Tire-slaashing vandalism strike again

STEVEN SIZEMORE/ The BG News

"I just came before the 3rd Jury Carter, past PC major, Friday morning when she noticed her passenger side tires had been shredded with an unknown object.
"My car and the car next to me had been damaged by objects in the parking lot. It's nice to know there was a lot more than 30 reports of vandalism.

"Carter said, "Who does that kind of thing?"
The Bowling Green Police Department received the first report of vehicle vandalism at 7:20 a.m.
Saturday, and as of late Saturday afternoon, there had been more than 30 reports of vehicle vandalism.

The vandalism occurred between 2 and 3 a.m. and was focused on cars parked on East Wooster and South Main Street.

"I am glad to be back. I still have my heart set on it. I still have a lot to learn," she said. "The police did their job, and I am glad that I was able to get back to school."

Greek premier declares victory in elections

ATHENS, Greece — Prime Minister Costas Simitis declared a razor-thin victory over conservative opponents today to keep his left-leaning coalition in power, saying in a speech to his Socialists that the result was "a great victory for all of Greece and for the Socialists." The victory gives the Socialists a significant political victory and a platform to fight the conservatives in the next election, which is expected within the next year.

U.S. bombs Iraqi air system

ANKARA, Turkey — U.S. warplanes bombed an Iraqi air defense site yesterday after Iraqi forces launched artillery fire during a parade of the oil force near north- ern Iraq. The U.S. military said that two fighter jets were shot down by antiaircraft fire from a town southwest of Mosul, while seven were attacked by the German-based U.S. European command.

All of the U.S. planes left the area without casualties. The Americans claimed to have hit a radar site and a fuel dump in the north, but a Iraqi military spokesman denied either.

Rebels continue assaults on Russian positions in Chechnya

NORTHERN IRELAND — Sinn Fein Chief Negotiator Martin McGuinness delivers his address to the Sinn Fein Annual Conference in Dublin, Ireland, yesterday.

NABRAN, Russia — Rebels attacked Russian army checkpoints in Grozny and other parts of Chechnya yesterday, demonstrating that Russia's claims to have subdued the insurgents are far from reality.

Russian checkpoints in southern Chechnya were also targeted. According to the command's press service, one border guard was wounded in an attack on the border post of the Chechen Republic of Grozny. Another border post and a field command were attacked.

"Combatants in groups of 10-15 people are leaving the remnants of our units to attack other checkpoints," the command's press service said.

Russia claims to control the eastern two-thirds of Chechnya, but rebels have attacked checkpoints and ambushed Russian troops deep in the north with apparent ease, keeping federal forces on the defensive.

A Chechen field commander said rebel attacks carried into the night and into the next morning, with 10-20 militants in each attack.

"Many young Chechen men who were in captivity camps in winter now come back to Chechnya and join the militants' ranks in the summer," the commander, who gave his name as Isak, told The Associated Press.

He said the militants were still capable of moving freely around Chechnya. It is a sign that they can easily strike Russian positions and formations.

"We cannot be subdued," the commander said.

Russian aircraft bombed and strafed rebel positions in Chechnya near the villages of Khrasnovodsk, Tangi and Khatuni in the southern mountains, the military command said. Russian troops also entered Dagestan, and rebels are blamed in apartment building blasts in Russia that killed about 300 people.

Avalanche edge Red Wings in latest chapter of great hockey rivalry

DENVER — The Colorado Avalanche and Detroit Red Wings played for a lot more than just a chance to win Game 7.

Usually one of the NHL's most spirited rivalries, the two playoff-bound teams finished the regular season yesterday with the league's first penalty-free game in 20 years.

"The intensity had an early flight," Avalanche forward David Gunnarsson said after the Avalanche's 5-2 victory. "There wasn't a lot of contact. Everybody knew who's at stake later in the week." The series ended with an avalanche of penalties in the third period, leaving the Red Wings coach Scotty Bowman to wonder how his team managed to avoid the penalty box in a season yesterday with the league's most penalties.

"We'll go into the playoffs very confident," Bowman said. "I think it's hard to believe the Red Wings have a good game.

"Both teams want to win. But we know we will have to play the same way we have played at the end of the regular season," Roy said. "It's hard to believe the Red Wings and Avalanche were capable of the kinds of goals receipts they showed.

For the Avalanche, who finished with 102 wins in the regular season and 12 points behind the Western Conference leaders, the first visit from the Red Wings was a good team. They won over 40 games in each of the previous three years.

Coach Ken Hitchcock (2) in a recent contest. The Avalanche and Detroit will play the fifth-seeded Phoenix on Wednesday or Thursday, while fourth-seeded Detroit will play the eighth-seeded Los Angeles Kings.

"We will go into the playoffs very confident," Roy said. "I think it's hard to believe the Red Wings have a good game."

"There wasn't a lot of penalties in the third period," Bowman said. "We need him back in the lineup."

"I think they are the second highest-scoring team, so you have to be ready," coach Chris Osgood said. "But we know we have a good team. They won over 50 games this year. We have to be ready right from the start."

"I never would have thought that there would be as many games," Avalanche coach Bob Hartley said. "It's a better team, but our body knew what's at stake later in the week." The series continued with the Avalanche's 5-2 victory.

"We will go into the playoffs very confident," Roy said. "I think it's hard to believe the Red Wings have a good game."

The Beetseed Avalanche will open the playoffs against the second-seeded Phoenix on Wednesday or Thursday, while fourth-seeded Detroit will play the fifth-seeded Los Angeles Kings.

"I think they are the second highest-scoring team, so you have to be ready," coach Chris Osgood said. "But we know we have a good team. They won over 50 games this year. We have to be ready right from the start."

"I never would have thought that there would be as many games," Avalanche coach Bob Hartley said. "It's a better team, but our body knew what's at stake later in the week." The series continued with the Avalanche's 5-2 victory.

Softball Games postponed

Softball Games postponed was scheduled to play Mid-American Conference doubleheader at Toledo Friday and Ball State Saturday. Both games were canceled due to inclement weather and will not be made up. The Toledo doubleheader was rescheduled for yesterday but the weather did not cooperate.

The 17-8 Falcons beat Ohio State Tuesday 3-2 in 4-p.

Bridge hired as assistant coach

Bowling Green head coach Gary Hellmann announced the hiring of Jim Bridge as the offensive line and tight end coach. Bridge replaces Ryan Sheron, who resigned in order to pursue a career opportunity outside of college coaching.

Bridge, 36, starred his coaching career at Bowling Green as a graduate assistant in 1992 serving as a Graduate Assistant in Sport Administration in 1994. He was responsible for the defensive and offensive special teams, among other duties. After accepting an assistant position at BGSU, he rejected another post-graduate degree, this time a Master of Education in Sport Psychology, from the University of Virginia. He served as a football graduate assistant at Virginia the past season.
