

3-15-1996

The BG News March 15, 1996

Bowling Green State University

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarworks.bgsu.edu/bg-news>

---

Recommended Citation

Bowling Green State University, "The BG News March 15, 1996" (1996). BG News (Student Newspaper). 5988.

<https://scholarworks.bgsu.edu/bg-news/5988>

This work is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-No Derivative Works 4.0 International License.

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the University Publications at ScholarWorks@BGSU. It has been accepted for inclusion in BG News (Student Newspaper) by an authorized administrator of ScholarWorks@BGSU.

Inside the News

City • Police oppose concealment law	3
State • Common law meets with resentment	4
Sports • Falcon hockey plays at the Joe	11

Opinion

Peiffer the psychic says no job in sight.

Page 2

The News' Briefs

NHL Scores

NBA Scores

Washington	100
New Jersey	92
Cleveland	98
Boston	73
Houston	114
Atlanta	106
San Antonio	120
Miami	100
Boston	4
Pittsburgh	2
Chicago	5
Vancouver	1

Students will have chance to experience Paris

University students will have a chance to spend an evening in Paris this evening at the French House. Jen Meeker, sophomore communication disorders major, said the French House will be decorated tonight to resemble a Parisian cafe. She said the fundraiser will feature French music and will start at 7 and last until 10 p.m. The event is open to the public, but reservations are required. To make a reservation call the French House, 372-2671.

Two jurors dismissed in Menendez trial

LOS ANGELES -- The forewoman and another juror in the retrial of Erik and Lyle Menendez were dismissed Thursday for medical reasons, forcing deliberations to begin from scratch in the murder trial. Two of four alternate jurors joined the jury and the panel was told to select a new foreperson and start deliberations again. Superior Court Judge Stanley Weisberg told jurors that they must "set aside and disregard all past deliberations and begin deliberating anew." The original panel had deliberated seven days. The jurors' medical problems weren't disclosed, although one was pregnant. They were ordered not to discuss the trial or deliberations. The brothers confessed to killing their parents, Jose and Kitty Menendez, on Aug. 20, 1989.

Quote of the day

"Fairness isn't something that is totally objective."

—Ann Marie Ryan, director of Institute for Psychological Research of Application, about testing

Teacher: testing abilities can vary

Daria Wamock
The BG News

Testing the knowledge attained by students can vary according to methods used to gauge it, according to a few University educators.

Ann Marie Ryan, the director of Institute for Psychological Research and Application, said the strength in testing methods relies on the individual and what is being tested.

"In terms of better, it depends on how you define better," Ryan said. "As far as learning and retaining it requires a different type of learning."

Ryan conducted an experiment noting the perceptions of fairness and how it is related reliable results. She found objectivity is not always free of error, and that some methods of testing can be more realistic than others.

"Fairness isn't something that is totally objective," Ryan said. "You need to make sure everybody is treated the same way."

Ryan said she believes the best testing method is the one in which will help predict what the test taker will find outside of school.

"What's best is what you will be doing in the real world," Ryan said. "You should do the same on the test."

Leigh Chiarelott, professor and chairman for Education Curriculum and Instruction, said much of the success in testing methods comes from what is being measured through the test.

"A lot depends on the objective being measured," Chiarelott said. "Some tests are good for some things, some are not."

He said there is some sort of bias in any test given to students, whether it be standardized tests or essay.

"There is an inherent test bias in any kind of test," Chiarelott said. "What we're moving to now is authentic assessment."

Authentic assessment, according to Chiarelott, is the immediate assessment of knowledge, rather than gathering all information into one delayed exam. He explained this type of assessment is not as contrived as many are because it allows students to implement learning rather than just memorization.

Chiarelott explained that different types of tests should be used for learning. He said lower level tests are those that require the rote memorization of material. For higher level tests, he said, essays are more effective because it depends upon the performance of the student.

"There are some people who are test-wise," Chiarelott said. "Instead, they should perform while learning."

Ryan said she agrees some methods are more reliable than others and said those methods should be offered to the students, so they can have time to adequately prepare for the test.

"You want a method that is reliable and free from error," Ryan said. "They can be more realistic, which is a good way to assess ability."

Chiarelott said teachers should prepare students for the specific test they will be taking because students can learn more from different study methods.

"My perception is that students shouldn't be surprised," Chiarelott said. "They should have the opportunity to review in an efficient way what they need to review."

Game of plate

Jay Young/The BG News

Crystal Alexander, sophomore special education major, attempts to catch a plate thrown by a friend outside of Moseley Hall Wednesday afternoon. The group was taking advantage of temperatures that reached into the 60s.

Dance Marathon promotes positive change

Genell Pavelich
The BG News

The BGSU Children's Miracle Network Dance Marathon is taking place this weekend in the Student Recreation Center from 10 a.m. Saturday to 6 p.m. Sunday.

Allyson Harris, director of Dance Marathon, said the event will be a way to get the campus and community involved in a great cause.

"Students need to understand that they are part of a larger community and the community understands the need to support people affecting positive change," she said.

Charlotte Wade, Dance Marathon Public Relations chairwoman, said the event is a way to give back to the community.

"This is a concrete example of what President Ribeau has been talking about with building community," she said. "Students are taking responsibility for their community and getting out there to do something that benefits everyone."

The money raised from the event will benefit terminally ill children at the Medical College of Ohio Hospital. All of the funds raised will stay in Northwest Ohio and will be used for research, treatment and education at Children's Services at MCO.

Harris said they would like to raise about $30,000, which is the

See DANCE, page three.

Missing Muppets returned

The Associated Press

WEIMAR, Germany -- Ernie and Bert, the purloined puppets, have returned safe and sound to their fellow Muppets six weeks after they were snatched from an exhibit in eastern Germany.

Police in Weimar returned the pair Thursday to the agency that organized the German tour of 36 original Muppet puppets. Jana Blaschke of the Nordstar agency in Rostock said their authenticity has been confirmed and neither was damaged.

Thieves knocked through a wall and stole the duo from an exhibit Jan. 29 at the Erfurt Garden Show. They also smashed a glass case, trying unsuccessfully to rip Miss Piggy from her display.

The actor who dubs Ernie's German voice, Gerd Duwner, made a radio appeal a day after the theft for the puppets' safe return.

The private radio station Antenna Thueringen said it

The Associated Press

Bert and Ernie have been safely returned to the Nordstar agency in Germany after being missing for six weeks.

received an anonymous telephone offer Tuesday to return the puppets. A middleman brought them to the station Wednesday, the station said.

The Ernie and Bert puppets, handmade by the Muppets' late creator Jim Henson, were valued at about $125,000. They will rejoin the other Muppets in Bremen, where the exhibit is now on display, said Blaschke.

The identity and motive of the thief or thieves remain unknown, she said.

Clark announces new College dean

Jay Young
The BG News

James Sullivan is the new University's College of Business Administration dean, the vice president for Academic Affairs announced this week.

Vice President Eloise Clark complimented Sullivan's leadership skills in a statement released after the decision.

"Jim Sullivan is one of our most highly-respected campus leaders," Clark said. "He comes to his new responsibility with a record of success in all prior experiences. His integrity, depth of knowledge, thoughtful approach and concern for students, staff and faculty will serve the college well as it strives for excellence in the years ahead."

Sullivan, who had been serving as interim dean, said he was very pleased with being selected.

"I felt very honored to be selected," Sullivan said. "I look at it as a privilege to work with a lot of outstanding people to make the college of Business Administration even better."

Sullivan joined the University in 1971. He earned his doctorate in statistics and master's degree in mathematics, both from Ohio State University. He graduated cum laude with a bachelor's degree in mathematics from Miami University.

Sullivan said he will work on setting goals for the college in his new position.

"I think the thing we have to realize is that there are a lot of

See DEAN, page three.

E.A.R. to the Psychic says no job in sight

This appears to be the year of political insurgents challenging the status quo. In the presidential election Pat Buchanan challenged the heart and soul of the Republican party. Although he will almost certainly not get the nomination it can be assumed that his candidacy will have long term repercussions on both the Republican party and the nation.

***
You may have noticed that the Muppets have returned to prime time television. We at E.A.R. want you all to know that it's ok to watch the Muppets. Sure they're puppets, but they're cool puppets.
And really, when you watch it you realize that the show is much more intelligent than most shows on the air right now. So don't be embarrassed about watching the Muppets.

***
Keep saying this to yourself "It's only spring training, it's only spring training."
Ok, the Indians have not exactly set the world on fire so far this spring training. But don't worry that much about it. Spring training is the time when you work the kinks out of your game and get ready for the regular season. Maybe Julio Franco has more errors than hits, maybe Manny Ramirez came to camp looking like Fat Albert and maybe Albert Belle's contract situation has everyone terrified. But it will be alright by April. Trust us.

***
The hockey team will play Lake Superior in the CCHA semi-final this weekend. E.A.R. Central would like to see the Falcons rip the Lakers to shreds at The Joe in Detroit.
Good luck!

***
Green eggs and ham in the morning, green beer at night can only mean one thing. It's St. Patrick's Day. Hopefully, it won't lead to green vomit on the carpet.

Editors Note: Joe Peiffer is currently in the process of looking for a real job. After he received his rejection letter from The Lucky Times and Cherri Magazine he decided to relive his glory days of job hunting - at The Psychic Hotline

"Give me some hot numbers, I need some hot numbers."
"Am I ever going to get married?"
"Hello, yes, um, can I talk to Dionne?"

It was the summer of my discontent. Having been released from Olentangy High, I now looked forward to another summer of slingin' chicken at Buffalo Wings and Rings, living at home, and reruns of America's Funniest Home Videos (That Bob Saget, he gets me everytime.)

My future was so bright I had to wear ... bifocals.
Until it happened. I was scanning the classifieds trying to figure a way out of the wingery when I saw The Job.

There, under the loose classification of "Metaphysics" I found the occupation that changed my life - Telephone Psychic Counselor. "If you have the gift, and a strong will to help others - we're now hiring for the position of psychic counselor. Starting rate $6.50 an hour. Call for an interview," the ad read.

"Hey, one out of two ain't so bad," I thought, figuring I could probably lend a hand to all sorts of folks with an extra $1.50 an hour this summer.

So I dialed up the number.
"You'll come into the office, fill out an application and then you'll be interviewed by one of our in-house psychics," the psychic secretary said. "Fantastic," I replied, wondering what interviewing for a psychic job might possibly entail.

"Hi, my name's Joe Pei." I'd start. "Fur," the psychic would answer. "Your favorite beetle is Ringo. Favorite drink is gin. And the last time you went a full week without, um, self gratification was sometime in late '86."

"Um, yeah, right after 'Family Ties' went on the air ... Mmmm, mmmm Mallory," I'd reply.

"Out, infidel," the psychic would mentally hollar. Anyway, I set up the appointment for a Thursday afternoon and headed down toward a fairly shady area of Columbus for the interview. At first, everything appeared fairly normal. The secretary was professionally dressed, the application was standard and my psychic interviewer looked a little something like somebody's sweet aunt.

She asked about my past employment, my references and regular interview stuff.

Never once did she bring up Mallory Keaton.

I thought everything was going pretty well until she sprung it on me.

"So what do you feel your gift is ... psychically?"

"Well," I replied. "A lot of times I can see things before they happen."

Good start, I told myself.

"Like the other day, I was at school, and I was walking up the stairs," I continued. "Inside my head, I just sensed all this chaos and mayhem."

"Really?"

"Both chaos and mayhem, ma'am," I said, growing more confident. "Anyway, then it just hit me, I could feel that this kid's foot was going to miss the stair."

"Then right as he fell," I finished with a flair. "I caught him."

"Wow, that is a gift," she said, obviously not reading my mind.

"I like to think so."

I was getting cocky.

"When did you first realize you had this gift?" she asked.

"When I was in 7th grade, I had a paper route. I was pedaling around on my Schwinn one morning when I just froze up - I couldn't go anywhere. And a chill passed through my body," I replied lowering my voice for effect. "When I returned home, I learned that my grandfather had died."

"That's terrible," she said, grasping my hand across the table. "You know he was just saying goodbye, don't you?"

"Yes, I know," I said.

"Good. Do you have any sort of a tool you use to get in touch with the psychic world?" She continued.

I was prepared to tell the origins of my talent. I was ready with a story about my grandparents, who, at the time of the interview were both living comfortably in Toledo. I was even prepared for Mallory. This tool question completely blindsided me.

Frantically, I searched my body for a tool. In desperation, I reached for my leather, alternative-kid necklace.

"Well, I do have this black onyx," I tried. "It helps to calm me down and get me in touch with the spiritual world."

"Yes, the onyx is a very powerful stone," she said, getting excited. "It helps to balance the spirits in the room."

Her psychic G-spot was stroked. "I am aware of the powers of the onyx."

"Great," she said. "Joe, I just have one question left for you: Do you feel you're psychically ready to work on the phones?"

"Yes."
"Great, so do I," she said. "So do I."

Joe Peiffer is the Friday columnist for The BG News. If nothing better turns up, you can catch him on The Psychic Friends Network this summer, just ask for Joseppi the Magnificent. He can be reached at jpeiffer@bgnnet.bgsu.edu.

PHILADELPHIA DAILY NEWS
Philadelphia
USA

DRUG-FREE AMERICA

AGE 0-4 AMOXICILIN
4-12 RITALIN
12-18 APPETITE SUPPRESSANTS
18-24 NO-DOZ
24-38 PROZAC
38-65 ZANIAC
65- EVERYTHING ELSE

The BG News

"A Commitment to Excellence"

Editors

- |                                     |                                  |
|-------------------------------------|----------------------------------|
| Dawn KellerManaging editor      | Jay YoungNews editor         |
| Jim BarkerAssociate editor      | Amy JohnsonCity editor       |
| Joe PeifferOpinion editor       | Scott BrownSports editor     |
| Joe BoyleWeekend Reality editor | Stephani MiskawiPhoto editor |
| Rochelle SlosserGraphics editor | Tiffany WendelnCopy chief    |
| Caroline ShafferCopy chief      | Anna WahrmanCopy editor      |
| Penny BrownCopy editor          | Stefoni BavinCopy editor     |
| Juli PalmerCopy editor          | Olivia InkrottCopy editor    |
| Tania RunyanCopy editor         | Amy BlackCopy editor         |
| Darren LiderbachCopy editor     | Penny BrownEditorial writer  |

Production Staff

- |                |                  |
|----------------|------------------|
| Leah Barnum    | Michelle Bracken |
| Colleen Casey  | Alianna Dias     |
| Ed Dowling     | Brian Gallatin   |
| Chad Gamby     | Matt Gannon      |
| Teresa Krieg   | Cathy Raidl      |
| Kevin Rathge   | Ed Reed          |
| Jessica Wherry | Carla Zvosec     |

Copyright © 1996 by The BG News. Reprinting of any material in this publication without the permission of The BG News is strictly prohibited.

The BG News is an independent student newspaper founded in 1920 and is published daily during the academic year and Wednesday's in the summer.

Opinions expressed herein are not necessarily those of the student body, faculty or University administration. Opinions expressed in columns, cartoons and letters are not necessarily those of The BG News.

Letters intended for publication must be 200-300 words long, typed and include the writer's name, phone number and University affiliation, if any. The BG News reserves the right to edit any and all letters.

The BG News encourages its readers to notify the paper of any errors in stories or photograph descriptions.

210 West Hall
Bowling Green State University
Bowling Green, OH 43403-0726
bgnews@bgnnet.bgsu.edu

TV violence issue not over

Two recent developments make it seem as if the television-violence issue is over. First, new telecommunications legislation calls for most new televisions to come equipped with a "V-Chip" - an electronic device that viewers can use in conjunction with a yet-to-be defined rating system to block out unwanted programs. Second, after a high-profile White House meeting, broadcast executives have announced plans for an industry-wide ratings system similar to the one used by the Motion Picture Association of America.

But the real controversy over TV violence may only just be starting. That's because even though the watchdogs claim they merely want to provide parents with more information about TV shows and the ability to block inappropriate ones from children, they really want to purge the tube of anything they consider too violent or explicit.

Consider the way that President Clinton, a longtime advocate of the V-Chip, discussed the issue in an interview with the Los Angeles Times. "We don't want the politicians basically saying what should and shouldn't be on television, what should and shouldn't be in the movies. But the people who were elected to represent all the people, I think, can properly say when things are out of balance and they ought to be put back in balance."

Letters to the Editor

Even as the President exhorts free speech - he doesn't want "politicians" saying what "should and shouldn't" be on TV and in movies - he asserts that, in fact, politicians have the mandate to limit certain types of shows and films. And while the President lauded the "voluntary" ratings system, there's nothing voluntary about it. It's part of V-Chip legislation.

Such confusing rhetoric is typical of V-Chip supporters and it is hard to avoid the conclusion that the V-Chip legislation represents the thin edge of a wedge designed to substantially alter what gets broadcast. It is not enough to empower viewers to make their own choices - the choices themselves must be different.

Indeed, the man who coined the term "V-Chip" and the original sponsor of the legislation, Rep. Edward Markey (D-Mass.) has been quite clear on the topic. While arguing that "voluntary" ratings and V-Chips do not constitute censorship, he told the press, "You know what ... this does have the potential to change the economics of producing programming." Markey believes that shows receiving violent ratings will be pressured by both the viewing public and advertisers to change. (Apparently, Markey believes that viewers cannot recognize violent shows in the absence of "official" ratings.)

Other ratings proponents have been even more blunt as to their agenda. In 1993, Attorney General Janet Reno told a Senate panel that if the entertainment industry didn't voluntarily reduce the amount of violence on TV, "government action will be imperative."

And Sen. Paul Simon (D-Ill.), a longtime champion of regulating television content, has said: "The V-Chip can help, when parents are able or willing to use it. But labeling violence is no substitute for reducing the amount of violent programs on television."

Such sentiments make it clear that, far from simply giving parents and other viewers more information about TV fare, legislators are much more interested in dictating the range of shows broadcast in the first place; in effect, they want to decide what we can or cannot watch.

There is a long history of government oversight of programming and TV is a highly centralized (and hence, easily controlled) medium. "Voluntary" ratings, with or without accompanying V-Chips, seem likely to turn the trick of limiting consumer choice through a chilling effect.

Perhaps because they rarely announce themselves as such, we seem baffled when we encounter censors in our midst. But that hardly makes them less censorious - or dangerous.

Nick Gillespie

Working it out

Tom Uhlman/The Associated Press

United Auto Workers local 696 President Joe Hasenjager talks with striking workers outside the General Motors Corp., plant in Dayton, as he enters the building to talk to negotiators.

POLICE BLOTTER

■A tan and orange pickup truck was seen leaving the area after a West Gypsy Lane dryer had been unlawfully entered. Missing are a Harley Davidson T-shirt and a white turtleneck.

■Two youngsters started a vehicle in a supermarket parking lot using a screwdriver. The subjects exited the lot and were unable to be located by police.

■A juvenile was apprehended at a local store for shoplifting. The items lifted were as follows: pencils, erasers, a greeting card and a folder.

■A local hotel received a call concerning "intoxicated females locked in bathroom threatening a guest." The complainant stated that "the females are freaking out and have threatened to 'cut off his balls.'"

■Officers were dispatched to the mall cinemas Saturday evening in reference to subjects fighting. The juveniles involved in a "mutually combative altercation." Subjects were advised not to return for the rest of the weekend.

DANCE

Continued from page one.

most any first-year Dance Marathon has ever raised at other schools. Leading up to the event this weekend, participants have also been raising money for the event through canning on the weekends.

Harris said they have had a "phenomenal" response to the event with more than 400 committee members. She said the Dance Marathon is an entirely student-run event with students serving on various committees dealing with the different aspects of the event including publicity and finance.

During the event, miracle families and children will also be present to share their stories and motivate the dancers. There are about 100 dancers who will be dancing or active during the entire event.

"The dancers will be up and moving for the entire 32 hours," Harris said.

Different bands will also be performing during the event including Blitzzen, State of Green, Xing, The One Eyed Show, Axiom and Elysian Field.

Wade said they hope the Dance Marathon is successful and they will have it annually in the future.

"We want the Dance Marathon to be a tradition here at the University," she said. "We have seen the impact it can have at other Universities and would like to do that here."

Harris also said the Dance Marathons at other schools are very successful, including the annual one at Penn State that raised more than a million dollars last year.

"I have no doubt that the Bowling Green Dance Marathon can get that big in the future," Harris said.

The Dance Marathon is open to anyone interested, and the public is encouraged to attend, especially during the final hours.

Police oppose weapon concealment

Natalie Miller
The BGNews

Ohio's proposed concealed weapon law is opposed by area police officers because it endangers the lives of citizens and increases danger for the police.

Although it has become a debate about the Fifth Amendment, the major issue is concealment, according to local police officials.

"The officer could be dead before he or she knows whether a motorist is good or bad," Police Chief Galen Ash said.

"The possibility of anyone carrying a weapon will be on a policeman's mind a lot more," University patrolman Tim James said.

Injuries and fatalities may increase because of the opportunity and availability of a gun in a heated situation. A man was recently killed in Texas after an argument over a traffic accident, where a concealed gun was used. Arming citizens may make them more careless in their homes. Being able to conceal their weapon will increase the probability of accidents, according to Lieutenant Bill Fox.

Even a proposed training course requirement may not be effective enough. According to an article by Colonel Warren H.

Davies of the Ohio State Highway patrol, the amount of training necessary to properly prepare citizens to carry weapons would have to be consistent and intensive.

Police officers object to this bill because of threats to their own safety and that of the public.

"I don't think anyone needs to carry a firearm except police officers," James said.

DEAN

Continued from page one.

changes being faced by higher education in general," Sullivan said. "I think we need to discuss those changes and decide what is better for us."

Sullivan said he did not teach while serving as interim dean, but he would like to at some point in the future.

"That is one thing that I miss," Sullivan said. "There are a lot of things competing for time, but it is something that I really miss and would enjoy doing."

BOWL~N~GREENERY

FRIDAY SPECIAL
$5.95 SEAFOOD SPLASH!

A variety of seafood and our "own" clam chowder. Incl: clams, scallops, shrimp, and Pollock. Also complete salad bar and baked potato.

Open 11:30-1:30
Best Values On Campus

BARNEYS CONVENIENCE MART

Greenwood Centre 1602 E. Wooster St. 352-3443
North 1091 N. Main St. 352-2430
South 996 S. Main St. 352-0534

BEER & WINE AT STATE MINIMUM!

OPEN 24 HOURS	Marlboro	Winston	Subway	Mistic	OHIO LOTTERY	OPEN 24 HOURS
	NOW	Camel	inside	GPC
	$1.30	$1.26	North	Montclair
			location & Greenwood Centre	$$$	NOW 4 MILL.

CHARGE IT! All Purchases Including Gas All Locations! VISA

Celebrate St. Patricks Day
Monday
March 18, 1996

at Founders, Harshman, Commons, & McDonald Dining Centers

St. Patricks Day Potato Bar 23¢/ounce
Sweet Potatoes, Whipped Potatoes, Fries & Baked Potatoes. Create your own Mexican, Italian, or Chili Cheese Potato or Fries.

Lunch:
Rueben Grill, Irish Beef Stew, Fish & Chips

Dinner:
KilKenny Corned Beef, Country Spinach Pie, Shannons Chicken Filet, The Gallaway Bay Special

Have a Great Spring Break!!!

the shed

oh, by the way... we have swimsuits too.

Common law meets resentment

Ohio legislator discusses changes necessary for movement

Paul Souhara
The Associated Press

COLUMBUS — State law should prohibit bogus liens and other tactics the common law movement uses against elected officials, a legislator said Thursday.

Followers of the movement use the means to strike back at what they see as an unconstitutional judicial system.

"Dissent is a time-honored part of our political system," Rep. Bill Schuck, R-Columbus, said at a news conference.

"No one, however, has a right to ignore duly enacted laws or to use fake legal claims to intimidate and harass others — especially when the victim is an elected official doing his or her public duty. To allow such conduct is a recipe for anarchy and injustice," he said.

Schuck's bill would extend Ohio's law against intimidation of public officials to include those who file bogus liens or other documents with county recorders if it is done in bad faith or in a reckless manner.

The crime is a third-degree felony punishable by up to five years in prison and a $5,000 fine.

The bill also would grant immunity to recorders who refuse to take the documents and permit public officials to file a lawsuit against anyone guilty of intimidation.

Schuck was joined at the news conference by Chief Justice Thomas Moyer, who said common law courts have spread to 60 of the state's 88 counties.

Moyer said none of the bogus liens have made it past a county recorder in Ohio as they have in some of the other 36 states where common law courts are active.

If they did, they could cloud a person's credit record or hold up real estate transactions, he said.

"What we cannot do is to stand by and allow this, or any other organization or group of people, to attempt to chip away at our system of justice through threats and intimidation," Moyer added.

But what Moyer describes as threats and intimidation, common law activist Bill Ellwood defends as legitimate remedies.

"How do you get remedy against a judge who breaks a law?" asked Ellwood.

Campuses struggle with law

College Press Services

For $7, roughly the price of a movie ticket, the University of Virginia plans to preserve student's First Amendment rights.

Recently the university's Board of Visitors voted to allow students who disagree with the views of campus political or religious organizations to request a refund for a portion of their student activities fees.

While the money may not add up to a lot of cash for students, the university hopes it will offset its decision in August to end its ban on funding of religious activities. That decision was based upon a June ruling by the U.S. Supreme Court that threw out the university's policy of denying student-activity fees for religious publications.

This ruling shocked many campus officials nationwide, since most policies excluding religious groups were based upon the First Amendment's "establishment clause" regarding the separation of church and state. State university officials had long believed that using student activity fees for such groups would essentially be giving state monies to support religious causes. It also ignited a debate on college campuses about how students' First Amendment rights are best served and raised new questions about how mandatory student fees should be allotted.

Supporters of the ruling say in an environment where student fees fund clubs that support everything from animal rights to gay and lesbian causes, it is unfair to deny money to a group solely because they are a religious organization. But others argue that it is wrong to use student activity fees to support religious or other ideological activities, especially if a student is compelled to support a group with which they disagree.

And clearly, even for the justices, the matter is a tough call. In the Rosenberger v. U.Va. case, the ruling carried with a narrow 5-4 margin. The Supreme Court ruled in favor of Rosenberger, former editor of the Christian student publication, "Wide Awake." They found the university violated the First Amendment right to freedom of speech when it excluded the publication based solely on its religious affiliation.

Pucker up

Steve Rosenberg/The Associated Press
Paul Parker, 22, puckers up for a kiss from his girlfriend Melissa Komlof, 18, while spending the afternoon in the park.

AXQ AXQ AXQ AXQ AXQ AXQ AXQ AXQ AXQ AXQ AXQ AXQ

We Wish Our Dancers the Best of Luck...

Laura Bezdek	Heather Federle
Nicole Gutowski	Tracy Guldig
Amy Kletecka	Kate Tlojnski

Keep On Dancin' for Harry!

Thanks to our DGR Mandy Plehl: you did a great job!

AXQ AXQ AXQ AXQ AXQ AXQ AXQ AXQ AXQ AXQ AXQ AXQ

Howard's club H
Mon-Sat 12-2:30 am
Sun 5-9:30 pm 352-9951

Band Starts At 10

Friday Saturday

Red Out

• Pool • Video Games • Electronic Darts • Pinball

AXQ AXQ AXQ AXQ AXQ AXQ AXQ AXQ AXQ AXQ AXQ AXQ

Congratulations & Good Luck Allyson Harris

We are so proud of your hard work, dedication, and commitment to making the 1st annual Dance Marathon a huge success!

We Love You!

AXQ AXQ AXQ AXQ AXQ AXQ AXQ AXQ AXQ AXQ AXQ AXQ

C.C.H.A. Semi - Finals!!!

Falcon Hockey vs. Lake Superior

Friday 5:00 pm Pre-game @ 4:30 pm

MELLOW MIX 96.7 WBVI-FM

This St. Patrick's Day

BE GREEN.

Be GREEN? What does it mean?

Green- 1. ill or extremely drunk (how? Go to the bars and...oops nevermind.)

Green- 2. environmentally friendly (how? REDUCE, REUSE, RECYCLE)

Tip O' the day: Keep the lid on the pot when you are boiling water in that little hot pot of yours. (Look for it in that pile of clothes over there)

KEEP THE GREEN IN Bowling Green!

Need more info? Call BGSU Recycling 372-8909

SIBS & KIDS WEEKEND
APRIL 12-14, 1996

Falcon Frenzy!

BOWLING GREEN STATE UNIVERSITY

Sibs and Kids t-shirts order forms will be available March 20, 21 and April 1st in the Union foyer from 9 - 4.

T-shirts are $8 cash/bursarable pick-up

4/12, 4/13

LIVE ON PAY PER VIEW

BRUNO vs. TYSON

WBC HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPIONSHIP

SATURDAY, MARCH 16

TUNE TO SNEAK PREVUE FOR ORDERING INFORMATION

PRICE $39.95

TIME 9 p.m. CABLECOMM 352-8424

Card Subject To Change Without Notice. Presented by Don King Productions, Inc. in association with the WBC World, Las Vegas. Pay per view distributed by SET Pay Per View. ©1996. All rights reserved.

Commission suggests spending $34.5 million for passenger trains

Johan Chalfant
The Associated Press

COLUMBUS - The Ohio Rail Development Commission said Thursday the state should spend $34.5 million for passenger trains on two cross-state lines and a commuter route from Cuyahoga Falls to Cleveland.

Commissioners said the proposal to fund three routes did not contradict a resolution they previously approved to make an expanded version of the commuter project the state's priority.

The commuter route had been advanced over the cross-state proposals after Paul Mifsud, Gov. George Voinovich's chief of staff, voiced administration support for it.

Commissioners on Thursday unanimously agreed to ask Voinovich to include in his upcoming state construction budget:

- $14.2 million for a scaled-down version of the Canton-Akron-Cleveland commuter route that would cover a demonstration project from Cuyahoga Falls to Cleveland. The money would pay for track improvement, safety equipment and maintenance. Capital costs of the full CAC route had been estimated at $61 million.

- $4.4 million for capital improvements needed to extend Amtrak's Pennsylvania train along a corridor from Pittsburgh to Youngstown, Cleveland and Toledo.

- $15.8 million for track and crossing improvements on a line from Cleveland to Columbus and Cincinnati. That line and the Pennsylvanian would restore passenger service to about 80 percent of Ohioans.

■ $3 million to help preserve a 75-mile freight line from Lima to Springfield.

In each case, the money represented only part of total project costs, and did not include any government subsidies necessary for operation.

Commissioner Timothy Davis, an advocate of the northeast commuter project, said there was no contradiction in the budget request.

"It still lists the CAC as the top passenger priority, and it lists the other two passenger lines that we all believe are necessary for the state, and it had a freight priority," Davis said.

"Politics is always the art of the possible. It may be possible to get something going. What is going to come out of this I don't know," he said.

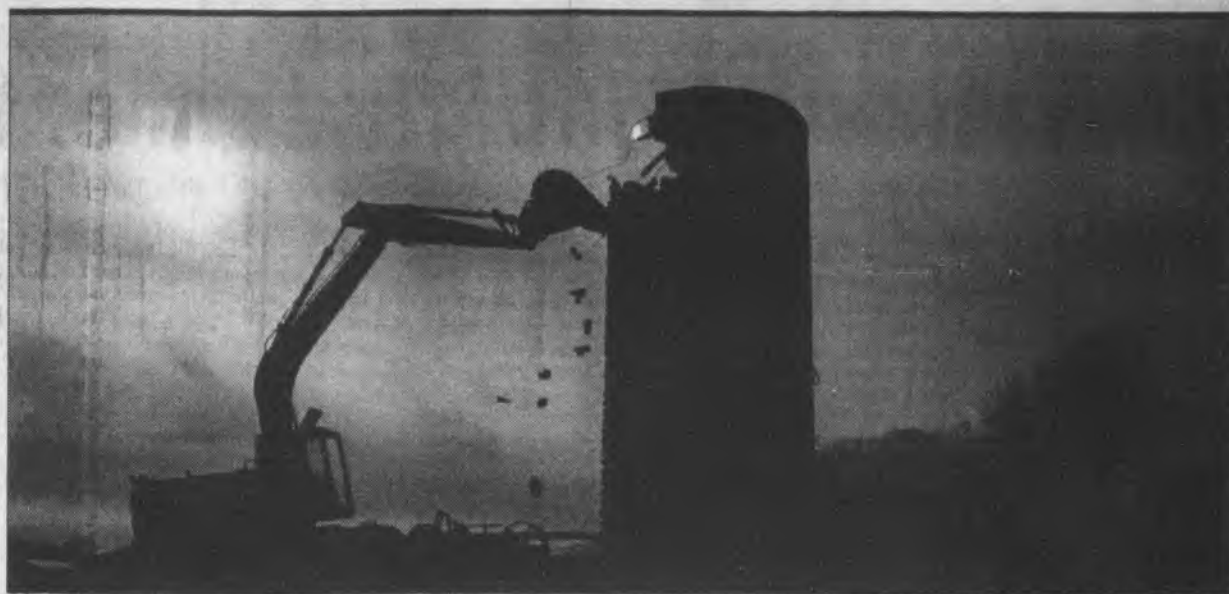

The Cuyahoga Falls to Cleveland project would require $4.3 million from a federal grant mainly to cover a two-year lease of engines and cars.

"Although this level of funding would be sufficient to begin a commuter demonstration project, certain cost elements, especially those relating to using the line between Hudson and Cleveland, must be determined through negotiations with Con-

Toledo.

See RAILROAD, page six.

Fixing it up

Dave Kline/The Associated Press

A silo behind the Lancaster Farm Store in Lancaster, Ohio is taken down at night. The cleanups expected to take several days at the site where three buildings were destroyed by fire.

Escapee search extends into cyberspace

The Associated Press

ATHENS, Ohio - The search for an escapee from a mental hospital has stretched into cyberspace.

The State Highway Patrol has posted a picture and information about the fugitive, Donald Castle, 46, on its Interstate web site.

Meanwhile, Castle, who fled from the Southeast Ohio Psychiatric Hospital last weekend, reportedly was sighted Wednesday in Ashland, Ky., across the Ohio River from Ironton, but eluded police.

The patrol said Ashland police had staked out a motel where Castle was registered and were waiting for a warrant from a local judge when the fugitive slipped away.

Castle has relatives and friends in nearby South Point, Ohio, the patrol said.

The patrol said Castle has a history of violent crimes and is considered dangerous and may be armed.

"We believe he is dangerous to himself and to others," patrol spokesman, Sgt. John Born, said.

Castle is described as 5-foot-8, weighing 300 pounds, with gray hair and a trimmed beard.

Patrol Superintendent Warren H. Davies on Wednesday approved putting Castle's photo and information about the escape on the patrol's Internet web site, which is 6 months old.

"It is the first time that we have used our Internet site as a law enforcement tool," he said.

"We made the decision when the investigator asked for 150 copies of a photo (of Castle). We realized we could have an unlimited number by scanning it onto the Internet."

Born said the patrol is one of only a handful of highway patrols nationally to have a web site.

The patrol may be the only Ohio law enforcement agency and one of a few nationally to be using the Internet to search for fugitives, he said.

Castle was recommitted to the Athens hospital last month after a court hearing in Ross County.

Relatives file civil suit against hospital

The Associated Press

DAYTON -- Relatives of patients who died at Community Hospital in Springfield have filed a $200 million civil lawsuit against the hospital, two television stations reported Thursday.

WDTN-TV and WHIO-TV said the lawsuit alleges that the hospital was negligent in the safekeeping of a certain drug.

Attempts to reach attorney James Swaim, who filed the lawsuit, were unsuccessful. A woman answering the phone at Swaim's office said Swaim was gone for the day and not available to comment. There was no home listing for Swaim.

Hospital spokeswoman Kim Parks declined to comment, saying the hospital had not been served with the lawsuit.

Local and state investigators have been trying to determine whether someone caused the deaths of patients at the private 300-bed hospital in the mid-1980s.

A former anesthesiologist at the hospital said he suspected that someone had given patients Pavulon, a muscle relaxant that can be fatal if improperly administered.

"What is the Meaning of Life?"

The Westminster Shorter catechism says in answer to question 1, "The chief end of man is to glorify God and enjoy him forever."

Come join us as we explore what this means from God's World!

Heartland Associate Reformed Presbyterian Church, meeting in Prout Chapel, BGSU

Sunday Worship 9:30 AM
Sabbath School 10:45 AM
Wednesday Prayer Meeting 7:30 PM
Bible Fellowship Every 1st and 3rd Sunday Evening at 7 PM

For more information contact Pastor Ben Willford at 623-3527.

The Other Presbyterians!

CHINA BUFFET Chinese Restaurant

All-You-Can-Eat

B • U • F • F • E • T

Eat-in or Carry-out & Health Food for Everyday

Lunch • $4.99 Includes Drink
Children Under 12 - $2.99 / Includes Drink

Dinner • $6.99 Includes Drink
Seafood salad at dinner time
Children Under 12 - $3.99 / Includes Drink

OPEN 7 DAYS A WEEK
Mon. - Sat.: 11:00 a.m. - 10:30 p.m.
Sunday: 12:00 noon - 10:00 p.m.

N. Main Street
China Buffet	*

354-2269
354-0929
1060 North Main St.
Bowling Green, OH 43402

CHURCH DIRECTORY

St. Aloysius Catholic Church

corner of Summit & Clough St.

MASS SCHEDULE:

SATURDAY - 5:30 PM
SUNDAY - 8:00 AM • 10:00 AM • 12:00 NOON

HOLY DAYS:

DAY BEFORE - 7:00 PM VIGIL MASS
HOLY DAY - 9:15 AM & 5:30 PM.

Dayspring Assembly of God

17360 N. Dixie B.G.
Just North of Woodland Mall
352-0672

Sunday: WORSHIP AT 10:00 AM & 6:00 PM
SCHOOL OF THE BIBLE - 9:00 AM POWER ZONE

CHI ALPHA - Thursday Nights AT 8:00 PM in Prout Chapel
"Jesus is Alive" - Easter Drama March 31 10AM & 7PM
and April 5,6,7 7PM

First Presbyterian Church Bowling Green

126 S. Church St. 352-5176

*Lent services each Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.
Sunday morning service 10 a.m.

St. John the Baptist Episcopal Church

1505 E. Wooster St., B.G.
Phone: 353-0881

6 pm Sundays: Lent Supper and Service of "Jesus of Nazareth".

Thursdays: 8:00 a.m. Holy Eucharist
Sunday: Eucharist at 8:00 a.m. and 10:00 a.m.

AT THE HEART OF BOWLING GREEN
TRINITY CHURCH
UNITED METHODIST

Sunday worship 10:30 Phone 353-9031 church school 9:15
*Remember Maundy / Thursday Services*

Come Join Us!

Sunday Mornings at 10:00 A.M.
• COME AS YOU ARE • CONTEMPORARY WORSHIP
• RELEVANT TEACHING
• COLLEGE OUTREACH

Bowling Green
Covenant Church
1165 Haskins Rd. • 352-8483

Active Christians Today

Join Us For:

Fellowship
Tuesday evenings at 7pm in the Alumni Room at the University Union

Bible Study
Monday evenings at 9pm or Wednesday at 7pm at the Campus House, 612
E. Wooster

*For more information call: 352: 6486

COMMUNITY of CHRIST
LUTHERAN CHURCH & STUDENT CENTER

1124 E. Wooster St. • Bowling Green, OH 43402
352-5101

Sunday Worship 10:30
"Join us for friendship & fellowship"
March 17 for a special celebration Sunday

Lottery winner indicted on conspiracy charges

Jon Marcus
The Associated Press

BOSTON - Phillip W. Cappella won a $2.7 million lottery jackpot. Apparently it wasn't enough.

How to get more? Cappella allegedly "rented" 200,000 losing lottery tickets from a man who collects them as a hobby, and then claimed a phony $65,000 in gambling losses to reduce the tax bite on the jackpot.

Now he's one of the richest men awaiting trial in New England.

"The one consistent theme in virtually all white-collar criminal cases is greed, and it's my view that this case is well within that theme," said Mark Pearlstein, chief of the U.S. Attorney's Office Economic Crimes Unit.

Cappella, 34, a house painter from Pelham, N.H., and his tax preparer, 47-year-old Henry Daneault, a former IRS employee from Lowell, were indicted Wednesday on conspiracy charges.

Cappella won $2.7 million in 1985, receiving $135,000 annually before taxes. In 1989, Cappella reported $135,716 in gambling winnings and claimed a $65,000 deduction for gambling losses, saving himself about $20,150 in federal taxes, Pearlstein said.

Taxpayers can claim gambling losses up to the amount of their winnings. If audited, however, they must document the losses with gambling logs, casino receipts or other evidence.

When Cappella was audited, he produced 200,000 losing scratch-off tickets. That means he bought and scratched off about 550 tickets a day.

Prosecutors say Cappella actually got them all at once, for $500 and a promise to return them in a month, from William Jenner, a retiree who collected them from many sources, including the trash.

According to court records, Daneault wrote Jenner: "We understand that we are borrowing these tickets and we will return them in the same condition as which we received them."

Cappella's lawyer, Matt Donahue, blames Daneault.

"Mr. Cappella is a victim of his accountant's schemes," Donahue said. "He did not initiate or participate in any rental of any lottery tickets, nor does he have any knowledge as to who Mr. Jenner is."

Daneault's attorney, Jim Krasnow, had no comment.

Daneault could get up to eight years in prison and a fine of $500,000. Cappella faces up to five years and a $250,000 fine.

Jay Labelle, a regular lottery player, said: "More power to him. Do you know what the government does? You win $2.7 million, but you don't win $2.7 million. The feds take a good chunk of that, the state takes a good chunk of that and then every moron who comes along wants to get the rest."

"I only blame him for being stupid," Labelle said.

RAILROAD

Continued from page five.

rail," a commission staff report said.

Businesses and individuals from Cincinnati, Galion, Dayton and other areas urged commission support for the cross-state routes.

James Betts, commission chairman, was to meet Friday with Voinovich's top budget officer R. Gregory Browning to discuss the request.

The Ohio Association of Railroad Passengers endorsed the commission plan.

"We're not going to play

"It still lists the CAC as the top passenger priority."

Timothy Davis
commissioner

favorites as to one over the other because we believe all three of them do have their own unique advantages," said Bill Hutchinson, the group's president.

Decisions about how much money, if any, is provided rest with Voinovich and state legislators.

Carvey's show loses sponsorship

Taco Bell, Pizza Hut pull, saying comic's program is "not for us"

The Associated Press

NEW YORK - Taco Bell has quit as sponsor of Dana Carvey's new comedy show because the premiere episode was just too spicy.

Pizza Hut, like Taco Bell a unit of PepsiCo Inc., also withdrew as sponsor of the former "Saturday Night Live" star's sketch comedy show after its Tuesday night debut on ABC as "The Taco Bell Dana Carvey Show."

"We think Dana Carvey is without a doubt one of the country's funniest comedians," said Taco Bell spokeswoman Amy Sherwood. "But we're in the business of selling tacos and burritos, not offending people."

Carvey opened his show with an impression of a caring, nurturing and "estrogen-enhanced" President Clinton breast-feeding from several nipples.

Carvey then was brought on by a chorus of Taco Bell servers, who sang of him as "our whore." Flanked by a giant, dancing taco and a giant, dancing Taco Bell logo, Carvey accepted a giant, fake check for $18 million.

Later, the comic, in his "Church Lady" role, repeatedly referred to Princess Diana as a slut.

Taco Bell and Pizza Hut informed ABC on Wednesday that they are dropping the show.

"We think Dana Carvey's a great comedian, but based on the content of the first episode, we're no longer comfortable as a title sponsor of the show," Pizza Hut spokesman Chris Romoser said. "We think this show may very well go on to do great things, but it's not for us."

Next week, it will be called "The Mug Root Beer Dana Carvey Show." Mug Root Beer is another division of PepsiCo.

Carvey did not return calls for comment on Thursday.

TOP O' the

M.T. MUGGS
353-8735
PICK-UP or DINE IN

mega deal $6.50 12" cheese pizza and pitcher <small>Expires 4/30/96 M.T. Muggs 353-8735</small>	Our famous Grilled Chicken Sandwich marinated in olive oil and special spices with salad or french fries Cheese Extra $4.75 <small>Expires 4/30/96 M.T. Muggs 353-8735</small>
Italian Sub $3.75 Ham, Pepperoni, onions, tomatoes, hot peppers, and Italian dressing <small>Expires 4/30/96 M.T. Muggs 353-8735</small>	Wings are always .25¢ with any Beverage purchase. Hot or BBQ <small>Expires 4/30/96 M.T. Muggs 353-8735</small>
Try our thick juicy filling half lb. Burger with french fries cheese &amp; tomatoes extra $3.50 <small>Expires 4/30/96 M.T. Muggs 353-8735</small>	$1.00 off any of our Lebanese Food. Healthy Low Fat, low cholesterol, very good food for vegetarians <small>Expires 4/30/96 M.T. Muggs 353-8735</small>
Homemade Beef Pie or Spinach Pie $1.75 ea. <small>Expires 4/30/96 M.T. Muggs 353-8735</small>	.25¢ Pizza Slices on Fridays

Celebrate St. Patrick's Day Early!!!

Brewsters will give $50 for the most festive St. Patrick's Day Costume! (The More Green The Better!)

SATURDAY MARCH 16th 11:30 pm

---

GOOD FOOD They are back DOLLAR SPECIALS

BEEF CARVERS

at Brewsters DRINK SPECIALS

135 N. Main St. 353-6912

FRIDAY MARCH 15th 10:30 - 2:00

Sunday, March 17
St. Patrick's Day Party
WBUZ -
with State of Green
Doors open at 6:00: band at 7

THURSDAY Ladies Free and college ID. Night with Pounder Specials this Thur - Sat BLITZEN	coming Wednesday, March 27 Vince Neil of Motley Crue Tickets on Sale Now
---	---

BYRNE AIRPORT HWY
475
I-75
N

135 BYRNE ROAD
TOLEDO, OH
(419) 531-1311

Don't forget our daily specials
Lunch & happy hour specials
Open for lunch daily at 11:30 Monday - Saturday
Food Available Until 10PM

M.T. MUGGS
Bowling Green, Ohio

1414 East Wooster 353-8735

U.S. governors dominate veepstakes

Laura Myers
The Associated Press

WASHINGTON — The Senate room was packed, 10 television cameras, three-score journalists, a long blue and gray line of political suits ready to answer serious questions about Medicaid and welfare.

"Governor Engler, Governor Engler," a TV reporter shouted out. "There's been a lot of talk about you being a possible running mate for Senator Dole..."

"But not today," Michigan Gov. John Engler interrupted. "Let's take another question..."

Like it or not, with Sen. Bob Dole the presumptive Republican presidential nominee, the 1996 veepstakes are on with a vengeance. And several of the nation's governors are in the running, if only by name for now.

Wisconsin Gov. Tommy Thompson, another participant in Thursday's Republican Governors Association news conference, saw the veep question coming, shaking his head and smiling as a reporter was in mid-query.

State leaders dominate list of possible republican VPs

"I've been asked that about every day that I'm in front of any press," said Thompson. But like others, he demurred and praised another.

"I think Colin Powell's going to be the vice presidential nominee," he said of the retired general and former Joint Chiefs of Staff chairman.

"I think," he added, "there will be a governor chosen to be vice president if in fact Colin Powell is not chosen. But I think Bob Dole's going to ask Colin Powell, and I think Colin Powell's going to accept."

History shows that vice presidential candidates rarely run for the job — at least overtly — preferring to be drafted instead.

Back to Engler, who took the opportunity Thursday to endorse Dole and promised to campaign for him in Michigan in advance of Tuesday's primary. Engler chairs the GOP governors association, which also announced its endorsement of Dole on Thursday although a few of the 31 Republican governors have yet to make personal endorsements.

Engler, when pressed, had a few words on who might make a good running mate for Dole.

"It's nice to have the state of Michigan being talked about..." he began. "But it's also the case that when you talk to Governor Thompson in Wisconsin and you look at the record of that state, you look at what Bill Weld's done in Massachusetts, what Christie Whitman has done in New Jersey. On and on the list goes — Mike Leavitt in Utah."

Among governors, Engler gets top what-if billing. Thompson, Whitman and George Voinovich of Ohio have made the list, too, along with former South Carolina Gov. Carroll Campbell. Weld was a possibility, but is considered out of the running since he announced plans to run for the Senate.

Asked if there was anything that would prevent him from accepting a vice presidential nomination, Engler laughed and gave the only answer any of them could:

"Yes. I think the fact that I haven't been asked would be a big barrier."

In theory, any of the Republicans' governors could be considered if they can help Dole beat President Clinton, a former governor of Arkansas.

Forbes drops bid for GOP nomination

Sally Buzbee
The Associated Press

WASHINGTON — Steve Forbes dropped his improbable quest for the GOP presidential nomination Thursday after using $30 million of his fortune to push closer to the prize than most anyone had expected.

"I made the best investment any of us can make," Forbes told supporters at a Washington hotel, surrounded by his wife, Sabina, and five daughters. "I tried to make my country a better, stronger and finer place."

Forbes' candidacy was largely dismissed when he joined the race six months ago. But with a self-financed TV advertising blitz, Forbes got his name and flat-tax idea before voters, briefly appeared to threaten Dole and won primaries in Delaware and Arizona before trailing off into a string of defeats.

In the process, Forbes' campaign clearly illustrated the importance money — and advertising — plays in determining who is competitive for the White House, and who can't even make the starting line.

"You have to have lots of cash. And there's only two ways you can get it — either you're wealthy yourself, or you go hat-in-hand to special interest groups," said Josh Goldstein of the Center for Responsive Politics, a Washington group that tracks political spending.

In contrast to Forbes, GOP hopefuls California Gov. Pete Wilson and Pennsylvania Sen. Arlen Specter dropped out early — long before any voters went to the polls — in part because of lack of money.

And such top prospects as Jack Kemp, William Bennett and former Vice President Dan Quayle never joined the race given the challenge of matching Dole's fund-raising prowess.

Overall, Forbes won 900,545 votes — about 16 percent of those cast, putting him third behind Dole and the only re-

See FORBES, page nine.

House passes crime legislation

David Espo
The Associated Press

WASHINGTON — A sharply divided House passed watered-down legislation Thursday to combat crime and terrorism, and President Clinton said he hoped the measure "will be made much stronger" before reaching his desk.

On a vote of 229-191, lawmakers cleared an election-year bill that would curtail protracted appeals by death row inmates and other convicts and require criminals to pay restitution to their victims.

The measure also would make it a crime to kill a federal employee because of his or her work, and would require inclusion of "taggants" in plastic explosives so they can be traced.

But approval came after conservatives of both parties, responding to pressure from the National Rifle Association and other groups, succeeded in stripping out several other provisions on grounds they handed the government too much power.

House passage set the stage for difficult election-year compromise talks with the Senate, which passed its own version of the measure last year, as well as with the White House. Speaker Newt Gingrich said he hoped the compromise could be crafted before April 19.

See CRIME, page ten.

Mornin'!

St. Patrick Day Party!

GAMERS

Saturday at 7pm

$3.95 Corned Beef & Cabbage Noon-6 p.m.
Green Beer Specials
Music From Yankee Road

119 N. Main
Downtown
B.G.

Celebrate St. Patrick's EVE

Starting Friday
At Midnight
-Green Beer!

Trotters 4th Annual St. Patrick's Celebration

Sat. Morning Open 6am
"Yes, Sam I Am"
Green Eggs & Ham!!

Traditional Irish Beers
On Draught - Plenty O' Irish Fun!!

bw-3...
St. Patrick's
Day Celebration!

- Ohio's longest Happy Hour 5:30am - 9pm
- Breakfast served at 5:30am for only $1!!!
- KISS FM and BW-3 invite you to come and celebrate with them on Sunday, March 17th
- Johnny D. will be here from 1pm - 4pm
- Pot-o-jewelry giveaway 14 ct. jewelry approximated value of $400.00
- Irish Beer specials at low prices; great food and a fantastic time!

call 353-BWWW
176 E. Wooster

BUFFALO WILD WINGS & WECK

Preferred Properties
530 South Maple St.
352-9378

Fox Run
Haven House
Piedmont
Birchwood

Mini Mall
Small Buildings
Frontier Housing

Renting For 96-97

You Snooze You Lose

LUBE, OIL &amp; FILTER SPECIAL*  ONLY $14.95                  Complete Examination of:                  • Washer Fluid                  • Power Steering Fluid                  • Brake Fluid                  • Automatic Transmission Fluid                  up to 5 qts. most cars                  Call for an Appointment                  Exp. 4/30/96	MAINTENANCE TUNE-UP SPECIAL*                  4 Cylinder.....$32.95                  6 Cylinder.....$36.95                  8 Cylinder.....$39.95                  INCLUDES: Analysis of starting, charging and engine system plus we set timing, install new spark plugs.                  Most Cars                  Call for an Appointment                  Exp. 4/30/96	FRONT BRAKE SPECIAL ONLY  $59.95                  • Front Brake Disc Pads                  • Inspect Brake Hoses                  • Inspect Callipers                  • Add Fluid As Needed                  • Inspect Wheel Cylinders                  Most Cars                  Call for an Appointment                  Exp. 4/30/96	(4) TIRE ROTATION &amp; BALANCE ONLY  $21.95                  Present this coupon to receive special price.                  Most Cars                  Call for an Appointment                  Exp. 4/30/96
--	--	---	---

WRIGHT AMOCO AUTO CENTER
352-0387
 *MUST PRESENT COUPONS FOR SPECIAL PRICE
OPEN 24 HOURS
 Service Hours: Mon.-Fri. 8 a.m. - 5 p.m.; Sat. 8 a.m. - Noon
 All Major Credit Cards Accepted

WE EMPLOY ASE TECHNICIANS

IS YOUR IMPORT FEELING ILL? WE HAVE THE CURE

12953 KRAMER RD.
 OFF OF S. MAIN
 - BG -

BG'S LARGEST AND MOST COMPLETE IMPORT FACILITY

352-7031

Lyric AUTO

MasterCard, Visa

Did You Know that BP PROCARE is offering a 10% discount on all auto repairs to FACULTY, STAFF and STUDENTS!

$19.95 Oil Change/Lube & Safety Inspection
SAVE $6.00
 (Regularly $25.95 most cars)

Includes a new Atlas oil filter, a complete chassis lubrication up to five quarts of our best, turbo approved, premium motor oil, and checks of tire pressure and fluids (automatic transmission, brakes, power steering, cooling system reservoir, windshield washer and battery). Radiator, shock absorbers, belt and hoses are visually checked.

BP PROCARE.

Free Shuttle Service Available

Coupon good only at 275 S. Main B. G. Ohio 43402

Coupon is good toward above merchandise only. Not redeemable for cash. Limit one coupon per oil change. Not valid in conjunction with other coupon or discount offers. Reproduced copies will not be accepted. Please present coupon at time of service. Coupon Expires 3/30/96.

Sockman Automotive
 425 Grant Blvd., Bowling Green, OH 43402 across the tracks from Kinko's
352-3607
Spring Break Sale
 General Maintenance and Lube/Oil/Filter $12.95 up to 5qts. of Oil Get Your Car Ready For The Long Trip!
 See Tom or Bill now!
 General maintenance for all domestic and import cars
 Good Thru 3/22/96

Thayer Chevrolet/Toyota/GEO

- We service all GM and Toyota vehicles.
- We offer a complete line of car and van rentals.
- FREE shuttle Service!
- We also rent 7 passenger and 12 passenger Chevrolet vans.

353-5751
 122 N. Main

Shooter had marred reputation

Simple, cheap computer to hit U.S. market

Robert Seely
The Associated Press

DUNBLANE, Scotland -- Around gun clubs, Thomas Hamilton had a reputation for being unstable. Yet police licensed the firearms he used to kill 16 kindergarten children, their teacher and then himself.

And around this small central Scottish town, the balding, unemployed misfit obsessed with guns and running boys' groups was suspected of being a pedophile.

Yet when the local council barred him in 1984 from using the high school for his weekly boys' club meetings, Hamilton protested so effectively that Edinburgh authorities overruled the council -- and admonished it not to act on gossip.

Hamilton's reputation as an unstable, unsavory loner grew. Five weeks ago, a shooting range at nearby Callander refused him membership. And in the final days of his life, Hamilton strove to defend his image.

On the eve of Wednesday's massacre, Hamilton mailed packages to Scottish radio and television stations and The Scotsman newspaper; they contained copies of letters he had written declaring he was "not a pervert" and accusing the police and others of spreading rumors.

The bundles of seven letters included one that the 43-year-old Hamilton had sent last week to Queen Elizabeth II. Buckingham Palace said the queen had not answered.

Hamilton complained of being banned from the Boy Scouts 22 years ago, about the attempts in the mid-1980s by the Stirling District Council to stop his boys' clubs and, most of all, the suspicions.

"I know that no child has ever made any complaint of a sinister or sexual nature against me," Hamilton wrote to the queen, who is the scouts' patron. "... I cannot even walk the streets for fear of embarrassing ridicule."

Local council members and police were worried. Boys reported having to strip off their shirts and puff up their chests while Hamilton photographed them in the gym.

Yet no one could prove suspicions that Hamilton -- who had no

A student gets information about the recent massacre of 16 kindergarten children, their teacher and himself.

The Associated Press

Mari Yamaguchi
The Associated Press

TOKYO -- Japan this month will get a simpler, lower-cost computer for playing games and going online -- and the device lands on the American market this summer.

Designed by Apple Computer Inc., the Pippin Atmark is being sold by Bandal Co. Ltd., the toy company that makes Mighty Morphin Power Rangers. It attaches to TVs to play video game CDs and browse the World Wide Web. It can also play music CDs.

Though its $620 price is considerably more than video game machines, it is far less than most personal computers.

Pippin is a test of whether Apple can carve out a new market niche. The company in 1993 was one of the first to sell a writing pad-sized computer, which it called Newton. Though it stumbled at first, the machine has improved and found a following.

Several other large computer companies have talked about building lower-cost machines for online access. None besides Apple has shown anything beyond design concepts.

Bandal will sell Pippin in the United States this summer and Apple is talking to other manufacturers about building the machine.

Pippin is the size of a telephone book. When it is turned on, the screen looks similar to that of an Apple Macintosh computer. When surfing the Web, the machine uses the Netscape Navigator browser.

FORBES

Continued from page seven.

maining challenger, Pat Buchanan. The vast majority of his $30 million investment went for advertising.

Forbes contended his pro-growth ideas, not his commercials and spending, propelled his candidacy. "The American people are not for sale," he said.

In fact, Forbes' failure to win indicated a millionaires' pockets alone can't guarantee political

But money is clearly crucial: In each presidential contest since 1976, the candidate who has raised the most money by Jan. 1 of the election year, and taken federal matching funds, has won his party's nomination. Forbes launched his presidential campaign with TV ads promoting the flat tax, but moved quickly to ads that harshly criticized Dole for voting to raise taxes and being a "Washington insider." Though many felt the negative ads backfired against Forbes, turning off voters who knew little about him, they also dragged Dole down. Dole blamed them, in part, for his disappointing showings in New Hampshire and Arizona. Asked if he still resented the fact that Forbes had attacked him so harshly, Dole said Thursday, "I don't try to hold grudges. I just try to keep moving ahead."

Spring Shopping at Woodland Mall - You Earned the Rite!

JC Penney

Bowling Green • Woodland Mall

Fill out an application for a JC Penney charge card (If approved - instant credit!)

JC Penney Shopping Spree Certificate

You are entitled to save 25% on regular-priced* merchandise from your favorite JC Penney stores, in BG-Woodland Mall, purchased any one day from ...

March 8 through March 19, 1996.

* Some restrictions apply. See below for details.

25% OFF SHOPPING SPREE

To take advantage of this special offer, please present this certificate at the time of each purchase and turn it in when making your last purchase of the day.

Discount applies only to regular-priced merchandise and is limited to JC Penney in-stock on hand. The certificate discount does not apply to these items: Hanes® Smooth Illusions™, Cosmetic Dept., Catalog (Catalog Dept., Catalog Phone Orders, Catalog Outlet Stores), Men's & Young Men's® Levi's® Jeans, No Fear® Sportswear, Gucci® Watches, all Royal Velvet® by Fieldcrest®, Sale merchandise, Value Right merchandise or Clearance merchandise. The certificate is not valid when presented with any other JC Penney coupon/certificate, and cannot be used for payment on account or redeemed for cash. As always, credit purchases are subject to review. Cash value 1/20 of one cent.

Luca Pizza

Woodland Mall, Bowling Green 354-2272

Any sub & med. beverage $4.59

exp. 12/31/96

Large 2 Item Pizza only $11.99

exp. 12/31/96

Buy 1 slice of pizza get one of equal or lesser value free

exp. 12/31/96

Buy 1 pizza roll get one free

exp. 12/31/96

OHIO OVAL TRACK RACING ASSOC.

Annual Car Show Woodland Mall

Bowling Green, Ohio

MAR. 15-16-17

Great Lakes Ford Nissan Presents "Raybestos" Winston Cup Super Track

Also Featuring Area Race Cars!

Woodland Mall & O.O.T.R.A. Darrell Waltrip's Winston Cup "Simulator Car!"

For more info.

- Deb Bradfield - (419) 382-0452
- Larry Reese - (419) 422-7332
- Wayne Freshcorn - (419) 686-5384
- Scott Bowen - (419) 686-5815

Taiwan's leader says Chinese "scared to death"

Joe McDonald
The Associated Press

TAIPEI, Taiwan - With China signaling that its war games may spread, Taiwan's president flew to islands near the maneuvers Thursday and accused Chinese leaders of being "scared to death" of Taiwanese democracy.

Chinese warplanes held a third day of mock attacks southwest of Taiwan, and also conducted "preliminary exercises" near Fuzhou, a Chinese coastal city 100 miles west of Taiwan's northern tip, the Taiwanese Defense Ministry reported.

Taiwan had warned that China may be planning even bigger exercises before the island's presidential election March 23 in an attempt to discourage the island from declaring independence.

President Lee Teng-hui, who is running for another term, was smiling and looked relaxed as he addressed a crowd in the Pescadores archipelago, 45 miles from where Chinese ships and planes were staging mock attacks.

Wearing a tan windbreaker and sneakers, the 73-year-old Lee appealed for unity and reminded the islanders of his efforts to democratize Taiwan politics.

"These are the things the Chinese Communists dare not do: political liberalization, freedom and democracy," he said. "They see freedom and democracy, and they are scared to death."

China accuses Lee, head of the Nationalist government that fled to Taiwan in 1949 after losing a civil war to Mao Tse-tung's Communists, of discarding their shared doctrine of reunification.

The war games started Tuesday, and have pushed tensions between the two sides to their worst since the late 1950s, when Taiwan traded artillery barrages with China from islands near the mainland coast.

Schoolchildren at some Taiwanese schools held annual air raid drills Thursday, timed to coincide with China's eight days of missile tests near Taiwan.

China test-fired three missiles Friday and a fourth on Wednesday. There were no reports of missiles fired Thursday, a day before the launches were due to end.

At the Nannan School in central Taipei, children were led to a ground-floor corridor and shown how to crouch and cover their faces. Schools that have bomb shelters are using them in practices.

Despite reassurances the government can repel any Chinese attack, many Taiwanese have been hoarding food and buying U.S. dollars to move their money out of the country.

Up to $4 billion has left Taiwan,

Central Bank governor Sheu Yuan-dong said in a television interview from New York, where he is visiting the Federal Reserve Bank.

Sheu urged Taiwanese to slow their rush to convert savings into U.S. dollars, but promised to supply as much currency as they wanted.

Stores report brisk sales of rice, toilet paper and other basics.

The government, trying to dampen fears of war, denied rumors it would bar draft-age men from leaving. Ou Chen-wen, a Defense Ministry official, said Taiwan's 3.6 million reservists are enough to back up the 400,000-member armed forces.

But Yen Chin-fu, an opposition lawmaker, claimed he personally knew of many businessmen and professionals sending their sons abroad to avoid conscription.

The American Institute in

The Associated Press
Kindergarten children try to deal with the war games in Taiwan.
Taiwan, the unofficial U.S. mission, said it had no plans to evacuate any of Taiwan's 30,000 Americans.

MASSACRE

Continued from page nine.

criminal record -- was a pedophile.

And no one dreamed a mass murderer lurked behind the argumentative, overweight and unpopular loner, who resented the dwindling turnout at the boys' club meetings he held every Thursday at 6 p.m.

"Any one of us who met him was instantly alarmed," said Anne Dickson, a member of Stirling council.

"But I just cannot imagine anything that anyone would legislate," she said. "This man appeared normal. Our reservation was not that he was going to flip his lid or get violent."

Throughout the day, flowers piled up outside the empty Dunblane Primary School. There was talk of tearing down the whole school, or at least bulldozing the gymnasium where Hamilton massacred the 5-year-olds -- 11 girls and five boys.

Three of the 12 wounded children were in serious condition, hospital authorities said.

In London, government and opposition leaders joined in solemn tributes. "Sometimes the political disputes that we have ... can seem very petty besides human matters," Prime Minister John Major told a silent House of Commons.

Ron Taylor, headmaster of the Dunblane Primary School, described to reporters in a shaking voice the scene when he rushed in after calling the police. "We did what we could: We tried to stem the blood," he said. "The children were traumatized. The ones injured were conscious but distressed."

The letters Hamilton mailed were part of the relentless campaign he waged from the row house where he lived alone in Stirling, 5 miles south of Dunblane.

He petitioned top politicians, wrote to parents and local authorities and recently printed leaflets -- all protesting slurs on his reputation. It was all so unfair, he said.

True, the Boy Scouts did expel him -- for a disorganized trip when boys were exposed to extreme cold, not for anything connected with sex, association spokesman John Fogg said Thursday.

In the 1984 dispute over Hamilton's use of the school, Scottish Local Administration Commissioner Eric Gillett accused the regional council of ignoring evidence the boys' group was well-run and acting on "complaints which proved to be a little better than gossip."

Hamilton had police-approved licenses for two .357 revolvers and two 9-mm pistols, believed to be the weapons recovered at the school, and for two rifles.

CRIME

Continued from page seven.

That's the anniversary of the bombing of the federal building in Oklahoma City -- the event that triggered Clinton's call for such a bill.

"The challenge of a free society is to have a government strong enough to protect itself from danger and carefully enough constrained to not itself be a danger," Gingrich, R-Ga., said in the closing moments of debate.

On final passage, 176 Republicans and 53 Democrats, mostly conservatives, voted in favor of the measure. Voting against were 132 Democrats and 58 Republicans, as well as one independent.

For his part, Gingrich said some of the material removed from the bill on Wednesday would resurface in some form.

He cited a provision that had been intended to make it impossible for agents of groups such as Hamas -- responsible for a wave of suicide attacks in Israel -- to enter the United States and raise funds.

Other provisions deleted on Wednesday would have made it easier to prosecute certain firearms cases and to use improperly obtained wiretap evidence.

Despite Gingrich's pledges, many Democrats said the bill had been so diluted that it was virtually worthless, and Clinton made his dislike plain.

ATTENTION:
Bowling Green Students and Alumni
STUDENT TICKETS ONLY $7.50 (reg. $16)
Available at B.G.S.U. Student Box Office

25th Annual
CCHA
Championship
College Hockey at the Joe

Friday, March 15
5:00 pm • B.G.S.U. vs. L.S.S.U.
8:30 pm • M.S.U. vs. U of M

Saturday, March 16
Championship Game
7:30 pm

JOE LOUIS ARENA

Individual Ticket Prices: $8, $12 & $16 available at Joe Louis Arena Box Office and all locations including Hudson's, Harmony House and Bookbuster Music.

Charge by Phone (419) 474-1333

JOHN NEWLOVE REAL ESTATE
SUMMER & FALL RENTALS
(Too many to list)

Large assortment of Houses, Duplexes, and Apartments

Stop in to 319 E. Wooster for a brochure of complete details and speak with our friendly staff!

354-2260
John Newlove Real Estate 319 E. Wooster
(across from Taco Bell)

enter the United States and raise funds.

Other provisions deleted on Wednesday would have made it easier to prosecute certain firearms cases and to use improperly obtained wiretap evidence.

Despite Gingrich's pledges, many Democrats said the bill had been so diluted that it was virtually worthless, and Clinton made his dislike plain.

"If we're going to have a bill we need a real bill," he told reporters aboard Air Force One as he flew home from an anti-terrorism trip to the Middle East.

"It needs to be a bill that will help us combat terrorism at home and abroad. ... So I certainly hope that when this bill gets into conference it will be made much stronger," he said, referring to the compromise negotiations with the Senate.

Two days of House debate blurred the traditional lines between liberals and conservatives as lawmakers struggled to find the proper balance between the rights of individuals and the role of the government in fighting criminals and terrorists.

In one of the unlikeliest political coalitions in memory, Rep. Mel Watt of North Carolina, whose district contains a majority of black voters, teamed with conservative GOP Rep. Helen Chenoweth of Idaho in seeking removal of the provisions many other lawmakers favor to expedite the death penalty.

RELAX... SPRING BREAK IS NEAR!

CLIP & SAVE

$3, $2, $1 off Film Developing Good on 110, 126, 35mm, and disc film (c-41 process). Get $3 off on 36 exp., $2 off on 24 exp. This coupon must accompany order. (not valid with any other offer.) One roll per coupon. Valid On All In Lab 1 Hr. Processing COUPON EXPIRES 3/27/95	EXTRA SET OF PRINTS FREE Valid on all In-Lab 1 Hr. Processing. Get the second set of color prints for $1 when the first set is developed and printed at Blue Ribbon Photo Store. Good on 110, 126, 35mm and disk film (c-41 process). Coupon not valid w/ other special offers. Coupon must be presented when film is left for processing. One roll per coupon. COUPON EXPIRES 3/27/95	4 x 6 BIG SHOT COLOR PRINTS 12 $5.99 24 $8.99 36 $11.99 EXP. EXP. EXP. See us for available processing time. Good on 35mm C-41 process 4 x 6 color prints only. COUPON MUST ACCOMPANY ORDER. This coupon not valid with any other offer. 1 roll per coupon 4 x 6 print not available in 1 hour B.G. store only. Same Day Service. EXPIRES 3/27/95
EXTRA SET OF PRINTS FREE Valid on all In-Lab 1 Hr. Processing. Get the second set of color prints for $1 when the first set is developed and printed at Blue Ribbon Photo Store. Good on 110, 126, 35mm and disk film (c-41 process). Coupon not valid w/ other special offers. Coupon must be presented when film is left for processing. One roll per coupon. COUPON EXPIRES 3/27/95	COLOR REPRINT SPECIAL 25 C EACH UP TO 40 C VALUE SAVE WE'LL MAKE BEAUTIFUL COLOR REPRINTS FROM YOUR NEGATIVES MINIMUM QTY. (5) PRINTS PER ORDER. NO LIMIT FROM COLOR C-41 PROCESS NEGATIVES ONLY. COUPON MUST ACCOMPANY ORDER. Not valid with any other offer. COUPON EXPIRES 3/27/95	$3, $2, $1 off Film Developing Good on 110, 126, 35mm, and disc film (c-41 process). Get $3 off on 36 exp., $2 off on 24 exp. This coupon must accompany order. (not valid with any other offer.) One roll per coupon. Valid On All In Lab 1 Hr. Processing COUPON EXPIRES 3/27/95

We specialize in Spring Break photos.
Your Assurance of Quality
BLUE RIBBON PHOTO
157 N. Main, B.G. Open Mon. - Fri. 9-8 Sat. 9-5 Sun. 12-5 (Across from Uptown) 353-4244

Quick Snap Flash $12.50
Quick Snap Waterproof $12.50
Quick Snap Panorama $9.75
Quick Snap $6.99

BEST JOBS IN BG
Build Your Resume And Earn Great Pay.

Student Publications is hiring Account Executives to sell yellow page advertising in the campus directory. Work from April through June.

Gain great sales experience. Only 2 positions open. Call 372-0430 for more information, or stop by 204 West Hall for an application.

Drexel continues Cinderella tradition

The Associated Press

Drexel reminded NCAA tournament teams of two things: Beware the No. 12 seed and watch out for those Philadelphia schools.

The Dragons became the latest Philadelphia school to pull off an NCAA tournament shocker, jolting fifth-seeded Memphis 75-63 Thursday in the first round of the West Regional at Albuquerque, N.M.

Mallik Rose had 21 points and 15 rebounds as Drexel (27-3) extended the nation's second longest winning streak to 15 games. The Dragons will play fourth-seeded Syracuse, an 88-55 winner over Montana State, in the second round Saturday.

Drexel and its 4,073 students get little attention in Philadelphia, where Big Five members Villanova, Penn, Temple, La Salle and St. Joseph's dominate the headlines and recruiting.

"Heck, I didn't know who Drexel was until I took the job," said Bill Herrion, the Dragons' fifth-year coach.

In the NCAA tournament, however, Philadelphia schools have left their mark.

In 1981, St. Joseph's rocked top-ranked DePaul in the second round. Four years later, Villanova sprung one of the great upsets, a 66-64 win over Georgetown in the final.

"We're a game away from the Sweet Sixteen and for a school like us, it's a dream come true," Herrion said.

The Dragons continued a trend of No. 12 seeds thriving in the opening round. In 1994, Tulsa ousted UCLA; in 1993, Santa Clara shocked Arizona.

Elsewhere in the tournament, top seeds Massachusetts, Kentucky and Connecticut upheld tradition.

UMass beat Central Florida 92-70 in the East, Kentucky defeated San Jose State 110-72 in the Midwest and UConn downed Colgate 68-59 in the Southeast to extend the unbeaten streak of No. 1 seeds in the opening round.

No top seed has lost its first game since the tournament expanded to 64 teams in 1985. To keep the streak alive, Purdue had to beat Western Carolina on Thursday night in the West Regional at Albuquerque, N.M.

UMass (32-1) broke open a close game by forcing turnovers on Central Florida's first six possessions of the second half.

Carmelo Travieso led the Minutemen with 21 points. All-American Marcus Camby had 14 points and 17 rebounds despite sitting out seven minutes of the second half with a gashed forehead, the result of an elbow by Central Florida's Reid Ketteler.

"My hands were full of blood, my shirt was full of blood, my shorts were full of blood," Camby said. "I just went back and got stitched up."

Another All-American, Ray Allen, scored 12 of his 24 points during a 15-0 first-half run that led UConn over Colgate.

The Huskies (31-2) led by 17 at halftime and increased the margin to 22 before a late surge by Colgate (15-15) made the final score respectable. Adonal Foyle led the Red Raiders with 21 points, 14 rebounds and six blocks.

The victory could prove costly. UConn lost key reserve Ricky Moore with a separated shoulder late in the first half, and he probably will miss the rest of the tournament.

Kentucky (29-2) led by only six points at halftime, but wore down San Jose State (13-17) with depth and pressure defense.

"We absolutely hit the wall," San Jose coach Stan Morrison said.

San Jose trailed by only 12 points with 12 minutes left before Kentucky broke it open by scoring on seven straight possessions.

BG's Brad Holzinger skates back on ice as a UIC forward pushes the puck in a game played earlier in the year.

Jon Raabach/The BG News

BG looks to exorcise demons at Joe Louis

Pat Murphy
The BG News

The last time Bowling Green won a game at Joe Louis Arena in Detroit, senior captain Jason Clark was playing for the Belmont Bombers, and head coach Buddy Powers was leading Rochester Institute of Technology to the Division III finals.

Clark

Since Kevin Dahl picked up the game-winning goal in the 5-3 win over Illinois-Chicago in 1989, BG has lost their last five games at Joe Louis Arena.

During Clark's stay at Bowling Green he has seen the Falcons go from a 19-21-1 team to a 26-13-1 team this season. At the same time Clark has left JLA on the losing side of three games.

In 1993 BG lost 7-1 in the quarterfinals to Lake Superior. In 1994 a 3-2 semifinal overtime loss to Michigan State. In 1995 a 4-3 semifinal overtime loss again to Michigan State.

Last season the Falcons were probably one win away from going to the NCAA Tournament and ending their season in another stadium. But Steve Guolla's overtime goal brought the season crashing down once again at "The Joe".

"Were not happy just to be there this year," Clark said. "Were not in awe of playing there and not in awe of who we're playing."

and that's just a real smart game," Fry said. "Getting the puck deep in their end and getting the puck out over our blue line."

"Lake Superior is always going to be a grinding, physical game," said Falcon head coach Buddy Powers. "They're not going to change the way they play for anyone, so we just have to do the little things, win the one-on-one battles." And against Lake Superior, who likes to pin the opponent deep in their defensive zone, the Falcons' ability to move from offense to defense quickly and without turnovers will be important.

team, are vulnerable.

The Falcons defeated Lake Superior in two of the three meetings this season with their lone defeat coming in overtime and against Ohio State last weekend, the traditionally strong Laker defense was broken for five goals in two games by the second-worst CCHA offense.

Bowling Green is on a streak of their own, winning eight of the last 10 games after playing their most complete two-game series of the season against Western Michigan.

Falcon center Curtis Fry sees their performance against the Broncos last weekend as a perfect example of how the team needs to perform to advance.

"I think the key is to play very similar to the way we played in Western Michigan them go the full length of the ice to score goals instead of turning the puck over in the neutral zone. Not only are they opportunistic, but they know how to win. They've been in the thick of things and the national picture every single year."

Fry's point of the Lakers' success is buttressed by LSSU's career playoff mark of 42-17-0 and four playoff titles in the past five years.

So Lake's been there, done that. But the Falcons seem to be laying groundwork of their own and are looking to add another brick to their foundation that has been under construction since head coach Buddy Powers arrived last year.

Bowling Green made it to "the Joe" last season before suffering an overtime defeat against Michigan State in the

See DEMONS, page page thirteen.

See JOE, page page thirteen.

BG thirsts for more Joe

Christian Pelusi
The BG News

In the 1990s, the Lake Superior State Lakers have migrated south to Detroit for more than just a cup of "the Joe"; they've come to take the whole pot.

Not just content to reach the Central Collegiate Hockey Association Final Four, the Lakers are looking for their fifth CCHA playoff title in six years as they meet Bowling Green in the CCHA semifinals today at 5:00 in Joe Louis Arena in Detroit.

Lake State is coming off a two-game sweep of No. 8-seed Ohio State last weekend at Sault Ste. Marie, 4-3 OT and 8-2. Including those two victories, the Lakers are 9-1-1 in their last 10 games with three overtime wins.

But the Lakers, like any

Shoddy defense could spell defeat for Icers

Christian Pelusi
The BG News

The cliché that "Defense wins championships" is tossed around more during this time of year than the horsehides down in the Cactus and Grapefruit leagues.

But that's how a cliché becomes a cliché and at the core of every cliché is a kernel of truth.

In the midst of the hockey playoff season, defense cannot be stressed enough by coaches to their players. Just ask the Western Michigan Broncos.

The most glaring of the Broncos' flaws this past weekend was their inability to stop any facet of the Falcons' offense. Power play or even-strength Bowling Green consistently pitched camp in the Western Michigan end of the ice, forcing the Broncos to concentrate more on simply clearing the puck out of their zone rather than generating offense.

Credit for the Falcons' taming of the Broncos goes to overall-team defense, a philosophy that Bowling Green has taken great pains to employ throughout the season.

The team defense concept focuses first on strong, aggressive forechecking by the forwards, forcing the opposing defensemen to make several accurate passes to leave their own zone with possession of the puck.

Second is the ability for the Falcon defensemen to stand the opposing forwards up at the BG blue line or if the puck is dumped around the boards, to win the battle for possession and quickly move the puck up to the Falcon forwards for a rush up ice.

Third is obviously the goal-tending to back up everything.

The system has limited opponents to just one goal in three of the last four games. Having a team like the Falcons, who can rack up goals in bunches, believe in such a system has been a goal of head coach Buddy Powers. The effective use of the plan has been a catalyst in Bowling Green's winning or losing of games.

When Bowling Green allows three or fewer goals in a game, their record is 19-1-1.

That's a pretty convincing argument for opponents of placing sound defense above all else.

Jon Raabach/The BG News

Falcon left wing Jason Clark fires the puck on goal as a Illinois of Chicago goalie and defenseman guard the pipes.

"Right now, I'd say our team defense has got to be our main focus, especially against Lake State," said center Brad Holzinger. "It's going to be a great defensive game, and when we get our chances we have to bury them."

"The team defense is very important," said right wing Mike Johnson. "Especially in a one-game shot. The game will probably be low scoring, and that usually makes the difference."

The difference between a good defensive effort and a great one may be just one goal. And with that one goal may be the difference between playing for the CCHA title or elimination.

To a man, Bowling Green appears to have a grasp of that more now than ever.

"We have the forwards that can score all the time, but we have to be concerned with playing good 'D' to be successful," said defenseman Chad Ackerman.

Abdul-Rauf, NBA come to agreement

Chris Sheridan
The Associated Press

NEW YORK - The NBA lifted its suspension of Mahmoud Abdul-Rauf on Thursday after the Denver Nuggets guard agreed to stand during the national anthem, while also honoring his Islamic faith with a silent prayer.

Both sides got what they wanted: the league defused a controversy over freedom of religion and speech, and Abdul-Rauf regained the right to play while still preserving his ideals.

Saying he found a "better approach" but refusing to call it a compromise, Abdul-Rauf said he will line up alongside his teammates Friday night in Chicago when the anthem is played before the Nuggets' game with the Bulls.

"I'll stand, I will offer a prayer, my own prayer, for those who are suffering - Muslim, Caucasian, African-American, Asian or whoever is in that position, whoever is experiencing difficulty.

This is what I cry out for," Abdul-Rauf told ESPN.

On Tuesday, the NBA suspended him indefinitely for his refusal to stand during "The Star-Spangled Banner" - an action he said he took because of his Islamic beliefs.

UM duels with reeling Spartans

Pat Murphy
The BG News

Will the real Wolverine team please stand up?

In Friday's second semifinal game at Joe Louis Arena, Michigan should prance into Saturday's final, if it can stay focused for an entire game.

The Wolverines face a foe that is reeling while moving into Saturday's matchup. Michigan State was the only team to be taken to a third game in last weekend's first round.

The Spartans battled with upstart Ferris State for three games, with the Spartans prevailing 3-1 Sunday at Munn Arena to clinch the series. MSU split the first two games with the Bulldogs, winning 3-2 in overtime Friday and losing 5-1 Saturday.

Michigan State has lost three of its last five games, dropping a 3-0 decision to Michigan on March 1. Up to that point, the Spartans had been leading the league but have dropped off dramatically over the last three weeks.

The inexperience of the Spartans has surfaced. Head coach Ron Mason survived the lack of experienced forwards and defensemen for most of the regular season. Four of the seven top scorers for the Spartans are freshmen and sophomores.

Senior Anson Carter leads the team in scoring with 43 points, but the three next highest scorers are a freshman and two sophomores. Two of Michigan State's top six defensemen are freshmen Jeff Kozakowski and Chris Bogas.

The Wolverines annihilate most opponents who have veteran lineups. Against Bowling Green on March 2, Michigan scored seven times. The Falcons have two seniors and three juniors on defense.

Michigan can role up offensive numbers like no other team in the league. They scored over 10 goals four times this season. Five Wolverine forwards had over 50 points this year. Bowling Green was the next highest team with two players over 50 points.

UM has more depth in their forward lines than any team in the league. Their top two lines are loaded with eventual National Hockey League players. Brendan Morrison, who lead the league in overall scoring with 63 points, is a fine playmaking center. He is complemented by the Dallas Star's first round pick Jason Botterill who scored 30 goals in 32 games this season.

But Michigan is almost a victim of its own ability. There are times when the Wolverines lull and let teams back into games that they should have control of. Case in point: The last game against BG. UM led 6-2 after two periods but gave up three third period goals to allow BG to creep back in the game 7-5.

Lake Superior State University No. 1 seed

Nickname: Lakers

Record: 28-6-2 (22-6-2 CCHA)
Tied for first, champ by tiebreak

Career playoff record: 42-17-0
Four titles

Last season: Won CCHA playoff title

Current Scoring Leaders

Name	GP	G	A	PTS
Brian Felsner	36	15	36	51
Sean Tallaire	36	31	18	49
Keith Aldridge	34	13	33	46
Jason Trzcinski	36	14	22	36
Bates Battaglia	36	13	18	31
Joe Blaznek	36	16	14	30

Bowling Green State University No. 4 seed

Nickname: Falcons

Record: 26-13-1 (18-11-1 CCHA)
Fifth place

Career playoff record: 47-26-2
Five titles

Last season: Lost in CCHA semifinal to MSU

Current Scoring Leaders

Name	GP	G	A	PTS
Curtis Fry	40	18	35	53
Brett Punchard	38	20	32	52
Kelly Perrault	39	14	32	46
Mike Hall	40	23	22	45
Jason Clark	40	15	28	43
Mike Johnson	29	12	19	31

HEY, do YOU care?

The BGSU Recycling Program wants to reward YOU for caring!

Every week we will give you 2 more great reasons to RECYCLE at BGSU. After you have all 10 reasons to recycle, staple the five ads with your name and phone number. Send the ads via campus mail to 145 College Park. We will have a drawing for a free BGSU Recycling Program MUG!

There are many reasons to RECYCLE at BGSU...here are 2 more:
Week three of five

- 6. You love those yellow barrels.
- 5. It makes your parents proud.

CUT THIS OUT and LOOK for our ad next week!
HEY! Have you read BINS & BARRELS yet?

MID AM MANOR

• NOW RENTING •

Choose from choice apartments within walking distance to campus Summer 1996 and school year 1996-1997

2 bedroom, furnished or unfurnished, gas heat and water included, air conditioning.

641 Third St. Apt. 4, B.G. Resident Manager 352-4380

BOWL-N-GREENERY

SUNDAY BRUNCH

Fresh Carved Roast Beef and Fresh Carved Ham or Turkey

Incl: Scrambled eggs, hash browns, bacon, dutchess potatoes, mashed potatoes w/ gravy. Also desserts and full salad bar

OPEN 11am - 2pm

$7.25 + tax ADULTS
$6.95 + tax STUDENTS/SENIOR CITIZENS
$3.75 CHILDREN 4-11 children 3 and under free* No other discounts apply

*All Student Meal Cards accepted

BG News, Fast Free Fun!

Here's your ticket to Affordable Housing

Income Qualifications

Household Size	Maximum Income Limits
One Person.....	$18,000
Two Person.....	$20,520
Three Person.....	$23,100
Four Person.....	$27,720
Five Person.....	$27,720
Six Person.....	$29,760

Enjoy the benefits that each of our four floor plans offer at the Arbors of Bowling Green, a new concept in affordable housing.
Your apartment home includes:

- Clubhouse
- Mini Blinds
- Central Air Conditioning
- Economical Gas Heating and Cooking
- Beautifully Decorated Interior Using Neutral Earth Tones With You In Mind
- Fully Equipped Kitchens With Dishwashers
- Washer/Dryer Hook-Ups
- Garages With Openers Available
- Bowling Green Schools

Arbors of Bowling Green

Arbors of Bowling Green
360 Colony Lane
Bowling Green, Ohio
(Adjacent to Wal-Mart, off S. Main St.)

For Leasing Information
(419) 353-9811

EDGE SALUTES INTRAMURAL EXCELLENCE

1996 BGSU Intramural Basketball Championship Results:

- Fraternity A
Theta Chi defeated Sigma Phi Epsilon 49-48
- Men's Independent
Skippy defeated Why 54-52
- Fraternity B
Sigma Chi defeated Sigma Alpha Epsilon 48-39
- Coed
The Family defeated Shucky Ducky and the Duckettes 51-38
- Sorority
Chi Omega defeated Alpha Chi Omega 48-21
- Women's Independent
Slow As Hell defeated Dream Team 43-11

Congratulations to the winners, and thanks to everyone who participated!

NICKS. NICKS. NICKS. NIX.

NEW! EDGE'S ULTIMATE PROTECTION FORMULA has more friction-reducing lubricants than ever to make your razor glide and cut better than foam.

ULTIMATE CLOSURE. ULTIMATE COMFORT. THAT'S THE EDGE.

University of Michigan
No. 2 seed

Nickname: Wolverines

Record: 29-7-2 (22-6-2 CCHA)
Tied for first

Career playoff record: 21-17-0
One title

Last season: Lost in CCHA semifinal game to LSSU

Current Scoring Leaders

Name	GP	G	A	PTS
Brendan Morrison	30	26	37	63
Kevin Hilton	38	9	50	59
Jason Botterill	32	30	23	53
John Madden	38	24	28	52
Bill Muckalt	36	23	27	50
Warren Luhning	35	18	27	45

Michigan State University
No. 3 seed

Nickname: Spartans

Record: 28-11-1 (22-7-1 CCHA)
Third place

Career playoff record: 45-12-0
Seven titles

Last season: Lost in CCHA final to LSSU

Current Scoring Leaders

Name	GP	G	A	PTS
Anson Carter	40	23	20	43
Mike Watt	35	16	21	37
Mike York	37	12	25	37
Sean Berens	40	11	25	36
Tony Tuzzolino	39	12	16	28
Richard Keyes	38	13	14	27

JOE

Continued from page eleven.

CCHA semifinals for the second consecutive year.

This season, the Falcons are aiming to continue the progression to the top, a progression that Fry, a junior, has been witness to during his career at BG.

"The first year was good, the second was a little bit better and this year didn't look like it was going to be a better season, but as it turns out, we have more wins this year. I think that's what you look for every season."

DEMONS

Continued from page eleven.

The Falcons will face top seeded Lake Superior this year in the first game Friday. The Lakers, 28-6-2 overall, tied Michigan for first place in the regular season Central Collegiate Hockey Association standings.

And once again BG is closing in on their first NCAA Tournament berth since 1990. But the Falcons want to get an automatic berth this season by winning the CCHA playoffs. They do not want to leave a decision up to the tournament committee, who did not give them an at-large bid last year.

But to do that, the Falcons need to win two games at JLA.

"The best way to assure ourselves a spot is to lock it up this weekend," Clark said. "This year we're playing the best hockey of the year right now, and we're confident we can beat anybody."

Clark said there is a different atmosphere at JLA, but he added that the Falcons have gained experience playing in that kind of atmosphere.

"Everybody that goes idealized it because of the NHL atmosphere," Clark said. "You go in there, and you're playing in their building. It's no big deal, it's just another rink where we play Lake."

The JLA is home to the National Hockey League's Detroit Red Wings and seats 19,275. It will be the largest stadium BG has played in this season.

BG has been battle tested playing in large hostile arena this season. The Falcons dropped a 3-2 game to Minnesota in front of 9,451 at the Mariucci Classic in Minneapolis over Christmas.

Classifieds

CAMPUS EVENTS

***DANCE MARATHON*****

Dance Marathon is this weekend!
March 16-17, 1996
BGSU Rec Center
Admissions is Free
Come support BGSU largest student-run Philanthropy

***DANCE MARATHON*****

*Pre-Physical Therapy Club*
Join us as we travel to MCO for our annual tour! We are meeting at 6:00 p.m. on Wed. March 20. Please RSVP to Megan at 352-1215 by Friday, March 15.

*Pre-Physical Therapy Club*

7 - 10 splits. Try your hand at bowling, cookie decorating, tie dye, eating a banana split and more!
Sibs and Kids Weekend April 12, 13, 14
Join in the Falcon Frenzy!

American Marketing Association

What: Happy Hours
Where: BW-3
When: Friday, March 15th
Time: 5:00 - 7:00pm

DANCE MARATHON * DANCE MARATHON

Congratulations and Good Luck to all THON DANCERS!!!
We're doing it for the Kids!
Nicole Carpenter
Bethany Gadfield
Cynthia Kent
Heather Harvey
Sarah Abruzzi
Erin Braley
Pamela Schumacher
Justina Strickner
Kelly Benedetti
Meghan Harris
Dave Kreienkamp
Tom Hollender
Laura Bezdak
Heather Federle
Tracy Guldig
Nicole Gutowski
Amy Kietzka
Kate Toczynski
Kathryn O'Donnell
Kelly Vance

Matt Rosenberry
Matt Yourkovitch
Colleen Bale
Bridgette Grills
Jennifer Ingrao
Rose Toth
Shannon Williams
Kim Maznik
Kate Matesich
Gerard Iquina
William Stark
Emily Osterling
Jennifer Parisi
Lori Dewitt
Amy Robinson
Allison Shew
Lauren White
Scott Bradach
Thad Doyle
Michael Gould
Matthew Srsen
Wendy Braatz
Krista Larakis
Karen McCann
Sarah Emily-Peterson
Robin Raley
Holly Sewell
Lynette Berkey
Nancy Kerr
Mark Boyer
Joshua Plummer
Jason Armstrong
JP Knapp
Andy Sykes
Christopher Winkelmann
Krisen Bakak
Christy Hibler
Stacey Hollowes
Holly Lehman
Troy Haalinger
James Leaser
Tiffany Good
Molly Mapes
Liberty Miller
Jennifer O'Rourke
Andy Sammut
David Tobin
Stacy Clevenger
Patty Jackson
Gretchen Lowe
Leanna Warren
Tony Attala
Andrew Knight
Douglas Korn
Nigel Robertson
Kevin Boswell
Matthew Holmes
Myles Rahalewicz
Ellie McLaughlin
Chris Lynette
Casey Branham
Michelle Browning
Jennifer Cook
Carrie Fetter
Kevin DeMein
Jenny Marsick
April Lucas
Cynthia Paper
Brooke Collins

Gayle Trueblood
Tim Kilkenny
Jason Buehner
Tony Procalini
Amy Filchowski
Molly B. Geiger

Falcon Frenzy is coming to BGSU!
Sibs n Kids Weekend
April 12, 13, 14
Look for further info!

Fashion Merchandising Association
'Creative Illusions'
Fashion and Design Show
Mar. 15, 6:00 p.m. Grand Ballroom
Free Admission

Help WFAL raise money for The Link.
Support Mark and Dan as they continue their 48 hour broadcast marathon through noon Saturday. Call 372-2418 or stop by the West Hall studio to make your donation. All proceeds go to The Link. Donations are bursable.

Hey Role players and War gamers, Spring Gamesfest '96 is this weekend! Fri. 6 - midnight & Sat. 2 - midnight, 2nd floor Ed. Bldg. Call Eric for details. 353-7510

Join UAO & Be a director!
Director Applications now available in Office of Student Activities (330 Union)
Applicants due by 3/18 at 5pm.
??? call Steve at 2-2343
GREAT EXPERIENCE - CHECK IT OUT!

SHRM Meeting
March 18, 1996
BA 106
7:30 p.m.
Professional Dress
There will be a speaker.

'EVENING IN PARIS II'

Call now to reserve a table for a romantic French dinner on Friday, March 15 from 7 to 10pm at the French House (on campus). $4 includes an appetizer, a homemade dessert, a drink, and a flower! Sponsored by the Great Harvest Bread Co. in Sylvania. Call 372-2671 for reservations.

SCEC
Student Council for Exceptional Children
Welcomes Cynthia Beck
Sunday, March 17, 6-8 p.m. 115 Ed. Bldg.

CITY EVENTS

Attention
All BGSEA Members
Run for a 1996-97 officer position
Pick up officer descriptions and applications in 410 Education.

SERVICES OFFERED

Attention Students!
Check out all the Services
A to Z Data Center can offer you in Friday's T.V. listing.

Pregnant?
Free Pregnancy tests. Confidential and caring. 354-4673 BG Pregnancy Center

SBX * SBX * SBX * SBX
Personalized
Graduation Announcements
48 hour service
Min. Order of 15
Stop in and see us!
353-7732
*SBX * SBX * SBX * SBX

SKYDIVE B.G. SAYS 'JUMP INTO SPRING'
1st Jump classes starting April 6. Student and group discounts. Visa & MC accepted. 10 minutes from BGSU. SKYDIVE B.G. 352-5200

PERSONALS

***Delta Sigma Pi***
Little Tina,
I want you to smile,
Even though you might have to sing awhile.
Because you are the best Little in town,
you will wear the crown!
Big Theresa

"Browster's"
Daily in-house specials
$3.95 9" 1 item pizza + pint
$9.95 12" 1 item pizza + pitcher
$2.50 Bowl of Chili + pint
Free Peanuts & Popcorn
Not Hungry?
$1 pints
Double mix drinks for single price

*SBX * SBX * SBX * SBX*
Personalized
Graduation Announcements
48 hour service
Min. Order 15
Stop in and see us!
353-7732
*SBX * SBX * SBX * SBX

30% off on all clothing
T.O.'s 900 E. Wooster
Across from Kohl Hall.

AGD * AGD * AGD
Alpha Gamma Delta wants to wish everyone the best of luck at Dance Marathon this weekend.
It's going to be awesome!
AGD * AGD * AGD

AMY BANFIELD
Best of luck with the Thon!
We are all behind you!
Love, your Chi Omega Sisters

Attention Spring Breakers!
Last minute specials to Panama City
Cancun
Jamaica
Lowest Price Guaranteed
Endless Summer Tours
1-800-234-7007

Celebrate St. Pat's Day at Brewsters with the BeerCarvers on Saturday. Dress for the occasion $50 goes to best costume. (The more green the better).

Close to the bars and campus
Live in the Painted Lady this summer
3 huge bedrooms
Call Erin at 352-6389

Dance Marathon * Dance Marathon
The Steering Committee would like to thank our advisors, Diana and Katy for their hard work and dedication. We couldn't have done it without you!

DAYTONA BEACH SPRING BREAK!
Break away to the hottest action in Florida where guys meet girls! New motel on the ocean, AAA-rated, beach volleyball, free MTV. Pool and wet bar open 24 hours. Don't be left out of this Special Promotion-Call 1-800-682-0919.

Dear Alpha Chi Omega,
Thank you for all of your support over the last year for Dance Marathon. The cards and words of encouragement you've given make me realize how lucky I am to have such wonderful sisters. A special thanks to my roommates Heather & Karyn for putting up with a million phone messages, and my Alpha Chi family Michelle, Katie, and Erin for putting up with my crazy schedule.
Love in the Bond, Allyson

Delta Sigma Pi

Little Cindi,
Good luck at Groupel!
Know the rose and you'll be fine.

Big Scott
Delta Sigma Pi

Delta Sigma Pi

Grand Lil' Joe
Seven Words
Don't mess up, you're in my family

Greg

continued on p. 14

Try New Grey Poupon Bisto Sauce
At Any Dining Centers

Register To Win...
A Grand Prize of a Limousine Ride,
Dinner at T.G.I. Friday's, and tickets to

The Festival Series

Artist-
Arturo Sandoval
& The Jazz Arts Group

Pick up entry blank at the register.
Drawing on March 20, 1996

THE
PANHELLENIC COUNCIL
AND THE INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

PROUDLY SPONSOR
THE
CHILDREN'S MIRACLE
NETWORK'S

DANCE
MARATHON

MARCH 16TH & 17TH
at the Student Rec Center

The Public is welcome to come & support the dancers & kids!

FUN FUN FUN
Kids, Bands, Speakers

Jeanna Fine
April 25-26-27

Amateur Contest
every Wed at 10pm and the 15th at 6pm

St Patricks Party
Sun March 17th
FREE Admission
with this ad exp 3/23

SHOWGIRLS.
135 S Byrne Rd • Toledo • 531-0079 •
http://www.showgirl.com

Weekend World
Reality

March 15, 1996
Volume 4, Issue 7

"Would you TRUST this magazine?"

Cobain Conspiracy Uncovered!

Net pages of great repute!

Page
Five.
Inside.

We Tried.

outtakes from Swampy's concession speech

Weekend Reality

March 15, 1996

3.

The Bandwagon: The Wagon hitches up in Pittsburgh this week. By Aaron Weisbrod.

4.

Cocktails with: Angela Smith, winner of the Miss BGSU swimsuit competition. By Joe Peiffer.

5.

Net pages: A look into some of the more interesting web sites, from Scooby Doo to OJ and Homer Simpson. By Jim Vickers.

6.

Video killed the Nirvana Star: This is not a joke! A fully documented essay on the assassination of Kurt Cobain. By John Riccardi.

Reality STAFFBOX:

Editor
Senior Writer
Executive Writer
Major Writer
Handyman
Hard-core Writer
Featured Writer
Staff Ace
Able-bodied Writer
Substantial Writer
Enforcer
Serious Writer
Copy Editor
Copy Editor
Copy Editor
Production
Production
Production

Joe Boyle
Joe Peiffer
Jim Vickers
Ryan Honeyman
Robt. Dinsdale
Aaron Weisbrod
Penny Brown
Larry Hannan
Matt Pierce
Tom Denk
Bud Hamilton
Aaron Epple
Anna Wahrman
Tiffany Wendeln
Penny Brown
Alianna Dias
Cathy Raidl
Leah Barnum

WR: PhotoOp

USG Presidential candidate and WR mascot Swampy the Friendly Black Swamp Monster has a word with one of his faithful supporters. Swampy said "Kids are cool. I wish they could vote as students." Swampy lost the general election, but plans on future public appearances.

Swampy concedes defeat

The campaign of favored USG presidential frontrunner Swampy, the friendly Black Swamp Creature ground to a screeching halt at 9:00 this morning.

Swampy claimed he was "not caught off guard" by the results.

"I entered the game late, and didn't have enough time to get a good head of steam behind me," Swampy said. "We had the machinery, we had the grass roots support, but our presence in Greek Living was pitiful."

The swamp creature, who said he entered the race out of a call to duty, alleged that other candidates and "unknown entities" may have hurt his chances to become the first Black Swamp Monster president.

"Many of our signs were torn from their perches by people we believe to be working for an opposing party," the candidate said. "Our witnesses saw shadowy outlines in the dusk tearing our literature." Swampy, in an emotionally distraught state, said the treatment he received from some rollerblading opposition members was less than favorable.

"The rollerblading boy for the Enemy told me to 'show my Swamp Monster and non-Swamp Monster alike. People thought if I was elected, I'd have to make changes to accommodate my special needs [e.g. many humidifiers to recreate his natural environment].

That is ridiculous! Right now, I am one angry Black Swamp Monster."

Swampy said if the vote totals are close enough, he will call for a recall.

"Look, I know I'm not the first place finisher. I should have worn the red flannel shirt. I refuse to finish lower than second," Swampy said.

Swampy's campaign was plagued by the lack of coverage in the media.

"Don't they understand that USG is the most important thing on this campus," he said. "We pass bills, sometimes, and things. I had plans to cut the waste out of USG and lower meeting times to four minutes."

The candidate said he will consider running for president next year and has not ruled out vying for seats in the Graduate Student Senate, Bowling Green City Council and the Wood County Commissioners. He did have one final request.

"Now that I'm out of the race, I throw my delegates to Alan Keyes. Damn it all to hell, I needed this on my resume..."

face.' This is my face. I'm a swamp monster. We're not beautiful to your eyes, but it hurts my feelings nevertheless to have my looks slandered by some preppie scumbag."

The candidate said he was disturbed by the response he got from an opposing candidate.

"They looked at me as if I had six heads," Swampy said. "Some asked why we were staging a campaign. Wh ydo you think? To make this campus accessible for

The Bandwagon

Aaron Weisbrod

Mmmmm.....Hard-core.

That's right boys and girls, straight from good ol' Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania comes Section 3 1 5, one of the hardest hitting groups to ever come from the bad-ass city o' steel.

Now before you roll your eyes and grunt something to the extent of "more metal trash," ask yourself, have you ever honestly heard any true "hard-core" music?

"It's about the stuff people go through every day," Explained Clay Peet, drummer for Section 3 1 5. "It's all real-life stories. We don't make stuff up to sing about."

Joining Clay in the Section 3 1 5 line-up is his brother Todd Peet (vocals), Dan Ford on bass, and brothers Ben and Tim Suto on guitars.

According to Clay the "brother situation" was not, and is not any part of a bizarre or twisted conspiracy.

"Me and Tim were in a band called 'Drop Dead.'" Clay revealed, starting into Section 3 1 5's origin. "Drop Dead broke-up and me and Tim decided to form our own project called Section 3 1 5."

That was two and a half years ago, and since then Section 3 1 5 has been moving full speed ahead.

Since their formation Section 3 1 5 has played gigs with the likes of such bands as Spudmonsters, M.O.D., Shank 456, Pro-Pain, Souls at Zero, and PORN FLAKES. Several of these shows have taken place in Toledo, and Clay bluntly admitted "There's never been a bad crowd in Toledo."

In 1994 Section 3 1 5 released their first CD (which was coincidentally enough titled Drop Dead) on Toledo's own Sin Klub Entertainment label. Tracks included on this 10 song display of rage include "I Answer to No One" and the cult classic "Life Sentence."

The band's sophomore effort is currently in the final stages of preparation, however, and the new CD (titled simply "Section 3 1 5") is due out at the end of March under the Sin Klub Entertainment label. Tracks off this very promising album will include "Another Dead Soldier," "One Step," and the anti-racism anthem "Colorblind" (which is also on the Sin Klub compilation CD "Exposed II: Spreading the Disease").

This Sunday the band will be making the four hour drive to Toledo again, to open the show for Pro-Pain and Crisis.

While on the subject of Toledo, Clay again commented about his enthusiasm of their upcoming Toledo appearance. "We are a LIVE band....When we see people dancing and slamming around and mouthing the words, that sets us off. That's what turns the gears."

Rumors of a Section 3 1 5/PORN FLAKES concert have been circulating here in Northwest Ohio for months now, and although Clay didn't know anything definite yet, he did have some encouraging words for the music listening populace of Toledo:

"Toledo's going to be seeing a lot more of us when the disc comes out."

Mmmmm.....Hard-core.

Aaron Weisbrod is the creator, writer, father, mother, God, and devil of "The Bandwagon." He realizes that the past few bands have been on more of the rock n' roll side of things, but he's got some very diverse stuff coming-up in the next couple of weeks. Honest. Intelligent comments can be sent to aaronw@bgn.net.bgsu.edu or 210 West Hall.

CLAZZ THEATRE
BOOKING OFFICE • 363-1341

Muppet TREASURE ISLAND
Nightly 7:00 Sat Sun Mat 2:00 & 4:00

EMMA THOMPSON
HUGH GRANT
SENSE AND SENSIBILITY
Let your heart and come to your senses.
Nightly 9:15

THE ROOST
Fri. Midnight Only

Pulp Fiction
Sat. Midnight Only
Coming: "Black Sheep"
"From Dusk Till Dawn"

FRIDAY FRIDAY

SEPTEMBER'S CHILDREN
Live Acoustical Guitar

M.T. MUGGS
18 & OVER / UNDER 21: $3 / 21 AND OVER: $2
WOOSTER AVE. BEHIND BEE GEE BOOKSTORE
ALWAYS LOW BEER PRICES
CHECK OUT OUR DAILY FOOD SPECIALS

UPSTAIRS AT

EasyStreet CAFE
104 S. Main 353-0988

The Ark Band
REGGAE

FRIDAY
MARCH 15
TICKETS AT THE DOOR

STARTS AT 10

Cocktails with ...

Miss BG swimsuit winner

JP- How are you today?

MISS BG- Fine

JP- Give me some background on yourself. Why you came to BG, that kind of thing.

MISS BG- well, I'm from Celina, Ohio which is a small town of about 10,000 people south of here, north of Dayton by the Indiana border. I graduated from Celina high school I did cheerleading and softball. In cheerleading we went to nationals in Orlando, Florida. We didn't make on ESPN because we got 12th and only the top 10 make on TV.

JP- You were a mere hair away from ESPN. Wow.

MISS BG- And then I played softball. I was the starting pitcher for 4 years and got player of the year from Western Buckeye Lake and I worked at the gymnastics center in Celina.

JP- Cool. What made you get involved in the Miss BGSU Pageant?

MISS BG- I was in the Miss

Lake Festival Pageant. That was over the summer in Celina

JP- How'd you do?

MISS BG- I got 3rd runner-up and I got $800 for that.

JP- Really? Cool. Think they'd let me in Miss Lake Festival Pageant?

MISS BG- I don't know.

JP- Do they have one for fellas?

MISS BG- No. Its only for girls.

JP- That's cool. Is that your entire pageant resume?

MISS BG- Yea

JP- Would that consist of the same format as Bowling Green's

MISS BG- Yea. Because it was a preemptive to Miss Ohio.

JP- So you could enter into a whole bunch of different things for Miss Ohio and if you win one you get to go?

MISS BG- Yea

JP- Are you planning on entering anymore?

MISS BG- I haven't decided yet. The judges talked to me and the directors said I should enter more because they think I can do good but I haven't decided if I'm going to cause it's a lot of work.

JP- Yea. What kind of preparation goes into doing these things?

MISS BG- Well for me it's different. I did a gymnastics dance so I had to go workout everyday and do my routine and make sure I could make it through the whole way without dying.

JP- right, I tried that the other day, trying to run a mile. Couldn't do it.

MISS BG- And so I get my workout from that. I do my routine, so that keeps me in shape and just practice my interviews.

JP- What kind of stuff do you practice? I got an interview question "There are many starving children in the world. Right now someone is dying. What are you going to do about it?"

MISS BG- Me personally? [long pause] I'd guess I'd just have to say try to tell people to...

JP- Eat?

MISS BG- Not to waste food [Joe laughs] I don't know that's a tough one.

JP- Hey! They aren't all going to be easy ones. What all goes into winning the swimsuit portion of the contest?

MISS BG- All you have to do is put on a swimsuit and walk around look at the judges and smile. I guess they judge you on your poise and your body and how it looks. They don't judge you on your swimsuit. It's really how your body look.

JP- So it doesn't matter what your swimsuit was?

MISS BG- Well, if you get a color that doesn't look good on you that's not going to help you.

JP- Sure. So how did you select your swimsuit?

MISS BG- Well it wasn't really the suit but the suit that I thought would be best my mom actually picked out was fuecha it's like a hot pink or something.

JP- Did they have any restrictions on the suit?

MISS BG- It has to be one piece and it's not supposed to be real high cut but they didn't really say anything at this pageant but mine was more high cut than everyone else's I think in

JP- Think that got you some extra points?

MISS BG- No. the judges told me I'd won bathing suit in the Miss Lake Festival too.

JP- Oh really so you're a two time returning champion in swimsuit?

MISS BG- yea

JP- Is it true what they say about vasoline on the teeth and taping up the nipples and all that stuff that people do?

MISS BG- i never put Vaseline on my teeth cause I never had a problem with smiling some people do that in cheerleading competitions. JP- really?

MISS BG- yea. But no, thats not true [about the pageant]. I think every girl except me and the two other girls from BG taped up their boobs.

JP- Really. What does boobtaping entail?

MISS BG- I don't know I've never done it.

JP- really? well you've got your rumors. What is it?

MISS BG- I saw them doing it. JP- Set the scene for me.

You're in the back room and these girls are taping up their boobs.

MISS BG- Yea I guess so they can look like they have bigger cleavage so they like tape them together. Yea it didn't really matter though.

JP- What would drive someone to do that? Do you think that's really obsessive almost to the point where you like hurt yourself?

MISS BG- Yea cause I think it would hurt and it looks kind of fake.

JP- Well taping your boobs is fake.. I'd say you've always been a woman....

MISS BG- Yea.

JP- Never had an abortion?

MISS BG- No

See, Miss BG, eight

Hours: 6:00 A.M. -Midnight
Monday - Saturday

$2.00 Fare

For Persons 4-64 Years of Age

$1.00 Fare

For Elderly (65+), Handicapped Persons, & Children 4-13 w/ Adult Transit I.D. Card Required*

*Available at Grant's Administrator's Office, 354-6203

Van w/Lift Available: Wheelchair Access & Group Seating

Sunday Service 8:00 A.M. - 4P.M.
RESERVATIONS REQUIRED

FOR RESERVATIONS: 354-6203
(MON. - FRI. 8:00 A.M. - 4:30 P.M.)

Service Area: Bowling Green
Please let driver know how many persons will be riding.

This service is financed in part from an operating assistance grant from ODOT & FTA

B.G. Taxi
352-0796
TTY: 352-1545

Call 1 hour before service is needed.

BGSU Presents:

Federico Garcia Lorca's

Blood Wedding

Translated by Langston Hughes
Adapted by Melia Bensussen

March 13-16 at 8:00 p.m. & March 17 at 2:00 p.m.

Joe E. Brown Theatre
University Hall, First Floor

Call the Box Office at 372-2719 for tickets
Monday-Friday 10-2 & 4-7

CINEMARK THEATRES

CINEMA 5 WOODLAND MAIL
1234 N. Main St. 354-0550

Matinee Sat & Sun Only
BOX OFFICE OPENS
AT 4:35 Mon to Fri

THE BIRD CAGE - R
12:20, 2:50, 5:25, 7:55, 10:25

*HOMEWARD BOUND 2 - G
1:05, 3:10, 5:15, 7:30, 9:35

HAPPY GILMORE - PG 13
12:35, 2:40, 4:55, 7:00, 9:15

DOWN PERISCOPE - PG 13
12:55, 3:00, 5:05, 7:20, 9:45

*EXECUTIVE DECISION - R
1:30, 4:45, 7:40, 10:15

* NO PAIRS • • NO PASSES SUPER SAVERS

A Tangled Web

Putting the top down for an afternoon cruise on the Information Superhighway By Jim Vickers

Just look at it as an educational layover when you find yourself closing that paper for class and clicking on Netscape. With the Yahoo search engine gassed and ready to go you prepare to fill your afternoon visiting several of the mindless web sites that are popping up across our virtual nation like fast-food restaurants. For better, or for worse, these are the results of my afternoon behind the wheel.

John Strong's Shrine to Spam

<http://www.research.umbc.edu/~jstron1/spam.html>

John Strong's shrine to Spam opens with a package of the legendary food product flanked by a pair of stained glass windows. John's Shrine to Spam is described by the author as "but a simple altar, a stopping place of rest on the path to enlightenment." Here visitors can look at the online Spam Magazine or learn interesting facts about the pink food that is "not quite spice, not quite ham." The shrine also features Spam Haikus that have been submitted by visitors to the page. For example: Highly unnatural/ The tortured shape of this "food"/ A small pink coffin.

John Strong looks at the joys of Spam

However, for those who still want more Spam, John has included the address where one can order various Spam paraphernalia and for the very special Spam fan, The Great Taste of Spam Cookbook.

Shrine to Jennifer Anniston

<http://www.gresham.k12.or.us/students/jclemson2/clemson.html>

In today's age of celebrity stalkers it isn't surprising to find a shrine devoted entirely to Friends Jennifer Anniston. It also wasn't very shocking to find out that it consisted of only pictures. Want to know the actresses' interests, her background? Don't look here, John Clements, the guy who's behind this thing, didn't want there to be any words to get in the way of the pictures.

Oh, to be young and online: Anniston Shrine low on text.

The Unofficial O.J. Simpson is Really Guilty Web Site

<http://www.cybercomm.net/~cdonline>

A web page "devoted to the guilt of O.J. Simpson." The creator is quick to point out that, like psychic telephone lines, his O.J. page is for entertainment purposes only. After the disclaimer, however, visitors can jump into several different O.J.-related areas. One can view the police picture of O.J.'s cut on his hand from the "Picture Gallery," or download a "Bronco Chase" screensaver from "O.J. Shareware." The "Trial Sounds" is a good place to relive the nostalgia of Johnny Cochrane's closing argument and the "O.J. Jokes" section is worth a look.

Break on through: Homer 3-D

The Homer Simpson Page

<http://www.interlog.com/~sgl/jeremy/homer.html>

The second-most famous Simpson family in the world also has its share of web pages. In fact, hundreds of people have put together Simpsons web sites to honor the most popular prime-time cartoon since the Flintstones. Even smaller characters like Ralph Wiggum and Apu have entire sites devoted to them. However, I clicked on the one that focused on the patriarch of the Simpson clan.

The biggest appeal of this site is the vast amount of Homer-related material that can be downloaded from it. Hundreds of Homer's most famous quotes, and more than thirty pictures, as well as a dozen short clips from the show can be found on this page.

Designed and maintained by Jeremy Smith, The Homer Simpson Page also has a printable text version of famous Homer quotes, and a Yahoo function that can allow the user to search for sites on other Simpson characters from The Homer Page.

The Chewbacca Home Page

<http://www.ids.net/~mtavares/chewie.html>

The web is rampant with Star Wars sites, and with the upcoming release of the new films, Star Wars popularity seems to remain insured for at least the next twenty years.

Some web sites are full of information concerning the ever-expanding Star Wars universe. The Chewbacca Home Page is not one of these. Consisting mainly of Chewbacca images and sounds, the site serves as an archive honoring

A rarity found at this site is a picture of Chewbacca and family that was taken from a Star Wars Christmas Special that ran on television sometime during the late seventies. Another unique downloadable picture is one of the Chewbacca and Family action figures. (Yes, they really did exist.)

The Boba Fett Home Page

http://www.cedarville.edu/student/s1070235/boba\_fett.htm

Where the Chewbacca Home Page serves as an archive, the Boba Fett home page seems more like one big advertisement for the Star Wars bounty hunter. At this site Star Wars fans can take a look at the new Kenner Boba Fett action figure that "should be in stores right now." Visitors to this page can also take a look at the first eleven pages of an upcoming Boba Fett comic book created by Dark Horse comics. There is also a vast supply of Boba Fett background information available here.

Top Ten Reasons Why Scooby Doo is a Drug Influenced Cartoon

<http://www/duc.auburn.edu/~burgest/scooby.html>

More like a rest stop than an actual web site, this page points out that Scooby and Shaggy always had the munchies, spent a vast amount of time inside the back of the Mystery Machine, and always claimed to see "ghosts" that nobody else ever saw. Coincidence? I think not.

Jim Vickers is a senior journalism major.

What happened

Conspiracy Nation By John Riccardi

You know we live in strange times when a show like the "X-Files" is considered powerful social commentary. "Conspiracy" is the buzzword being whispered from everybody's lips, whether it's the New World Order's black unmarked helicopters in the sky, an alien autopsy in Roswell, New Mexico, or an incident involving an ex-university president. And then there's rock n' roll. Everybody has heard the tales that rock's favorite son, Elvis, is still alive. And everybody has heard the story that rock's favorite bastard, Jim Morrison, faked his own death. But not everybody knows the story that rock's favorite flannel-wearing slacker, Kurt Cobain, was murdered.

On April 8, 1994, people across the country were shocked and saddened to hear that Nirvana frontman Kurt Cobain had taken his own life. But while citizens of the MTV nation flew their flannel at half-mast over their loss, one man was contemplating his employment. Tom Grant, a Beverly Hills, CA private investigator, thought he was out of a job.

Grant had been hired by Cobain's wife, Hole frontwoman Courtney Love, just five days earlier. Cobain had disappeared from the Exodus Recovery Center in Marina del Rey, where he had been undergoing rehab treatment. Grant was supposed to find him.

But Cobain's death seemingly solved Grant's case for him. As the police report described, Cobain had shot up with heroin and then shot himself in the head with a blast from a shotgun, leaving behind a suicide note addressed to his wife and child. Case closed.

Grant wasn't so sure.

A month after Cobain's body was discovered, Grant wrote Love a letter notifying her that he thought the details surrounding her husband's death were "highly suspicious."

Grant continued his investigation for the next eight months, finally arriving at an astonishing conclusion:

"A conspiracy resulted in the murder of Kurt Cobain."

Grant says he was misled from the first day of the case. He says Love hired him under false pretenses, telling him first that someone was using Cobain's missing credit card and she needed him to track it down, but later admitting she actually wanted him to locate Cobain. Love also told Grant that Cobain "may have gone to Seattle" when in fact Love knew that Cobain had been spotted in divorce Love and bow out of the music business. He divorce. However, Love might have had the impression that her marriage to Cobain was forever.

"Marriage is a very sacred institution, and it needs to be respected," Love said in an interview after Cobain died. "I'm sick of divorces."

On March 4, just one month prior to his death, Cobain had lapsed into a coma in Rome after ingesting champagne and around 50 capsules of Seattle the day before she hired Grant. And when Grant finally did arrive in Seattle on April 6, Dylan Carlson, a childhood friend and alleged drug buddy of Cobain's, showed Grant the entire Cobain estate except for the room that Cobain was later found dead in. Medical examiners place the day of Cobain's death around April 5.

And the details at the death scene don't match up with the police's open-and-shut suicide case. According to medical reports, Cobain had traces of Valium and three times the lethal dose of heroin in his system at the time of his death. That fact is not entirely suspicious in and of itself; after all, Cobain was a junkie, and it is likely he would have wanted to experience nirvana one last time before kissing off. However, it isn't likely that Cobain would have been able to shoot that much junk in one arm, then the other, and still be functional enough to neatly put his works away and then manipulate a shotgun — especially when you consider he was already strung out on Valium.

But who would kill Kurt? And why?

Courtney Love wanted him dead.

Cobain was planning to had already consulted Rosemary Carroll, one of the couple's attorneys, regarding having Love taken out of his will. Cobain also had already announced in the Los Angeles Times that Nirvana would not headline the 1994 Lollapalooza tour.

But could Love have really been upset enough about the impending divorce to be moved to murder? Her father, Hank Harrison, apparently thinks so.

"I know for a fact that he was trying to divorce her and she didn't want the divorce, so she had him killed or knew it was going to happen," Harrison said in a recent interview. "There is no doubt in my mind that Kurt Cobain was murdered."

Harrison, who is the author of two books about the Grateful Dead, is no stranger to the world of rock, but claims that he met Love under surprising circumstances in San Francisco in the fall of 1993.

"Courtney was — and I'm sure of this because I saw it with my own eyes — having an affair with [Lemonheads frontman] Evan Dando. He and Courtney were sleeping together in the same bed."

Open infidelities like this one possibly served as Cobain's grounds for a Rohypnol, a Valium-like prescription drug available only overseas. A note was found in his room. Reports of an attempted suicide flooded the media. But the note wasn't a suicide note — it was a disappearance note. It said he was taking all of the couple's money and leaving, according to an article in the June 1994 issue of Rolling Stone.

"He's not going to get away from me that easily," Love said of the Rome incident. "I'll follow him through hell."

Love asked Cobain to have some of his sperm frozen after they returned from Rome. Cobain refused, taking it as a joke, but apparently Love was already planning on having kids after Cobain died.

"[I want more kids] too," she said in the August 1995 issue of Interview magazine. "I don't even want the dad. I've got the perfect situation, I've got the money. You give me your sperm. Fuck it."

On April 7, emergency medical crews in Seattle responded to a possible drug overdose at the Peninsula Hotel. There, they found Love with Hole guitarist Eric Erlandson. Love had apparently phoned the lobby desk earlier, reporting that she was having an allergic reaction to a medication (later found to be Xanax)

to Kurt Cobain?

and she needed emergency treatment. Love was O.K., but the incident got her arrested for possession of narcotics and possession of stolen property. It was later reported that the narcotics in question were in actuality an herbal potion, and the stolen property was a prescription pad left in her room by her psychiatrist. Love left for Los Angeles to check into rehab, telling KIRO Television before she left that she wanted Nirvana fans to know that drugs didn't solve anything. Conveniently, Cobain would be found dead the next day, and the media would emphasize the role of drugs in his death.

In April of 1994, Melody Maker reported that Carlson found Cobain's death a complete surprise. Carlson said he never had any knowledge of Cobain's previous suicide attempts, and had no idea that the coma in Rome might have been intentional. But in June, Carlson was singing a different tune — Cobain had confided that the coma in Rome had been a suicide attempt, he told Rolling Stone. Furthermore, Carlson had bought the shotgun used in Cobain's death for him, because Cobain was afraid the police would come take it away if he bought it in his name. Carlson claimed he thought nothing of the purchase — he told Melody Maker he and Cobain "used to go shooting together." But in an unrelated interview, Love said that Cobain "never went shooting."

And then there's El Duce, frontman for Hollywood's premiere porn-metal outfit, the Mentors. He claims that Love offered him $50,000 to kill Cobain in a meeting outside of the Rock Shop, a record store in Hollywood, at the end of 1993. The store's manager, Karush Sepedjian, not only corroborates El Duce's story, but claims that Love contacted him while looking for El Duce ten days prior to the discovery of Cobain's body.

When Cobain had left Exodus, the first place he went was to his and Love's summer home outside of Carnation, Seattle. Police

What about the suicide note? According to Grant, the suicide note wasn't addressed to Courtney and daughter Frances as the police report claims. Furthermore, it doesn't mention anything about suicide. What faking it and pretending as if I was having 100 percent fun. Sometimes I feel as if I should have a punch-in time clock before I walk out on stage. I'm too much of an erratic moody person that I don't have the passion anymore. So remember, it's better to burn out than to fade away."

But Cobain wasn't referring to suicide, he was addressing his fans — the note was to be part of a press release declaring his retirement from the music business. The last sentence of the note is a quote taken from a Neil Young song, "Hey Hey, My My (Into the Black). The song philosophizes about the establishment of rock music and the idea of quitting while you're ahead. And Cobain had no desire to follow the path of geriatric rockers like the Rolling Stones and the Who. The Young quote was Cobain's way of justifying his retirement in terms his fans could understand.

And now consider this: Cobain is in rehab when someone tips him off that Love is out to get him. With the aid of his tipster, Cobain leaves rehab and heads to Seattle, hiding out for a night at his summer home with his companion. While there he is convinced that now is the time to go underground, and he writes out his retirement note. He makes plans to leave Seattle, possibly by flight, and they go to his estate the next day for some personal things. Cobain takes some Valium to calm his nerves — he's getting paranoid — and decides to hide in an infrequently-used room over his garage while waiting to leave. And there, he and his companion shoot up while biding time. But it's a set up — Love arranged the whole thing — his ally is in fact Love's accomplice. Cobain, now drugged up beyond comprehension, can only hazily look on as his shotgun is propped in his arms and the trigger is fired. The room is tidied up and Cobain's retirement note is smartly placed in proximity to his body.

Meanwhile, Love has hired a private investigator to investigate Cobain's disappearance. He won't

See, COBAIN, eight

Courtney Love and her father enjoy a tender moment.

found fresh tire tracks from his Volvo there and a sleeping bag inside the house. But the most disturbing evidence there suggests that someone was with Cobain at the house. An ashtray found inside was filled with fresh cigarette butts — some were Cobain's brand, and some were not. Cobain had been with someone during the final hours of his life.

the note does contain are several apologies from Cobain to his fans.

"I haven't felt excitement in listening to as well as creating music for too many years now," his note reads. "I feel guilty beyond words about these things. The fact is, I can't fool you, any of you. It simply isn't fair to you or me. The worst crime I can think of would be to put people off by

From, Cobain, seven

find anything — he's been fed a lot of red herrings. However, Grant starts to uncover suspicious evidence regarding Cobain's death and Love decides she'll keep him on her payroll in case he uncovers anything incriminating. That way, she'll be alerted to any loose ends, giving her an opportunity to cover her tracks.

It was a perfect crime — after all, Cobain was predisposed to suicide — he wrote about it, talked about it, and supposedly attempted it before. Who would even raise an eyebrow when he was found dead under these circumstances barely a month later?

But who did it? Who would Cobain have trusted enough to let his guard down around?

No Dylan Carlson — he's the Kato of this caper.

No, it was someone from Love's inner camp. Someone familiar enough with both Love and Cobain, a person who could go to Cobain with a story about Love's designs for his murder and would be believable. Someone who could tell Cobain that Love was going too far, and that they had to go underground before it was too late. Someone who Cobain had shot up with before, and would fix with again without suspicion. Someone from the band Hole.

Hole bass player Kristen Pfaff was found in the bathroom of her Seattle home, dead from an apparent heroin overdose, on June 16. Oddly enough, Pfaff had been out of the country, touring with Janitor Joe, the Minneapolis-based band she had played in before Hole. Pfaff had left on tour just after Cobain's death and had been in Europe during most of the investigation. After the tour, Pfaff made plans to move back to Minneapolis. When she was found dead, a rented U-Haul waited outside her home, already loaded with her belongings. She had only been in Seattle for three days.

Just weeks before Pfaff's death, while Pfaff was out of the country, Love asked an Us interviewer if he knew she was reforming her band. "Did Kat (Bjelland, of Babes in Toyland) tell you she's going to play in my new band?" she asked. Maybe not unusual considering Pfaff was off in Europe playing with her former band, but according to an article in Vanity Fair, Love had plans to get rid of Pfaff as early as 1992.

Is Love diabolical enough to have planned and pulled off such a plot? Her father thinks so — he acknowledges that she is hyper-intelligent. "She's totally fucking intelligent," he said. "She thinks on six or seven levels at once." And a source close to Nirvana admitted the group and surrounding personnel were wary of Love from the beginning. "Courtney always has a hidden agenda, and Kurt doesn't," the source said in Vanity Fair, just after the couple's marriage. "He's definitely being led."

She had the motives — the divorce and the expulsion from Cobain's will were plenty, especially if they would hurt the sales of her upcoming album, the far-too-aptly titled "Live Through This."

"Now I get a chance to prove myself," Love said of the upcoming release. "If I don't — hey, I married a rich man."

And then there was her jealousy of Cobain's success and talent, which she admitted in several interviews. "I was going to be the more famous of the two of us," she said in one interview. In another she stated that she purposely outdid her husband when Hole got signed to Geffen Records, the same label as

Nirvana. "I got excellent, excellent contractual things," she said of the signing. "I made them pull out Nirvana's contract, and everything there, I wanted more."

Love had all of these reasons, and the timing was definitely there — Cobain had the Rome coma behind him, and another domestic dispute on March 18 when police found him locked in a room with a .38 threatening to kill himself. And his retirement gave Love a cover for his suicide.

And of course, with Cobain dead, Love is laughing all the way to the bank, cashing in on his "Penny Royalties."

This article was written with information compiled from the following sources:

Vanity Fair, Sept. '92; Us, Aug. '94; American Journalism Review, June '94; Melody Maker, April 23, '94; Newsweek, April 25, '94; Spin, Dec. '95; Interview, Aug. '95; High Times, April '96; Rolling Stone, June 2, '94; Rolling Stone, Aug 11, '94; Rolling Stone, Dec. 15, '94.

John Riccardi has a summer internship copy editing for the Unabomber. He thinks the X-files is for wimps. Conspiracy-Nation will be featured weekly in WR. Contact him at jriccar@bgnet.edu.

From Cocktails..., page four

JP-Why do you think they should base a scholarship with those kinds of questions? Do you think its right they use those question to weed people out?

MISS BG-[loong pause] Sort of because of Miss America. It all leads up to that. Everybody in the pageant is supposed to be a role model so yeah.

JP-So you think that destroys a role model if you do something like that.

MISS BG-No. Not really but if people know .....its always in the backs of there minds

JP-You think it makes them not as good as a person?

MISS BG-No

JP-Well then, you'd still be able to be a good role model then wouldn't you?

MISS BG-Yea but I think it's in the back of their minds and they'll be like "oh well she did this" or something. Not the Miss America but Miss BG is supposed to be perfect. JP-It seems like holding them up to their tests of morality and why should that be done when that stuff's legal?

MISS BG-I think those questions are kind of retarded though to sign that form.

JP-So you would not like to see that?

MISS BG-Yea, I don't think they should ask it.

Joe Peiffer is the Senior Writer for Weekend Reality and Swampy's campaign manager. He would like to thank Swampy for his confidence during these trying times.

UPSTAIRS PT

EasyStreet CAFE

104 S. Main 353-0988

SATURDAY

March 16, 1996

Tickets Available at door

STARTS AT 10:00

SALES TEAM OF THE WEEK

Jen Palek

&

Tracy Stoll

WAY TO GO!!

FRIDAY AFTERNOON
11:30	12:00	12:30	1:00	1:30	2:00	2:30	3:00	3:30	4:00	4:30	5:00	5:30
BROADCAST STATIONS
11	(11:00) Price Is Right X	College Basketball: NCAA Tournament First Round Game - Teams To Be Announced (Live) X					College Basketball: NCAA Tournament First Round Game - Teams To Be Announced (Live) X				News X
13	(11:00) Mike & Mely X	News HI	The City (In Stereo) X	All My Children X	One Life to Live X		General Hospital X			Rick Lake Reality Show (Live) X	News X	Cheers (In Stereo) X
24	(1:00) Lucas	Real Life		Days of Our Lives X	Another World X		Fresh Prince of Bel-Air (In Stereo) X	Blossom "All in the Movies" X	Baywatch 'In Deep' (In Stereo) X		Montel Williams Kids (Narrated by Parents) X
27	American Vacations	Today's Life Choices	Instructional Programming
30	Sesame Street X		Instructional Programming	Bill Nye the Science Guy	Instructional	Barney & Friends X
36	Who's the Boss? X	Gonzo's Daughters of Hollywood Legends (F)	Gordon Elliott: Tens Proud to be Gay (R)		Doogie Howser		Fine Mania (In Stereo) X	Eck!stravaganza X	Batman and Robin	Aladdin (In Stereo) X	Fall House (Narrated by) X
47	(1:00) Jerry Springer	Fall Program	LAPD (In Stereo) X	Movie: 4x4 "The Night Has Eyes" (1942) A frightening discovery awaits a woman on the water.	James Mason: A frightening discovery awaits a woman on the water.		Goat Troop (In Stereo) X	Bankers (In Stereo) X	Aladdin (In Stereo) X	Goosebumps X	Dinosaurs (In Stereo) X	Paid Program
50	Empty Nest (In Stereo) X	Corch (In Stereo) X	Little House on the Prairie: "I'll Ride For You"	Bewitched	Flintstones	Gool Troop (In Stereo) X	Faz-Mama (In Stereo) X	Eck!stravaganza X	Batman and Robin	Goosebumps X	Forth Price of an Air X	Step by Step (In Stereo) X
CABLE STATIONS
COM	Garry Shandling Politically Incorrect	Saturday Night Live Host: Sean Penn, Musiq U.L. Cool 2		Benny Hill				Movie: 4x4 "Paul in '88 High School Faves" (1993) A student and his rock band set out to eradicate the school's Senior PGA Golf Tournament. (Live) X			A-List (R) X	Kids in the Hall
ESPN	(1:00) Sportscenter		Renata Alti: Championships in California X	Men's Dentures: First				Senior PGA Golf Tournament: First Round. (Live) X			Sportscenter: Men's Tournament, NCAA results X
HBO	(11:00) Movie: 4x4 "Who's the Boss?" (1994, Comedy) Joe Papp. PG-13 (M)		Movie: 4x4 "Zero and Pad 6" (1987, Comedy) Bill Cosby. (In Stereo) PG X				Movie: 4x4 "Steel Dawn" (1987) Set of old-school western about a man and a woman partner. PG X			Eagle Scoop X	Movie: 4x4 "Cryogenic Women" (1984) PG
SC	Soccer Highlights	NCAA Preview	Shing USA	Skating: U.S. Pro Tour	Sliding	Thoroughbred World	Transworld Sport	Great Sports Vacations	Journal	Spiritual Health	Sports Illustrated
SCI FI	Dark Shadows	Movie: "The Magician" (1937) A magician uses his skills to fall in love with a witch.	Tales From the Dark Side	Night Gallery	Ray Bradbury	Ballroom Galactica: From Space	Incredible Hulk	Biopic: Warren	Biopic: Warren	Kill Oscar (Part 2) (F)
USA	(11:00) Magnum, P.I.	Guantanamo Leap: Moments in Love - May 4, 1965 X	Live With the People's Court		Live With Love Connection		PGA Golf: Bill Hill in National Canada PGA (Live) X			Soccer Round From

Next Week:

We're open to suggestions... Any ideas, give us a call, 372-6967

FRIDAY EVENING
6:00	6:30	7:00	7:30	8:00	8:30	9:00	9:30	10:00	10:30	11:00	11:30	12:00	12:30
BROADCAST STATIONS
11	News X	CBS News	Wheel of Fortune X	College Basketball: NCAA Tournament First Round Game - Teams To Be Announced (Live) X				College Basketball: NCAA Tournament First Round Game - Teams To Be Announced (Live) X			News X
13	News X	ABC Mid News	Ent Tonight	Hard Copy X	Family Matters X	Muppets Tonight X	Aliens in the Family	Step by Step X	20/20 X	News X	Highline 10	Cheers (In Stereo) X	Tempest
24	News	JBC News	Cops (In Stereo) X	Most Wanted	Involuntarily (In Stereo) X	DateLine (In Stereo) X		Homicide: Life on the Street: "Slakout" X	M*A*S*H X	"Tonight Show (In Stereo) X		Late Night (In Stereo) X
27	Freesh in Action	Business Report	NewsHour With Jim Lehrer X	Washington Week	Washington Week	Washington Week	Yanni in Concert: Live at the Acropolis (In Stereo) X		Adena Smith	"Top of the Evening		(Off Air)
30	NewsHour With Jim Lehrer X	TechnoPolitics	McLaughlin Group	Washington Week	Washington Week	Washington Week	Marvin Haskick & the Piraburg: Pops (In Stereo) X		Bong Seered	"This is America		(Off Air)
36	Home Improve.	Saysas (In Stereo) X	Seinfeld: "The Pin"	Coach (In Stereo) X	Sliders: "C" as in the "S" (In Stereo) X	X-Files: "Maggie" (F) (In Stereo) X		News X	Roseanne (In Stereo) X	Sta. Trk: The Next Generation "Houston" X		Night Court
47	Northern Exposure: "A Boat From the Blue" (R)	Top Cops (In Stereo) X	Rescue 911 (In Stereo) X	Movie				Comedy Showcase (In Stereo) X	Queb Linbaugh	Roadway Patrol	Press Box	Paid Program
50	Simpsons (In Stereo) X	Roseanne (In Stereo) X	Home Improve.	NBA Basketball: Cleveland Cavaliers at Detroit Pistons. From the Palace of Auburn Hills. (Live)				News	Wayne Brown X	Married... With	Star Trek: The Next Generation "Horowitz"
CABLE STATIONS
CON	Bits Rather Special No. 1 (F)	BBC	Elyse Bosser: Top Torante (R)	Poundstone	Brett Butler	Movie: 4x4 "Gilda Live" (1988, Comedy) Girls Rain: Gilda Fisher's reputation as a crazy character.		Politically incorrect	Saturday Night Live: Denny Davis. Highlights.		Dream On
ESPN	Up Close	Sportscenter: NCAA Special	Road to Indy	NBA Bowling: Gauder Alby Sencer vs. David Watson and John Ruz. (Live)	Billards: World Open Pro: "C" as in the "S" (In Stereo) X	Extreme Bloopers		Sportscenter X		Speedweek	Sportscenter
HBO	(5:00) Movie: 4x4 "Who's the Boss?" (1994, Comedy) Joe Papp. PG-13 (M)	Movie: 4x4 "Lucky Man" (1985) A former pilot and his enemy take to the air. PG-13		Movie: 4x4 "Gilda Live" (1988, Comedy) Girls Rain: Gilda Fisher's reputation as a crazy character.	Boating: Andrew Siskiers (Dustin) Nichols and Robert Hays vs. David Watson and John Ruz. (Live) X		Dennis Miller X	Dream On (In Stereo) X	Comedy Jan
SC	Tenite	Buckeye Race	Cross Fast Break	NBA Basketball: Cleveland Cavaliers at Detroit Pistons. From the Palace of Auburn Hills. (Live)	Scoreboard Central	Ball League: Soccer Highlights		Coach Rick Pitino	Cook Final Hour: Cooks at 15:00
SCI FI	Six Million Dollar Man: "A Biopic Chronology Card"	Twilight Zone: "C-Net Central"	Night Stalker: A military robot learns on its creator.	Mystery Magic	Sci-Fi Buz	Ark: Gravity	Inside Space	Twilight Zone: "C-Net Central" (F)	C-Net Central (F)	Night Stalker: A military robot learns on its creator.
USA	Remegade: "Walt Pickel Forces" (In Stereo) X	Wings (In Stereo) X	Wings (In Stereo) X	Healing the Hate X		Movie: 4x4 "Maternal Instincts" (1988) An attorney's hysterical plunge as a woman kid naps. X		Duckman (In Stereo) X	Movie: 4x4 "Cryogenic Women" (1984, Comedy) Loran Hutton, Jim Carrey.

Swampy wants to thank the miniscule percentage of voters who turned out for him

SATURDAY MORNING
5:00	5:30	6:00	6:30	7:00	7:30	8:00	8:30	9:00	9:30	10:00	10:30	11:00
BROADCAST STATIONS
11	(3:00) Home Shopping Spree	Benkin's World X	Really Wild Animals X	Agricountry	Readline News	News (F)			Zoo Today	Storm Report	Good Fishing
13	(4:30) Donahue X	Paid Program	U.S. Farm Report	News for Kids	Animal Adventures	Winnie the Pooh	Free Willy (In Stereo) X	Bump in the Night X	Fudge (In Stereo) X	Hypocrits (In Stereo) X	Richard in Stereo X	Bugs Bunny & Tweety X
24	Positive Response	Used Cars	Rock News (In Stereo) X	Gladators 2000	Today Spring	Dominique Dawes. (In Stereo) X		Bill Nye the Science Guy	Sing Me a Story (F) X	Saved by Bell	Hang Time (In Stereo) X	Saved by Bell
27	(Off Air)				Michigan	Furniture on the Mind	Internet (In Stereo) X	Computer Chronicles	Simply Polating	Joy of Painting	Mollie Katzen	Racine Adams
30	(Off Air)				Kidzsong (F) (In Stereo) X	Shining Time Station	Barney & Friends X	Puzzle Piece (In Stereo) X	Lan's Chop	Mister Rogers X	In the Wild (F) (In Stereo) X	Part 1 of 3 X
36	(Off Air)	Iron Man (In Stereo) X	Fantastic Four	Baby Huey	Monster Mania	Mega Man	Curious George	Casper (In Stereo) X	Power Rangers	Masked Rider X	Spider-Man (In Stereo) X	X-Men (F) (In Stereo) X	Tick (In Stereo) X
47	(4:00) Movie: 4x4 "Nightmare Castle" (1985)	Princess Gwaine	Skylanders Strike Force	Ultraknack (In Stereo) X	Street Sharks	Blair Rice From Mars	Iron Man (In Stereo) X	Fantastic Four	Paid Program	Paid Program	Paid Program	Midwest Outdoors
50	Paid Program	Straight Talk (F)	Far Away People	Sing Me a Story (F) X	Jolly Bean (F) X	Carnegie Science	Casper (In Stereo) X	Power Rangers	Masked Rider X	Spider-Man (In Stereo) X	X-Men (In Stereo) X	Tick (In Stereo) X
CABLE STATIONS
COM	Paid Program	Paid Program	Paid Program	Paid Program	Saturday Night Live	Duck Factory	Senny Hill		Movie: 4x4 "Who's the Boss?" (1987) Bar Abdul. Bud and Lou become champions at a paper 'n' drink event.		Margaret Cho (F)
ESPN	Facehorse Digest (F)	Great Outdoors	Sportscenter's Challenge	Sportscenter (F)	Fatin' Hole	Jim Houston	Fly Fishing the World	Salt Water Journal	Walker's Cay	Sportscenter	Auto Racing of Lincoln X	MSA 17 Hrs
HBO	(4:00) Movie: 4x4 "Indiana Jones and the Temple of Doom" (1984) A descendant of the famed magicians battles evil. PG-13	Movie: 4x4 "Satan's School" (1993) Nada Cameron A young descendant of the famed magicians battles evil. PG-13		World Championship Wrestling (F)	Powerlifter	Outdoor Gazette	Outdoor Ecoasters	Links Illustrated	Sports 101		Girls HS Basketball
SC	College Hockey: Hockey East Semifinal	Primo Cuts (F)	Hockey Week (F)	World Championship Wrestling (F)
SCI FI	Paid Program	Paid Program	Paid Program	Paid Program	Paid Program	Paid Program	Paid Program	Paid Program	Movie: 4x4 "Back to Back Perfect Collector" (1993) An autistic Acyborg speeds to his city of crime.		Anti Gravity Room
USA	(3:30) Movie: "AR-15" X	Bloomberg TV	Bloomberg TV	Bloomberg TV	Paid Program	Paid Program	Paid Program	Paid Program	Paid Program	K-Net Central	World Wrestling Federation News	Street Fighter X

BETTER THAN A STANDARD LOAN
...BETTER THAN A LEASE

CLASS
CITY
FEDERAL CREDIT UNION

PAYMENT SHAVER LOAN

How does shaving 20% or more off of your monthly car payment sound? If you're looking for lower monthly payments, and can't find the right price through conventional financing, then Payment Shaver's for you!

- Less Money
- Less Hassles
- More Mileage
- More Flexibility
- Rates as low as 8.75%* APR up to 6 mo. to repay

For more information, contact:
Lou Ann Hoiles or Angie Crego
1155 N. Main St.
Bowling Green, Ohio
419-352-0787

* 8.75% APR for those members holding active checking and visa accounts with Glass City Federal otherwise, rate is 9.25%. APR denotes Annual Percentage Rate.

BGSU Children's Miracle Network
DANCE MARATHON
benefiting children's services of MCO

March 16th at 10 am through
March 17th at 6 pm
BGSU Student Recreation Center

SATURDAY AFTERNOON		11:30	12:00	12:30	1:00	1:30	2:00	2:30	3:00	3:30	4:00	4:30	5:00	5:30
BROADCAST STATIONS
11	College Basketball NCAA Tournament Second Round Game - Teams To Be Announced. (Live)	18	College Basketball NCAA Tournament Second Round Game - Teams To Be Announced. (Live)	24	College Basketball NCAA Tournament Second Round Game - Teams To Be Announced. (Live)	27	College Basketball NCAA Tournament Second Round Game - Teams To Be Announced. (Live)	30	College Basketball NCAA Tournament Second Round Game - Teams To Be Announced. (Live)	33	College Basketball NCAA Tournament Second Round Game - Teams To Be Announced. (Live)	41	College Basketball NCAA Tournament Second Round Game - Teams To Be Announced. (Live)	50	College Basketball NCAA Tournament Second Round Game - Teams To Be Announced. (Live)
CABLE STATIONS
COM	Dr. Katz, Therapist	2	The Critic	5	Garry Shandling	8	Benny Hill	11	Movie: "Rock 'n' Roll High School Forever" (1990) A student and her rock band set out to eradicate the Lincoln High School. (R)	14	Absolutely Fabulous (F)	17	French and Saunders	20	Mystery Science Theater 3000 "The Brain Man" (R)
ESPN	Auto Racing	3	Track and Field NCAA Indoor Championships From Indianapolis	6	Tennis, ATP - Championships Cup - Women's Final, From Indian Wells, Calif. (Live)	9	Tennis, ATP - Championships Cup - Women's Final, From Indian Wells, Calif. (Live)	12	Tennis, ATP - Championships Cup - Women's Final, From Indian Wells, Calif. (Live)	15	Final Four	18	Yachting: Expedition Antarctica I	21	Senior PGA Golf
HBO	Movie: "Back to Back" (1994, Drama) A boxer tries to win a fight to pay for his mother's medical bills. (R)	4	Movie: "Back to Back" (1994, Drama) A boxer tries to win a fight to pay for his mother's medical bills. (R)	7	Movie: "Back to Back" (1994, Drama) A boxer tries to win a fight to pay for his mother's medical bills. (R)	10	Movie: "Back to Back" (1994, Drama) A boxer tries to win a fight to pay for his mother's medical bills. (R)	13	Movie: "Back to Back" (1994, Drama) A boxer tries to win a fight to pay for his mother's medical bills. (R)	16	Movie: "Back to Back" (1994, Drama) A boxer tries to win a fight to pay for his mother's medical bills. (R)	19	Movie: "Back to Back" (1994, Drama) A boxer tries to win a fight to pay for his mother's medical bills. (R)	22	Movie: "Back to Back" (1994, Drama) A boxer tries to win a fight to pay for his mother's medical bills. (R)
SC	Girls High School Basketball	1	This is the PGA Tour	4	Tribe TV	7	Girls High School Basketball OHSAA Division IV Championship (Live)	10	Scoreboard Central	13	HL Hockey: Orlando Solar Bears at Cincinnati Cyclones (Live)	16	Girls High School Basketball OHSAA Division IV Championship (Live)	19	Scoreboard Central
SCI FI	Oracula	2	My Secret Identity	5	My Secret Identity	8	Swamp Thing II	11	Swamp Thing II	14	Movie: "The Final Countdown" (1980, Drama) A cruise ship is trapped in a time warp. (R)	17	Movie: "The Final Countdown" (1980, Drama) A cruise ship is trapped in a time warp. (R)	20	Movie: "The Final Countdown" (1980, Drama) A cruise ship is trapped in a time warp. (R)
USA	Exosquad (In Stereo)	3	Street Fighter X	6	Savage Dragon X	9	Pacific Blue "Fert Shoff" (R) (In Stereo)	12	Pacific Blue "Fert Shoff" (R) (In Stereo)	15	Movie: "The Final Countdown" (1980, Drama) A cruise ship is trapped in a time warp. (R)	18	Movie: "The Final Countdown" (1980, Drama) A cruise ship is trapped in a time warp. (R)	21	Movie: "The Final Countdown" (1980, Drama) A cruise ship is trapped in a time warp. (R)

SATURDAY EVENING		6:00	6:30	7:00	7:30	8:00	8:30	9:00	9:30	10:00	10:30	11:00	11:30	12:00	12:30
BROADCAST STATIONS
11	College Basketball	18	College Basketball NCAA Tournament Second Round Game - Teams To Be Announced. (Live)	24	College Basketball NCAA Tournament Second Round Game - Teams To Be Announced. (Live)	27	College Basketball NCAA Tournament Second Round Game - Teams To Be Announced. (Live)	30	College Basketball NCAA Tournament Second Round Game - Teams To Be Announced. (Live)	33	College Basketball NCAA Tournament Second Round Game - Teams To Be Announced. (Live)	41	College Basketball NCAA Tournament Second Round Game - Teams To Be Announced. (Live)	50	College Basketball NCAA Tournament Second Round Game - Teams To Be Announced. (Live)
CABLE STATIONS
COM	3:30 Mystery Science Theater 3000 (R)	2	Dr. Katz, Therapist	5	The Critic	8	A-List (R)	11	Comic Justice (R)	14	Movie: "The Final Countdown" (1980, Drama) A cruise ship is trapped in a time warp. (R)	17	Movie: "The Final Countdown" (1980, Drama) A cruise ship is trapped in a time warp. (R)	20	Movie: "The Final Countdown" (1980, Drama) A cruise ship is trapped in a time warp. (R)
ESPN	Senior PGA Golf: Toshiba Senior Classic	3	SportsCenter	6	Boxing USA Team Eastern Qualifier From Atlantic City, NJ	9	NCAA 64 in Sweet 16	12	Auto Racing: USA 12 Hrs. of Endurance	15	Sportscenter X	18	NCAA Women	21	Wm. Basketball
HBO	Movie: "The Phantom of the Opera" (1989, Musical) An egoistic law student becomes the target of assassins. (R)	4	Movie: "The Phantom of the Opera" (1989, Musical) An egoistic law student becomes the target of assassins. (R)	7	Movie: "The Phantom of the Opera" (1989, Musical) An egoistic law student becomes the target of assassins. (R)	10	Movie: "The Phantom of the Opera" (1989, Musical) An egoistic law student becomes the target of assassins. (R)	13	Movie: "The Phantom of the Opera" (1989, Musical) An egoistic law student becomes the target of assassins. (R)	16	Movie: "The Phantom of the Opera" (1989, Musical) An egoistic law student becomes the target of assassins. (R)	19	Movie: "The Phantom of the Opera" (1989, Musical) An egoistic law student becomes the target of assassins. (R)	22	Movie: "The Phantom of the Opera" (1989, Musical) An egoistic law student becomes the target of assassins. (R)
SC	HL Hockey: Chicago Blackhawks at Cincinnati Cyclones (Live)	1	Fairgrounds Race	4	Rocky Race	7	Through the Eyes of a Child	10	Scoreboard Central	13	Girls High School Basketball OHSAA Division II Championship (Live)	16	Scoreboard Central	19	Girls High School Basketball OHSAA Division II Championship (Live)
SCI FI	Movie: "The Final Countdown" (1980, Drama) A cruise ship is trapped in a time warp. (R)	2	Twilight Zone X	5	Monsters	8	Movie: "The Final Countdown" (1980, Drama) A cruise ship is trapped in a time warp. (R)	11	Movie: "The Final Countdown" (1980, Drama) A cruise ship is trapped in a time warp. (R)	14	Movie: "The Final Countdown" (1980, Drama) A cruise ship is trapped in a time warp. (R)	17	Movie: "The Final Countdown" (1980, Drama) A cruise ship is trapped in a time warp. (R)	20	Movie: "The Final Countdown" (1980, Drama) A cruise ship is trapped in a time warp. (R)
USA	Movie: "The Final Countdown" (1980, Drama) A cruise ship is trapped in a time warp. (R)	3	Movie: "The Final Countdown" (1980, Drama) A cruise ship is trapped in a time warp. (R)	6	Pacific Blue "No Man's Land" (In Stereo)	9	Pacific Blue "No Man's Land" (In Stereo)	12	Movie: "The Final Countdown" (1980, Drama) A cruise ship is trapped in a time warp. (R)	15	Movie: "The Final Countdown" (1980, Drama) A cruise ship is trapped in a time warp. (R)	18	Movie: "The Final Countdown" (1980, Drama) A cruise ship is trapped in a time warp. (R)	21	Movie: "The Final Countdown" (1980, Drama) A cruise ship is trapped in a time warp. (R)

SUNDAY MORNING		5:00	5:30	6:00	6:30	7:00	7:30	8:00	8:30	9:00	9:30	10:00	10:30	11:00
BROADCAST STATIONS
11	(2:00) Home Shopping Store	18	Danahue (In Stereo)	24	Martha Stewart	27	(Off Air)	30	(Off Air)	36	(Off Air)	41	Movie: "Jorro Rides Again"	50	Movie: "Jorro Rides Again"
CABLE STATIONS
COM	Paid Program	2	Paid Program	5	Paid Program	8	Paid Program	11	Mystery Science Theater 2000 "The Brain Man" (R)	14	Paid Program	17	Paid Program	20	Paid Program
ESPN	(4:30) Boxing, USA Team Eastern Qualifier (R)	3	Scholarship	6	Sportscenter (R)	9	Per for the Course	12	Inside Sr. PGA Tour	15	NEA's Greatest	18	Sportscenter	21	Sportscenter
HBO	Movie: "Jorro Rides Again" (1995, Drama) Sean Connery, a law professor tries to save a convicted felon from execution. (R)	4	Movie: "Jorro Rides Again" (1995, Drama) Sean Connery, a law professor tries to save a convicted felon from execution. (R)	7	Movie: "Jorro Rides Again" (1995, Drama) Sean Connery, a law professor tries to save a convicted felon from execution. (R)	10	Movie: "Jorro Rides Again" (1995, Drama) Sean Connery, a law professor tries to save a convicted felon from execution. (R)	13	Movie: "Jorro Rides Again" (1995, Drama) Sean Connery, a law professor tries to save a convicted felon from execution. (R)	16	Movie: "Jorro Rides Again" (1995, Drama) Sean Connery, a law professor tries to save a convicted felon from execution. (R)	19	Movie: "Jorro Rides Again" (1995, Drama) Sean Connery, a law professor tries to save a convicted felon from execution. (R)	22	Movie: "Jorro Rides Again" (1995, Drama) Sean Connery, a law professor tries to save a convicted felon from execution. (R)
SC	College Hockey: ECAC Championship	1	Prime Cuts (R)	4	Futbol Mundial (R)	7	Club Golf (R)	10	Sports/Health	13	Sparda/Health	16	Grand Grand Golf	19	Final Score Sports/Health
SCI FI	Paid Program	2	Paid Program	5	Paid Program	8	Paid Program	11	Paid Program	14	Mad Scientist	17	Anti-Graffiti Room (R)	20	Sci-Fi Buzz Central (R)
USA	Facts of Life	3	Good Morning	6	It's Your Business	9	C-Net Central (R)	12	Supernatural	15	Itsy Bitsy Spider X	18	Scenic the Hedgehog	21	Exosquad (In Stereo)

BUZ Cigarettes

SOUTH SIDE 6

..... WHERE THE PARTY STARTS
737 S. Main 352-8639

NEXT WEEK:

WR travels to the land of Chicago, where the river is green and so is the beer

TUESDAY EVENING
	6:00	6:30	7:00	7:30	8:00	8:30	9:00	9:30	10:00	10:30	11:00	11:30	12:00	12:30
BROADCAST STATIONS
11	News 3	CBS News	Wheel of Fortune	Jeopardy!	The Clie	Drama	Movie: "Race Against Time"	The Search for Santa	News 3	Late Show (In Stereo)	Late Late Show
13	News 3	ABC Wd News	Ent. Tonight	Hard Copy	Roseanne	Coach	Home Improve.	Dana Carvey	News 3	Highline	Cheers	Tempest
24	News	NBC News	Cops (In Stereo)	Most Wanted	Wings II	3rd Rock-Sun	Frazier	Mac About You	Dateline (In Stereo)	M*A*S*H	Tonight Show (In Stereo)	Late Night (In Stereo)
27	Oceanus	Business Report	NewsHour With Jim Lehrer	Wild America	Rova	I Cars	Frontline	A Kid Kills	Journal	Volter Tones	Computer Chronicles	Big 10 Primaries: "A Ninesthour Special Ed on"	(Off Air)
30	NewsHour With Jim Lehrer	Frugal Gourmet	Wild America	Rova	I Cars	Frontline	A Kid Kills	Journal	Volter Tones	Computer Chronicles	Big 10 Primaries: "A Ninesthour Special Ed on"	Being Served	Charlie Rose (In Stereo)	Instructional
36	Home Improve.	Simpsons (In Stereo)	Seinfeld (In Stereo)	Coach	Movie: "Another Stakeout"	News	Roseanne	Star Trek: The Next Generation	Married... With	Night Court (Part 2 of 2)
47	Northern Exposure	Top Cops (In Stereo)	Rescue 911	Moeha	Minor Adjust	Paranormal Borderline	Sightings	Rush Limbaugh	Highway Patrol	Press Box	Paid Program
50	Simpsons (In Stereo)	Home Improve.	MHL Hackey	Joel Louis Sports Arc	Movie: "The Untouchables"	News	Murphy Brown	Married... With	Star Trek: The Next Generation
CABLE STATIONS
CDM	One Night Stand	Tracey Ullman	Politically Incorrect	Dream On	One Night Stand	Found Stone	Dr. Katz, Therapist	The Critic	Dream On	One Night Stand	Politically Incorrect	Saturday Night Live	Dream On
ESPN	Up Close	Sportscenter	College Basketball: National Invitational Tournament To Be Announced. (Live)	College Basketball: National Invitational Tournament To Be Announced. (Live)	College Basketball: National Invitational Tournament To Be Announced. (Live)	College Basketball: National Invitational Tournament To Be Announced. (Live)	College Basketball: National Invitational Tournament To Be Announced. (Live)	College Basketball: National Invitational Tournament To Be Announced. (Live)	College Basketball: National Invitational Tournament To Be Announced. (Live)	College Basketball: National Invitational Tournament To Be Announced. (Live)	College Basketball: National Invitational Tournament To Be Announced. (Live)	Sportscenter	Madness: 16
HBO	Movie: "The Untouchables"	Movie: "The Untouchables"	Movie: "The Untouchables"	Movie: "The Untouchables"	Movie: "The Untouchables"	Movie: "The Untouchables"	Movie: "The Untouchables"	Movie: "The Untouchables"	Movie: "The Untouchables"	Movie: "The Untouchables"	Movie: "The Untouchables"	Movie: "The Untouchables"	Movie: "The Untouchables"
SC	Fishing University	NBA Action	Sportswriters on TV	Pro Bea	Volleyball: AWP	Front Row	Surfing: Pro Tour	Spots Vacant	Club Golf	Scoreboard Central	Scoreboard Central
SCI R	Six Million Dollar Man	Twilight Zone	Monsters	Quantum Leap	Automan	Friday the 13th: The Series	Twilight Zone	Monsters	Quantum Leap	Star Trek: The Next Generation
USA	Renegade	Wings	Wings	Wings	Wings	Wings	Wings	Wings	Wings	Wings	Wings	Wings	Wings

WEDNESDAY EVENING
	6:00	6:30	7:00	7:30	8:00	8:30	9:00	9:30	10:00	10:30	11:00	11:30	12:00	12:30
BROADCAST STATIONS
11	News 3	CBS News	Wheel of Fortune	Jeopardy!	Dave's World	Louie	Movie: "Yankee Soap"	Lee Hershey	News 3	Late Show (In Stereo)	Late Late Show
13	News 3	ABC Wd News	Ent. Tonight	Hard Copy	Ellen	Faculty	Grace Under Fire	Buddies	Primetime Live	News 3	Nightline	Cheers	Tempest
24	News	NBC News	Cops (In Stereo)	Most Wanted	JAG	Smoked	Dateline	Law & Order	M*A*S*H	Tonight Show (In Stereo)	Late Night (In Stereo)
27	Learn to Feed	Business Report	NewsHour With Jim Lehrer	Wild America	New Explorers	The Critical Connection	Mark Russell	Lincoln Center	Great Performances: The Moler	TechnoPolitics	Journal "Visant Tech"	(Off Air)
30	NewsHour With Jim Lehrer	Frugal Gourmet	Wild America	New Explorers	The Critical Connection	Mark Russell	Lincoln Center	Great Performances: The Moler	Being Served	Charlie Rose (In Stereo)	24th Century
36	Home Improve.	Simpsons (In Stereo)	Seinfeld (In Stereo)	Coach	Party of Five	News 3	Fosborne	Star Trek: The Next Generation	Married... With	Night Court
47	Northern Exposure	Top Cops (In Stereo)	Rescue 911	Movie	High Tide	Fish Limbaugh	Highway Patrol	Press Box	Paid Program
50	Simpsons (In Stereo)	Home Improve.	Sentinel	Swi Justice	News 3	Murphy Brown	Married... With	Star Trek: The Next Generation
CABLE STATIONS
CDM	Tom Davidson	Tracey Ullman	Politically Incorrect	Dream On	Movie: "Secret Admirer"	Dream On	Tom Davidson	Politically Incorrect	Saturday Night Live	Dream On
ESPN	Up Close	Sportscenter	College Basketball: National Invitational Tournament To Be Announced. (Live)	College Basketball: National Invitational Tournament To Be Announced. (Live)	College Basketball: National Invitational Tournament To Be Announced. (Live)	College Basketball: National Invitational Tournament To Be Announced. (Live)	College Basketball: National Invitational Tournament To Be Announced. (Live)	College Basketball: National Invitational Tournament To Be Announced. (Live)	College Basketball: National Invitational Tournament To Be Announced. (Live)	College Basketball: National Invitational Tournament To Be Announced. (Live)	Sportscenter	Madness: 16	LPBF Bowling
HBO	Movie: "The Untouchables"	Movie: "The Untouchables"	Movie: "The Untouchables"	Movie: "The Untouchables"	Movie: "The Untouchables"	Movie: "The Untouchables"	Movie: "The Untouchables"	Movie: "The Untouchables"	Movie: "The Untouchables"	Movie: "The Untouchables"	Movie: "The Untouchables"	Movie: "The Untouchables"	Movie: "The Untouchables"
SC	Tonite	Thoroughbred Action	Poops USA	Halls of Fame	Talk	Journal	Sports	Scoreboard Central	Gymnastics: Ultimate Man vs. Women	Scoreboard Central
SCI R	Six Million Dollar Man	Twilight Zone	Monsters	Quantum Leap	Automan	Friday the 13th: The Series	Twilight Zone	Monsters	Quantum Leap	Star Trek: The Next Generation
USA	Renegade	Wings	Wings	Wings	Wings	Wings	Wings	Wings	Wings	Wings	Wings	Wings	Wings

THURSDAY EVENING
	6:00	6:30	7:00	7:30	8:00	8:30	9:00	9:30	10:00	10:30	11:00	11:30	12:00	12:30
BROADCAST STATIONS
11	News 3	CBS News	Wheel of Fortune	Jeopardy!	College Basketball: NCAA Tournament Regions Semifinal	College Basketball: NCAA Tournament Regional Semifinal	News 3
13	News 3	ABC Wd News	Ent. Tonight	Hard Copy	Fig. 10 Skating World Championships	Mer's Final	From Edricton Ala. Als.	News 3	Nightline	Cheers	Tempest
24	News	NBC News	Cops (In Stereo)	Most Wanted	Friends	Boston Common	Seinfeld	Caroline in the City	ER	M*A*S*H	Tonight Show (In Stereo)	Late Night (In Stereo)
27	Oceanus	Business Report	NewsHour With Jim Lehrer	Wild America	MotorWeek	Mystery! Sherlock Holmes	Mystery! Sherlock Holmes	Mystery! Sherlock Holmes	Being Served	Charlie Rose (In Stereo)	(Off Air)
30	NewsHour With Jim Lehrer	Frugal Gourmet	Wild America	This Old House	Yankee Shop	Mystery! Inspector Morse	Mystery! Inspector Morse	Being Served	Charlie Rose (In Stereo)	(Off Air)
36	Home Improve.	Simpsons (In Stereo)	Seinfeld (In Stereo)	Coach	Living Single	Martin	New York Undercover	News 3	Roseanne	Star Trek: The Next Generation	Married... With	Night Court
47	Northern Exposure	Top Cops (In Stereo)	Rescue 911	Renegade	Highlander: The Series	Outer Limits	Outer Limits	Rush Limbaugh	Highway Patrol	Press Box	Paid Program
50	Simpsons (In Stereo)	Home Improve.	Moeha	Minor Adjust	Paranormal Borderline	News	Murphy Brown	Married... With	Star Trek: The Next Generation
CABLE STATIONS
CDM	Comedy Network 1	Tracey Ullman	Politically Incorrect	Dream On	Elyne Bostler: Top Lizards	Lounging Lizards	Dr. Katz, Therapist	Dream On	Comedy Network 1	Politically Incorrect	Saturday Night Live	Dream On
ESPN	Up Close	Sportscenter	NCAA Special	Figure Skating World Championships	Voices of the Game	Baseball Tonight	Sportscenter	Snowboarding	Sportscenter
HBO	Movie: "The Untouchables"	Movie: "The Untouchables"	Movie: "The Untouchables"	Movie: "The Untouchables"	Movie: "The Untouchables"	Movie: "The Untouchables"	Movie: "The Untouchables"	Movie: "The Untouchables"	Movie: "The Untouchables"	Movie: "The Untouchables"	Movie: "The Untouchables"	Movie: "The Untouchables"	Movie: "The Untouchables"
SC	Tonite	Thoroughbred Action	Yachting	NBA Action	Cave Fast Break	NBA Basketball: Cleveland Cavaliers at Boston Celtics	English League Soccer Highlights	Cave Fast Hour	Cave Fast Hour	Cave Fast Hour	Cave Fast Hour	Cave Fast Hour	Cave Fast Hour
SCI R	Six Million Dollar Man	Twilight Zone	Monsters	Quantum Leap	Automan	Friday the 13th: The Series	Twilight Zone	Monsters	Quantum Leap	Star Trek: The Next Generation
USA	Renegade	Wings	Wings	Wings	Wings	Wings	Wings	Wings	Wings	Wings	Wings	Wings	Wings	