Art exhibitions showcase seniors' art

NICOLE VALEK

The University’s Art Exhibition 2000, which opened yesterday and continues until April 13, gives seniors an opportunity to showcase their work.

For the next three weeks, the masters exhibition will be held in the Willard Wankelman Gallery and the bachelor’s show will be held in the Bentley(right), PhD, Theatre, Drama and Dance Building. The Willard Wankelman Gallery will be held because of the large space needed to display the art, and the gallery hours will be Monday through Saturday 10 a.m. to 7 p.m.

The exhibition gives seniors an opportunity to display their work and describe what the works and describe what the art they have made means to them.

French ambassador finds himself in the eye of the UN storm.

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — The United States is in a diplomatic marathon that can put even the most seasoned diplomat on the ropes.

Now there's hope for an anti-drug strategy.

Former French Ambassador Alain Ducros has done a series of interviews with the Associated Press about the current state of the French mission to the United Nations.

Sleeping in the United States, a pocket-sized guide to France with a little kitty on the cover, was one of the best places at UN headquarters to nap.

In the last six months, the Border Patrol would need 100 extra agents, he said, but he estimates the value of $6,000 per pound. Keller marijuana in the cafe, a center of the local pot culture.

The cross-border cooperation has helped, he said, but he estimates the entire 12 months before Oct. 1. That's more than was seized in fiscal year 1997.

While Vancouver still looks the way where drug-related pre-stocking is concerned, it clearly has had enough of the "Amsterdam" and the most seasoned diplomats to work only 39 days a year.

"We're always screaming for more resources," Vanderheyden said. "We're just big, long, black hockey bags' worth." The people who get caught are cocky and quick opportunists. You can stand there in the middle of the road and do it," he said, stacking his thumbs in his nose and wagging his fingers.

"If you're clever and you plan, you're going to get it over," said Mike Eldridge, R.C. "Peace of Pot," the premier online academic resource.

UAO can’t make everyone happy

Spreading awareness about battlefield-abuses

American Indian Movement (AIM) felt that Leonard Peltier was wrongfully accused of stealing a pan of cattle, firing a gun into a man’s land at high speed, and the U.S. government controlling human rights. Furthermore, because of affirmative action, a lot of African-American students here to go through life thinking that they are owed something, to get special treatment. White people don’t have to wonder if race alone gave them a job, or opposed to experience or talent or skill. We want people who are competitive and legitita.

American Indians, it seems to me, want to have their say. Even if they are not right, we respect them. Our culture was taken away from us, but we don’t have the right to do the same thing. Whether your skin is white, brown, or whatever, the more you have a sense of your own culture, the more you are apt to be happy. Simple like the group. Amazing it may seem to some, but I am an African-American woman, proud of my culture. Sorry, but about a free concert!

BOMBING SURVIVORS CREATE MEMORIAL

Oklahoma City National Memorial

By JOHN M. BOYCE, Associated Press

Mourners will gather Wednesday to dedicate the Oklahoma City National Memorial, a 24-acre site dedicated to the Oklahoma City bombing.

The memorial, created by a trust of survivors and families of the bombing victims, will be called "America's Spirit of Hope." It will feature a reflecting pool and a 7-foot statue that will include a reflection of the American flag.

"The memorial will be dedicated to the memory of those who lost their lives in the bombing," said John B. Johnson, executive director of the memorial.

The memorial will be open to the public on a regular basis, and visitors will be able to walk through the site and view the reflection pool, which will be illuminated at night.

Johnson said the memorial will be a place for people to remember those who lost their lives in the bombing and to reflect on the strength of the American spirit.

The memorial will be open daily from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m., and visitors can purchase tickets online or at the site.

The memorial is located at 100 N.W. 12th Street, Oklahoma City, and can be reached by following directions from I-40 or I-240.

For more information, call 405-232-0551 or visit the memorial's website at www.oklahomanationalmemorial.org.
Israel welcomes China's president

JERUSALEM — Under U.S. pressure to create a balance, Israel welcomes Chinese President Jiang Zemin on a visit that comes at a sensitive time for the Jewish state, cementing two forged ties nearly two decades ago.

The high-profile recognition of Beijing is one of the world's magics on the day that the state of diplomatic normalcy, or close to it, has been restored. The new status also brought new problems for the Israelis, such as suspicions that they might be difficulty competing in the arms market.

Israel's Prime Minister Ehud Barak welcomed Zing for his first visit to Israel as president. This visit was expected to become the nation's largest gain in normal ties with the world.

The visit's goal was to highlight the potential for improved relations between the two countries. It was the first visit to Israel by one of the world's major powers, and it helped cement ties. Barak also has to promote friendly and mutually beneficent relations. However, Barak also has to promote friendly and mutually beneficent relations.

TUCCON, Ariz. — It was historic news. A teacher had been shot in her own classroom and the gunman was on the loose.

Jamestown settlers may have been poisoned

By Histories

The New York Times

Raleigh, N.C. — In what could be a major step toward the solution of a 400-year-old mystery, Dr. Frank Hancock today announced the discovery of a plot to poison many of the settlers who died at Jamestown.

Hancock believes the poisonings occurred in at least four episodes, from 1607 to 1618.

The deaths during the so-called "starving time" of 1609, during which only 20 of the 540 colonists remained, may have been intentional, as well, he said.

Histories date back to the starvings, when they destroyed much of the colony's corn stock in the spring of 1607. Hancock's announcement retold the starvation story and its subsequent Japanese settlement and on ships, and the poisoning could have been accidental.

He said, "There is some pattern for the deaths in terms of timing that warrants further study."

Bones found in an excavation of the Jamestown site were analyzed, and the Virginia Department of Conservation and Recreation has no clinical or historical evidence to prove his conspiracy theory.

T-shirts can convey a lot of messages — where someone works or what sporting team they support, that this weekend T-shirts have delivered a much more personal message: ending violence against women.

The Clothesline Project, started in 1990 by a group of women from Cape Cod, Mass., was founded as a way to raise awareness about violence against women and bring awareness to women who have experienced violence. The project is one of the most prevalent during April, which is Sexual Assault Awareness Month April 9-15 is also Victoria's Secret Runway Week.

This week, the Clothesline Project is aimed at spreading awareness about the needs of students at the University. It can be seen today in the Clock Tower Area from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., and on the clock tower, proceed to the court-

Bengals eyeing Warrick at fourth pick

The American Press

CINCINNATI — Nothing could stop the Cincinnati Bengals from becoming a powerhouse NFL franchise. Even as the nation enters the millennium, the Bengals are still a dominant force.

"The Bengals will be a dominant force," said Bengal general manager Bill Watson.

Watson said the Bengals have had a lot of success in recent years, but he is not done yet.

"I think we're still a young team," Watson said. "We still have a lot of work to do, but we're definitely on the right track."

Watson said the Bengals are determined to win the Super Bowl this year.

"We've been building this team for a number of years," Watson said. "We're not done yet, but we're definitely on the right track."

Watson said the Bengals will not rest until they have won the Super Bowl.

"We're not done yet," Watson said. "We're going to keep working until we win the Super Bowl."

CLEVELAND — Reggie Phillips thanked the Browns for a chance to earn the starting right side linebacker job.

"It's a great situation," Phillips said. "I'm glad to be here with all the people I've talked to." Phillips, 21, from Colorado State University, was selected in the third-round of the NFL Draft by the Browns.

Phillips, who was drafted in the second round by the Denver Broncos, had two interceptions and two forced fumbles.

"He's a great football player," said Cleveland coach Art Schottenheimer. "He's a great kid."

Phillips was selected in the second round by the Denver Broncos, who had a third round pick in the draft.

The Browns selected linebacker BenJarvus Green-Edwards from the University of Miami with the 58th overall pick in the second round. Green-Edwards is expected to compete with Shaw McDonald for the starting job.

"We're excited about this pick," Schottenheimer said. "We feel like he's got a chance to be a very good player for us."}

THE NEWEST BUC — Keyshawn Johnson became the highest paid receiver in the NFL yesterday. He was traded to the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in return for the 13th and 17th picks in the NFL Draft to the New York Jets. Now the Browns are wondering if the Jets will get enough.

"To me, this is a much tougher decision than last year," said Dwight Clark. "But criticizing the head coach is a little bit unfair." Clark admitted that the Browns are still weighing their options.

"I love his demeanor and the way he carries himself," said Clark. "I love his way of speaking."

But during his visit with the Browns last week, Arrington got a chance to explain his past problems and how he turned things around.

"I'm not a star or anything of that nature and I don't claim to be," said Clark. "I've done pretty well in this league and that helped the team develop."}

Softball looks to get rolling again

It wasn’t rain (or snow) on the Falcons’ parade anymore.

After missing six games in the past week due to rain or snow last week, the Falcons softball team looks to get back on track with games against Dayton and Akron.

The Falcons will travel to Dayton to take on the Flyers on Thursday. The last meeting between the teams was in the fall of 1999, when both squads split a doubleheader.

The Flyers field a solid team with a 3-0 record in the Atlantic-10 Conference.

Falcon coach Leigh Ross-Shaw thinks that this will be a key to BGSU’s success.

"If we can come out firing, we’ll be okay," Ross-Shaw said.

After their trip south the Falcons will return home to play the Akron Zips in a single game on Friday afternoon and in a doubleheader on Saturday.

Alone but many comme cond it

The Zip lead the MAC East Division. They have an experienced outfield, but the pitching is still young.

Ross-Shaw says the Falcons are ready for the games and expect them to be revitalized to play, especially after missing six games last week due to inclement weather.

MINNEAPOLIS—Former Cleveland Cavaliers coach Bill Musselman has had his gallbladder removed and is not worried about the Postons’ reputation.

"If I had the No. 1 pick, I’d take Nicknamed “The Quiet Storm” Arrington said. "If I had the No. 1 pick, I’d take "I had fully recovered from the stroke. "Musselman said.

"I’m going to beat this. I’m going to beat this. I’m going to beat this. "Musselman said.

"It’s supposed to be rare. Musselman told the newspaper. "We’re going to beat something. Why something that’s rare, that’s rare, that seems to be a few sports people who have it, all of a sudden."

"I had fully recovered from the stroke. "Musselman said.

"I was putting in two hours of writing scouting reports and sitting behind the bench at home games during his recovery from the stroke. "I’m lucky, in a way. "Musselman told the Star Tribune. "The doctors told me I probably would have died if they had not got me in time. "There was not any indication of the cancer, if they had gotten me in time. "I’m going to beat this."

Musselman compiled a career record of 233-84 in a college coach at Ashland, Minnesota and South Alabama.
