indoors to Findlay Racquet Club due to the wet conditions.

The 5-2 loss was a prime example of the matches the team has been losing all season dropping them to 0-10 overall and 0-3 in the MAC. The Falcons have been losing the doubles point, then play well but drop closely contested singles matches and come out with the loss.

Coach Dave Morin said, "I still thought we played pretty well but again we came out on the short end of the stick."

The doubles teams showed improved play but seemed to drop the crucial points.

At first doubles Jeff Westmeyer and Tracey Dwire lost 8-4, and the third doubles team of Tim George and Jeff Huffman were beaten 8-5.

The second doubles team of Andrew Bonser and Bob Zuphr made a comeback from down 5-2 in the tie-breaker to win 9-8 (8-6). Morin said, "I thought we were just a little flat in the doubles."

So once again, the team found themselves needing to win four of the six singles matches to come up with a victory.

Morin said singles is definitely the strong suit of the team. But it wasn't in the cards as the Rockets swept through the middle of BG's lineup taking second through fifth doubles. "A couple of matches I counted on us winning didn't turn out that way," he said.

At first singles Zuphr found himself battling a sophomore baseliner who gave him a run but eventually tired out for a 6-3, 1-6, 6-2 BG win.

Westmeyer dropped the second singles flight in an emotional 6-4, 6-4 loss. Westmeyer's play continues to be streaky, but the Toledo native always seems to come on strong towards the end of the season.

George dropped the third singles flight by a score of 7-5, 6-4.

See Tennis, page four.
Track results please coaches

by Andy Dugan

Sports Writer

The men's and women's track teams competed against some high caliber teams this weekend in two separate meets. The men, as well as Cheri Triner and Ruth Ristvey, traveled to Knoxville, Tenn., for the Dogwood Relays, while the rest of the women ran at the Miami Invitational in Oxford, Ohio.

The Dogwood Relays, a meet which lasted from Thursday through Saturday and hosted over 200 teams including all the big schools of the east and south, offered the Falcons some of the finest competition available at the college level.

Coach Sid Sink was pleased with the overall performance of his runners.

"We had some slower performances, but there were a few good ones, too," Sink said. "The highlight of the meet for us was the return of Todd Black. He had a great race in the 800 and I think it got him going again."

Black placed third in the 800 meter run with a time of 1:48.26. He performed this feat with an NCAA provisional qualifying time of 1:47.82, according to Sink. "This is an exceptional performance."

"Tim ran a season best in the 800 with a 1:54.40," Sink said. "He's ready to run faster."

Other great runs were by Dave Carlson, who was injured at last week's Toledo meet, in the 400 meter hurdles with a time of 53.75 seconds and the 1600 relay of Paul Seeley, Black, Carlson and Kevin Scott with a season best time of 3:19.42.

The two women who represented BG at the meet, Cheri Triner and Ruth Ristvey, finished fourth in the invitational 5000 meter run with a lifetime best time of 17:03.66, over 20 seconds faster than her previous best. Ristvey also won the invitational javelin with a throw of 158-3.

Other placers for the Falcons were:

Tom Hall, first in the open high jump with 6-9 3/4; Paul Seeley, fourth in the pole vault with 15-11 1/4; Reed Parks, fifth in the invitational hammer throw with 194-5; Eric Goody, seventh in the open hammer throw with 169-4; Eddie Nicholson, eighth in the open 5000 with a time of 15:01.65; and the 3300 relay of Arndt, Brad Schaefer, Glen Labbert, and Black took fourth with 3:37.82.

On Saturday, the women competed in the Miami Invitational, a non-scoring meet hosted by Miami University in Oxford, Ohio. The meet consisted of Central Michigan, Michigan, Ohio State, Purdue, Southern Illinois, Western Michigan, Xavier and the Redskins.

Since the meet was non-scoring, women's coach Steve Price had the Falcons run events they usually don't run, in order to have an idea of how good they are in these events. Price was pleased with the results.

"There were quite a few personal and season bests at this meet, as well as some great racing," Price said.

Price also noted that the absence of top athletes Benita Thomas and Nikki Lessig resulted in slower relay times and lower individual performances: Thomas could not attend due to a severe illness of a family member and Lessig could not attend because of the death of her mother Thursday.

Softball

Continued from page two.

Four hits, all of them singles.

Two of the four hits came in the first inning when BG, for the first time, was able to advance a runner past second base.

Lisa Mountjoy took the loss to even her record out to 3-3.

"We really need to communicate with each other better and play like a winning team should," said Mountjoy. "I have to go out there and take control."

The second game held more of the same for the Falcons as shaky defense and no offensive support led to another Falcons loss.

In the third inning Central pitching Jeff LeBourdais, trying to help her own cause, singled to center off of Jennifer Wolf. Carrier followed with a ground ball back to the mound which Wolf was unable to handle for an error.

One out later Central's Pam Meyer, a local product of Bowling Green, singled to right field. BG's Karen Brown charged the ball anticipating a play at the plate. Unfortunately for BG this never occurred as Brown was unable to field the ball cleanly, allowing Carrier to easily score from second.

That lone run was all that Central's LeBourdais needed as she shut out the Falcons on four hits.

The Falcons, however, were not without scoring opportunities. In the second inning the Falcons had a runner on third with only one out but LeBourdais was able to settle herself down and strike out the next two batters.

Then again in the sixth inning the Falcons were able to move a baserunner to third with only one out after Highfill led off the inning with a double to straight-away center field. However, some good strategy on the part of Central's head coach Margo Junkeer in walking hot hitter Dani Romastad, and some good clutch pitching by LeBourdais was able to thwart this threat and preserve the Chippewas victory.

Jennifer Wolf, after pitching a superb game for BG, undeservedly took the loss in the bottom of the third game of the tri-match. We just have to focus on competitive match. We just have to focus on competitive match. We just have to focus on competitive match.

Sixth singles player Andrew Bonser turned the tables after dropping the first set. He won the next two sets easily going on to a 3-6, 6-2, 6-0 victory.

"I knew the match was going to be a competitive match. We just have to focus on the next match as there's nothing we can do about the past." Dave Morin, men's tennis coach price noted the following as having exceptional performances:

Kristin Gaddis, eighth in the 5000 meter run with a personal record time of 18:04.92; Andrea Lytle's third place long jump with 17-9; Melinda LaRouche's 20th place finish with a personal record of 5:03.36; and Leslie Moorman, first in the 400 meter run with 58.19. Brooke Shelley was eighth in the 100 meter dash with a season best 13.11; while Jill Strawser ran to her personal best in the 3000 with a 12th place finish and a time of 19:13.9. In the javelin, Vicki Czekaj threw 101-10 for a 10th place finish, Price was pleased.

"I knew the last match was going to be a competitive match. We just have to focus on the next match as there's nothing we can do about the past." Dave Morin, men's tennis coach

"I knew the match was going to be a competitive match. We just have to focus on the next match as there's nothing we can do about the past." Dave Morin, men's tennis coach

"I knew the match was going to be a competitive match. We just have to focus on the next match as there's nothing we can do about the past." Dave Morin, men's tennis coach

"I knew the match was going to be a competitive match. We just have to focus on the next match as there's nothing we can do about the past." Dave Morin, men's tennis coach
Cardinals slide by Cincinnati

The Associated Press

ST. LOUIS -- Lee Smith blew a chance to set a major league record for career saves, breaking the record held by Jeff Reardon, who is now with the Reds.

But Smith gave up a run on a walk, two singles and a sacrifice fly by Gary Varsho.

The Cardinals won the game in the 10th on a single by Ozzie Smith, but Lee Smith didn’t figure in the decision. Mike Perez, (1-0) who pitched a scoreless 10th, got the victory.

"He cares more about blowing a victory for Magrane than he does the save record," Torre said.

Magrane pitched innings, allowing eight hits, striking out two and walking one.

Cincinnati starter Jose Rijo went 7 1-3 innings, giving up five hits, striking out nine and walking two.

"He had us spellbound for seven innings. It’s commendable that we were able to outlast him," Magrane said.

St. Louis pitchers have allowed only seven earned runs in five games. The Cardinals have won four in a row since losing their season opener.

The Reds have lost four straight.

"I don’t think I can throw any better than I did tonight," Rijo said. "Everything was working, but we didn’t get any breaks. They all went the Cardinals’ way."

Tom Pagnozzi, hitless in his first 10-at-bats this season, led off the St. Louis 10th with a single against Steve Foster (0-1).

Rod Brewer bunted into a forceout at second, but Geronimo Beras walked and Smith hit the game-winning single with one out.

Carter homer crushes Cleveland in the eighth

The Associated Press

TORONTO -- Joe Carter made sure his first home run of the year made a difference.

Carter, who did not connect even once in spring training, hit a three-run homer in the eighth inning. The Blue Jays past the Cleveland Indians 5-4 Saturday.

"I didn’t want to waste any," Carter said.

"Once the season starts you have different conditions," he said. "You’re relaxed and ready to go. That’s the way I’ve always been."

Carter hit 34 home runs last season. He was quick to give credit to his teammates for setting up his first home runs in 1993.

"The key was getting Devo on and Mollie working Nagy for a walk. Then I visualized myself hitting a homer and that’s what happened," he said.

Devon White led off the eighth with a single off Charles Nagy (0-2) and Paul Molitor drew a one-out walk. Carter sent a 1-1 pitch into the second deck in left field.

Todd Stottlemyre (1-1) was the winner, giving up four runs on nine hits in eight innings. He struck out five and walked one.

Duane Ward pitched the ninth for his third save. He threw 10 pitches, all strikes.

"They’re a great offensive ballclub and I’ve always had trouble against them," Stottlemyre said. "Last year, the only game I won against them we won 13-8. I feel fortunate to be standing here with a win today."

Nagy, who said he wasn’t bothered by a case of shingles, went out seven and walked two.

"It was a fastball inside and Joe just turned on it," Nagy said. "Other than that, I pitched pretty well. But that’s not a fun way to lose a game."

Paul Sorrento hit his second two-run homer in two days during Cleveland’s three-run fourth inning. Albert Belle and Carlos Baerga had consecutive doubles before Sorrento homered on the next pitch for a 3-1 lead.

The Indians made it 4-2 in the fifth when Kenny Lofton singled, stole second and scored on Felix Fermin’s single.

Ed Sprague drove in both runs for Toronto with a double and a groundout. He has seven RBIs this season, six in the last two games.
Female goalie flops first game start

The Associated Press

ATLANTA -- Manon Rheaume, pro hockey's only female goaltender, allowed six goals Saturday night in her first start for the Atlanta Knights.

Rheaume made 25 saves, but knocked a shot into her own goal in the third period to give Cincinnati a 6-5 lead. After she was pulled for an extra skater midway through the period, Cincinnati scored two empty-net goals to beat the Knights 8-6.

"I tried my best but I made a few too many mistakes," Rheaume said. "I'm a little disappointed. I really wanted to win for the guys more than myself.

Rheaume, 21, tried not to think about making history.

"On the ice I do not feel like a woman. I'm a hockey player," she said. "I don't think of myself as the first woman hockey player."

Despite the loss, Atlanta coach Gene Ubriacho was happy with Rheaume's performance.

"She was the victim of a couple of fluky goals," Ubriacho said. "Manon has waited a long time for this. She was one happy camper on the ice. I'm thrilled at the job she did."

Rheaume appeared to win respect from the sellout crowd of 15,179.

"My hat's off to her," said Clint Stallings of Fayetteville. "She's a pioneer. She's gone where no woman has."

Janet Robinson of Knoxville, Tenn., was in town to attend an Atlanta Braves baseball game, but gave up her ticket when she saw Rheaume was starting.

"It has to be rough on her playing in front of 15,000 people, but she seemed very composed and showed a lot of poise," Robinson said.

However, some fans said Rheaume needs to improve before getting another start for Atlanta. The Knights play in the International Hockey League, the top minor league in the sport.

"Manon certainly added spice to what would have been a pretty meaningless late-season tune-up for the playoffs," said Jud Cathey of Conyers. "She has some talent but in the long run she needs to start out on the lowest pro level, not the highest minor league level."

Rheaume stopped 11 of 12 shots in the first period, but allowed four goals on seven shots in the second period.

Sports Briefs

The Associated Press

TORONTO -- Among the many outstanding feats performed by Dave Winfield was the record he posted in 1992. At the age of 40, Winfield was 41 on Oct. 3, 1992 he became the first player reaching 40 who drove in 100 runs or more. Dave had a total of 108 for Toronto.

Five men were credited with 100 or more at 38. Ernie Banks of the Cubs had 106 in 1959. Tony Perez of the Red Sox had 105 in 1980. Babe Ruth of the Yankees had 103 in 1933. And Ty Cobb of Detroit and Hosun Wagner of Pittsburgh each had 102, Wagner in 1912 and Cobb in 1925.

NEW YORK -- Actor Robert DeNiro likes a touch of realism in his movies. He got it for his movie, "A Bronx Tale."

The script called for a race-track scene. It was shot at Aqueduct on an off-day but with real thoroughbreds and jockeys.

Three simulated races with six-horse fields were held. The horses were real thoroughbreds and saddles were off. The men were performers at Aqueduct.

"Manon has waited a long time for this," said Clint Stallings of Fayetteville. "She has where no woman has."

"My hat's off to her," said Clint Stallings of Fayetteville. "She's a pioneer. She's gone where no woman has."

"I wish we were playing in the old days," Steve said. "I wish we were playing in the old days," Steve said. "With no face masks and leather helmets."

"I don't have a preference for any position."
WANTED

1 subleaser for house on Gypsy Lane. $137,500+ util. Own room. Available immediately until and of Aug. Call (814) 656-3647.

2 sub-summer sub-leasers needed.

For fun, $150 + utilities.

Call 354-0166.

2 rooms available, in house. Close to campus. $505/month. Tues and day thru. Available 6/1.

Call 355-4503, ask for
Margaret or Natalie.

Female sub-leaser Summer. Great house with Margaret or Natalie. $666-3647.

Apply NOW/III

Apply at Student Employment
Office located at 316 E Merry #3

2 bdrm house AvC. 1 car garage Avail 7-1 1

days $440. Reasonable Summer rates avail.
also. 715 Second 3 bdrm. Iimn3 people

219E Evers-1 bdrm.limit2people

701 Fifth-4 bdrm. limn 4 people

140 1/2 Manville-2 bdrm. limit 3.

1979BLACK CJ 5 JEEP

1967 Toyota MR2

35345922.

Please call 354-4801 for more info

R.E. Management

"Quality Off-Campus Housing"

113 Rainford St.

(next to Kinkos)

353-2042

Stop in for a complete

Summer & Fall Housing List

Special Spring Rates

Spring semester leases.

2 blocks away, close clubhouse.

Village Green Apartments

354-3563

Sublease 1 bedroom apartment. Available now. Negotiable rent. Great for couples. Pare allowed. 353-3141.

Summer Storage Units Available

Steve in many sizes. Why haul it home? Call 353-1520 - Buckeye Self Storage

Summer Sublease needed. Rent negotiable. Own room. 1 block from campus. 352-8238.

Ask for Farley

THE HIGHLANDS

JAY-MAR APARTMENTS

Now leasing 2 bedroom units ($1,410, $1,620) quiet, spacious, comfortable w/ caring management, A/C & on site maintenance. dribbles or upper students. Contact Mike at 354-6036, 11-4pm.

CINEMARK THEATRES

1234 N. Main St. 354-059

All Shows start 6:00 p.m. with Student ID

Monday thru Friday: shows start 4:30, 7:30, 10:30

Saturday & Sunday: Full Schedule

Late Shows Fri & Sat. ONLY

CINEMA

100, 105, 110, 115, 119, 139 &

SANDLOT - G

105, 106, 107, 115, 129 &

INDIRECT PROPOSALS

Robert Redford, Damo Cine, Woody Harrelson

105, 104, 705, 900 A

ADVENTURES OF HUCK FINN - G

119, 165, 166, 925 &

TEENAGE MUTANT NINJA TURTLES III - PG

116, 118, 119, 925 &

-Shown's changes Friday 1/5, 9:30 & 11:15 A

Support Group. If you've released your baby for adoption, or are considering doing so and need some support, join us Wed. nights at 7 p.m. Call 354-4873 for location.

The Lesbian and Gay Information Line is now open 7-10 p.m., Mon., Wed., and Fri. Operators can help with referrals to Lesbian and Gay services as well as give information about the Lesbian and Gay community. Information concerning the Lesbian and Gay community and Gay information line may also be obtained 353-5242 (LAGA)

292 Rock Solid WFLA

Channel 14

Work & Play In The Nation's Capital
Earn College Credit!

Professional Experience

THE WASHINGTON CENTER INTERNSHIP Information Session:

Friday, April 16th, 1:30 p.m.

Room 106, 8A Building

Call Sue Young at 372-2451 for more info

THE BG NEWS

April 12, 1993

Business & Communications Majors: Summer

Business Majors: Summer, earn 3 hrs, credit, gain career training

Campus Staff Needed

Counselors, WFS, lifeguards, cooks, small craft directors, arts & crafts directors, trip outfitter, business manager & waterfront director for 2 also.

Large 1 bdrm. apt. Close to downtown. $325 includes utilities. 353-2623. Available in May.

Large 2 bedroom duplex. 2nd flr. 2 bdrms. 2 baths. Call 353-3625. Available June 1.

Looking for summer sub-leasers to lease 3 brdm. house. Call Amy & Andrea 353-0124.

Looking for and a P/A? This may be to come to campus, good price, Air-con...call 353-2225 for more info.

Need at least 1 male sub to sub for 2 bdrms. $200, available at $185/mo. Call 353-9577.

One female roommate for Fait 93/Spnng needed.

Female sub-leaser Summer. Great house with Margaret or Natalie. $666-3647.

Apply NOW/III

Apply at Student Employment Office located at 316 E Merry #3

219E Evers-1 bdrm.limit2people

701 Fifth-4 bdrm. limn 4 people

140 1/2 Manville-2 bdrm. limit 3.

1979BLACK CJ 5 JEEP

1967 Toyota MR2

35345922.

Please call 354-4801 for more info

R.E. Management

"Quality Off-Campus Housing"

113 Rainford St. (next to Kinkos)

353-2042

Stop in for a complete

Summer & Fall Housing List

Special Spring Rates

Spring semester leases.

2 blocks away, close clubhouse.

Village Green Apartments

354-3563

Summer Storage Units Available

Steve in many sizes. Why haul it home? Call 353-1520 - Buckeye Self Storage

Summer Sublease needed. Rent negotiable. Own room. 1 block from campus. 352-8238. Ask for Farley.

THE HIGHLANDS

JAY-MAR APARTMENTS

Now leasing 2 bedroom units ($1,410, $1,620) quiet, spacious, comfortable w/ caring management, A/C & on site maintenance. dribbles or upper students. Contact Mike at 354-6036, 11-4pm.