Details surface in USG scandal

By DEAN KARNOK

The BG News

A few new twists were added to the University Government's ongoing investigation into the fraud alleged in actions surrounding the Undergraduate Student Government presidential elections.

A campus investigation has now been launched to find if there has been any wrongdoing in the alleged USG e-mail fraud. The investigation comes after Cynthia Rett, USG's chief of staff, alleged her e-mail account was tampered with without her knowledge.

She filed a report with University police Tuesday. A police investigation has been put on hold until more information has been found concerning the complaint.

Jason K. Wolfe, a former USG presidential candidate, allegedly received a message from Kent's e-mail address. Wolfe said the e-mail message was sent to show her activities were supervised, said she is just starting to look at the possible evidence that her e-mail account was tampered with.

Wolfe风景区 from an anonymous source.

Gore said the letter detailed exactly how some members could send an e-mail message to show their support for one another. She is just starting to look at the possible evidence that her e-mail account was tampered with.

The BG News reports that USG president, said she was glad to get the whole election behind her.

There are a lot of historical duties. I remember those days, those dates of natural disasters, dates of man-made tragedies, dates on which I've had that the national tragedy even though I was not informed they were natural disasters.

But recently a date of incredible historical significance passed us by, seemingly unnoticed by the majority of the population (those who are normally only attuned to the past when they see a piece of the pie in Trivial Pursuit). It is a date on which I am talking about is none other than the 100th anniversary of the invention of Jell-O.

Falcons to play four versus Zips

The Falcon baseball team (13-11) hosts Akron for two doubleheader this weekend.

This weekend, the Falcons host the Akron Zips for a pair of doubleheaders Saturday and Sunday.

The Zips are the defending Mid-American Conference tournament champions, having won the MAC tournament held in Kent last fall.

 Akron finished with an 18-18 conference mark last season, good for a third-place finish. They took three of four games from the Falcons last year.

"They were one of the conference favorites coming into the season," coach Danny Schmitz said. "They have solid pitching and defensively. We're just thinking about the first game, and when we win, we'll think about game two."

Each day, action begins at 1 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday, with the first game starting 30 minutes after the first game's conclusion.

Steffler At Staller

After this weekend, the Falcons will have played seven doubleheaders this season, splitting their two-game series.

The weather is heating up, slowly but surely. The Falcons sold 500 of their 750 game plates do the same, starting soon.

The weather forecast Western Michigan this weekend for a four-game set. The Bronchos are at the BGSU Softball Field Saturday, Sunday for a pair of doubleheaders. Both doubleheaders begin at 1 p.m.

The games had been scheduled for Friday and Saturday, but were bumped back a day each due to unfavorable weather forecasts.

Green Bay at Staller

Sports Briefs

Soccer spring season underway

The Falcon soccer team began its spring season last weekend with a 1-0 loss to Oakland, a division II school from Michigan. They also tied the University of Dayton, 3-3.

This weekend, they will face Westminster at 11 a.m. Sunday and Western at 2 p.m.

The team will play games each weekend until the end of the season, which includes the Mid-American Conference Tournament.

"It's basically to make sure we don't get too out of shape," goalkeeper Todd Vallow said.

Vallow said that of 54 goals last season, 45 came from seniors. These games are intended to keep the freshmen sharp for the fall, in which they will have to take over the team.

"It's a chance for these young, inexperienced guys to get used to it," Vallow said. "We just want it around so we're not totally out of shape.

April 30, the Falcon play Xavier at 11 p.m. and Ohio Wesleyan at 2 p.m. April 27, BG takes on Valparaiso and Cleveland at the same time.

May 4, BG plays Wright State at 1 p.m.

1997 soccer schedule released

The soccer schedule for next year was released Thursday.

The Falcons will compete in four tournaments to begin the season, including a home tournament in which they are scheduled to face Dayton and Wright State.

In their seventh game of the season, they will face Indiana University, the team which knocked them out of the NCAA tournament last year.

The conference portion of the season begins with an Oct. 3 game at Northern Illinois, which promises to be the most important game of the year.

The Mid-American Conference Tournament will take place at Miami University, beginning Nov. 4.

Three Falcon athletes honored by MAC

A trio of Bowling Green athletes have been honored by the Mid-American Conference, the league announced.

Tenist player Ryan Oakes, all-conference, and weight thrower Nikri Stilwinger all picked up honors from the conference.

Lucy Kaplansky

Folk singer Lucy Kaplansky came out and yelled to the crowd. "The party is dead. It's fiction," he said several times to the crowd. "It's in your heads. They're only in your heads. What we're doing here is making music. It's not about the money. It's not about the fame. It's about the music."

Beck went on to say that he wasn't sure if people were really enjoying the music. "I'm not sure if people are really listening. But I'm doing it for myself."

The crowd responded by clapping and cheering. "I'm doing it for myself," Beck said again. "I'm doing it because I love it."
