Violence erupts at Virginia Tech

Shooting leaves 33 dead, questions arise about University's handling of the situation

By Jim Leydon

BLACKSBURG, Va. — A gunman opened fire in a Virginia Tech dormitory, killing 32 people and injuring 17 in a rampage that raised questions about whether the nation is doing enough to prevent future school shootings.

The gunman, identified as 20-year-old Seung-Hui Cho, went on a shooting spree that lasted around two hours, killing 15 people in a dormitory and seven in a classroom building before shooting himself in the head with a .45-caliber handgun.

> Investigation

The investigation into the shooting is in its early stages, but authorities said they have several leads. Cho was a student at the university and had been involved in a number of activities, including clubs and fraternities.

In the aftermath of the shooting, the university announced it would be closing its campus for the rest of the week and would be holding counseling sessions for students and faculty.

> Reaction

The shooting sparked a national debate about gun control and the need for stricter laws to prevent similar incidents in the future.

cultural enlightenment

By James Britton

The shooting at Virginia Tech has sparked a national discussion about gun control and the need for stricter laws to prevent similar incidents in the future.
I security card, three children's social way and coming from under the door. Radii i Alley on East Wooster Street.

Bike, value $50. reported stolen from 1:57 P.M.

keys, wa contained an Ohio drivers license.

Plant for a vent stack fire. Fire was 9:17 P.M.

Fairview Avenue resident reported a 6:57 P.M.

Garage light fixture reported stolen at 612 Fifth Caller couldn't reset his 424 P.M.

ventilated.

Call from Katie Druckenmiller at 713 204 P.M.

Security cards and two credit cards at plant began working on damaged 2 Tuewfay. April 17 2007 WWWBGNEWS.COM

250 P.M. Accord appearing on the right side of the road, according to the caller. The black wal-doors in the classroom building.

Wendell I linchuni would not speak to journalists on condition of anonymity, enforcement official, speakgunman carried. Hut a law enforcement official, speak-say how many weapons the gunman carried. Wendell I linchuni would not speak to journalists on condition of anonymity, enforcement official, speak-when he decided to expand the university, but With University closed off the dormitory and

A gunman opened fire in a dormitory and

A gunman opened fire in a dormitory and

A gunman opened fire in a dormitory and

Monday killing at least one person and

A gunman

A gunman

A gunman

A gunman

A gunman

A gunman

A gunman

A gunman

A gunman

A gunman

A gunman

A gunman

A gunman

A gunman

A gunman

A gunman

A gunman

A gunman

A gunman

A gunman

A gunman

A gunman

A gunman

A gunman

A gunman

A gunman

A gunman

A gunman

A gunman

A gunman

A gunman

A gunman

A gunman

fire in a

University is shocked and indeed

consider of monumental proportions.' Stegcr said, "The university will help the businesses.

Students and I jura Wedin, a

"The shuttle would be good

"The shuttle would be good

"The shuttle would be good

"The shuttle would be good

"The shuttle would be good

"The shuttle would be good

"The shuttle would be good

"The shuttle would be good

"The shuttle would be good

"The shuttle would be good

"The shuttle would be good

"The shuttle would be good

"The shuttle would be good
Nation reacts to shooting
More than 30 dead at Virginia Tech

By Deb Richman
The Associated Press
WASHINGTON — President Bush said yesterday that the mass shooting at Virginia Tech, the deadliest campus violence in this country, affected every student across the nation. "Schools should be places of safety, sanctuary and learning," Bush said in reaction to the deaths of more than 30 people on the campus. "When this tragic and unjustified impact is felt by every American community, it is felt by every American community." Bush spoke with Timothy M. Kaine and Virginia Tech President Charles A. Steger. "I told them that Lama and I and many across our nation are praying for the victims and the families of those who have been deviated by this terrible tragedy," Bush said in the Diplomatic Room of the White House. "Today our nation grieves for the families and friends of those who have been deviated by this horrific crime, especially to those who are suffering today.

High school dance requires breath tests

DUBUQUE, Iowa (AP) — Students at Wahlert High School are being tested to make sure they're not DUI — dancing under the influence. Officials at the Catholic school said students will have to undergo a breath test before they are admitted to any school-sponsored dances for the rest of this school year. "It's a big step, but it's a real impact," Principal Don Sisler said. "We're committed to providing support and assistance to those authorities as well as those involved in service learning projects that have been deviated by this terrible tragedy." Bush said in the Diplomatic Room of the White House. "Today our nation grieves for the families and friends of those who have been deviated by this horrific crime, especially to those who are suffering today.

"Our goal is to do what we can do to ensure that our events are alcohol-free," Principal Don Sisler said. "It's a big step, but it's a real important step.

A consent form giving the student permission to administer the test was sent home to parents along with a letter from school. Students from other schools who attend dances at Wahlert would be required to bring a signed consent form. Students who test positive will be rested. "If there is any question about the first test, we re-administer a second," he said. "It's a breath test or a urine test and we wash throwing off the first reading, that would disrupt quickly. We'll re-test them.

"It's a big step, but it's a real impact," Principal Don Sisler said. "It's a big step, but it's a real important step.

A consent form giving the student permission to administer the test was sent home to parents along with a letter from school. Students from other schools who attend dances at Wahlert would be required to bring a signed consent form. Students who test positive will be rested. "If there is any question about the first test, we re-administer a second," he said. "It's a breath test or a urine test and we wash throwing off the first reading, that would disrupt quickly. We'll re-test them.

Students attended dances to an individual basis when officially suspected alcohol use at dances.

Fall Registration 2007

Registration begins for:

Graduate Students
Non-Degree Graduate Students
Seniors
Juniors
Sophomores
Freshman
Guest Students

March 19
March 21
March 27
April 3
April 10
April 16
April 20

Don't miss out! See your advisor now!

Pre-Major Advising and UPS
Arts & Sciences
Business Administration
Education & Human Development
Health & Human Services
Musical Arts
Technology

Register using My.BGSU.edu
To find your exact registration day and time, go to the Office of Registration and Records website at www.bgsu.edu/offices/registrat
Price increase for birth control is unfair to college women

A change in policy and price could have disastrous consequences on students who can't afford their medications.

Men's sporting cuts may be issues of budget, not Title IX implications

If men accept this simplis-tication that females have the ancial opportunities that early structured them-oodl having the ptionalized and pre-
. The increase in birth control
ers is that some college campus could skyrocket.
 the mandator of Title IX
. If the decision is based on , then, results in a need stitutions, equipment, etc.,
ons for columns is two per month.
be fewer than 500 words. These vidence, unverified information or other comments must be made,
. It's not about the number of number of place on teams.
ity is a problem that the Title IX legislation to ng in 2010 because the add in the current finances, scholarships, equipment, etc., an OBGYN who is the procedure looks grueirth is a little disturbing.

The BG News Submission Policy

Newspapers and Editorials are printed une, year and the views of the outside story.
COLUMBUS— Bars, restaurants and hotels in Ohio violate Ohio’s smoking ban can be fined up to $2,500 under penalties set for approval Monday. Compliance with the law, which took effect Dec. 7, has been spotty in some areas of Ohio during the time that state health officials have worked to establish fines. About $1,000 alleged violations have been reported so far.

"It's compliance was much higher initially but it has gotten the longer that this has dragged on," said Kathy Paris, a spokeswoman for the Canton Health Department.

A 10-member panel of lawmakers were scheduled to meet Thursday to finalize rules for enforcing Ohio’s workplace smoking ban. If approved, penalties can start of his time in 2004 trial. He was convicted rapist who spent 55 years in prison. A judge who sentenced him to a 10-member panel of lawmakers on rules for enforcing Ohio's workplace smoking ban in Columbus. Ohio during a joint committee meeting.

Anne Harnish, acting director of Ohio Department of Health, testifies before a minority party of lawmakers on would be for enforcing Ohio’s illegal smoking ban in Columbus. Ohio during a joint committee meeting.

Business owners and smokers who flouted the law in past years will not face penalties under the indoor smoking ban. If approved, penalties can be fined up to $2,500 under penalties set for approval Monday. Compliance with the law, which took effect Dec. 7, has been spotty in some areas of Ohio during the time that state health officials have worked to establish fines. About $1,000 alleged violations have been reported so far.

"It's compliance was much higher initially but it has gotten the longer that this has dragged on," said Kathy Paris, a spokeswoman for the Canton Health Department.

A 10-member panel of lawmakers were scheduled to meet Thursday to finalize rules for enforcing Ohio’s workplace smoking ban. If approved, penalties can start of his time in 2004 trial. He was convicted rapist who spent 55 years in prison. A judge who sentenced him to a 10-member panel of lawmakers on rules for enforcing Ohio's workplace smoking ban in Columbus. Ohio during a joint committee meeting.

Anne Harnish, acting director of Ohio Department of Health, testifies before a minority party of lawmakers on would be for enforcing Ohio’s illegal smoking ban in Columbus. Ohio during a joint committee meeting.

Business owners and smokers who flouted the law in past years will not face penalties under the indoor smoking ban. If approved, penalties can be fined up to $2,500 under penalties set for approval Monday. Compliance with the law, which took effect Dec. 7, has been spotty in some areas of Ohio during the time that state health officials have worked to establish fines. About $1,000 alleged violations have been reported so far.

"It's compliance was much higher initially but it has gotten the longer that this has dragged on," said Kathy Paris, a spokeswoman for the Canton Health Department.

A 10-member panel of lawmakers were scheduled to meet Thursday to finalize rules for enforcing Ohio’s workplace smoking ban. If approved, penalties can start of his time in 2004 trial. He was convicted rapist who spent 55 years in prison. A judge who sentenced him to a 10-member panel of lawmakers on rules for enforcing Ohio's workplace smoking ban in Columbus. Ohio during a joint committee meeting.

Anne Harnish, acting director of Ohio Department of Health, testifies before a minority party of lawmakers on would be for enforcing Ohio’s illegal smoking ban in Columbus. Ohio during a joint committee meeting.
Wal-mart sees increase in revenue

The big retailer posted a more than 13 percent increase in revenue to $35.2 billion and profits of $3.152 billion, according to the magazine's annual ranking of the nation's largest companies. The discount giant has the top four out of the last seven years. Fortune compiled the rankings based on companies 2006 revenues.

National Geographic's 53-year history.

Corp. to win hack first place on

MAY 10, 2006 - Wal-Mart Stores within journalism and as well was covered in the press, Struggle, and the Awakening was awarded yesterday to the Pulitzer Prize for general nonfiction in the highest rate since the war began, more than four years of flying, BAGHDAD, Iraq, Over the month, 532 American soldiers were evacuated - many by boat. Vermont got about 17 inches of snow, with flakes still falling yesterday across several parts of Pennsylvania, New York and Maine. "We have incredible amounts of damage," said Steve Corcoran, a spokesman for Central Vermont Public Service. "de-power lines brought down by high wind. "I've never seen anything like it." New York crews announced it the worst storm to hit the state in 75 years. Five homes burned down in one town after the stress could not see the buildings because of flooded waters.

Smoke's path of destruction kills at least nine nationwide

By DAVID BAUER

We have incredible amounts of damage...I've never seen anything like it"

Steve Corcoran, a spokesman for Central Vermont Public Service.

Cleveland Brown, a spokesperson for the Iraq Coalition Casualty Counting System, said 230 Americans have been killed through April, with 58 deaths occurring in the capital, com-

The Party for a second hand race, changing the course of South Carolina to the mountains of Maine. It knocked out power to hundreds of thousands of people and was blamed for at least nine deaths nationwide.

Storm's path of destruction kills at least nine nationwide

"We have incredible amounts of damage...I've never seen anything like it"

We have incredible amounts of damage, said Steve Corcoran, a spokesman for Central Vermont Public Service, describing power lines brought down by high wind. "I've never seen anything like it." New York crews announced it the worst storm to hit the state in 75 years. Five homes burned down in one town after the stress could not see the buildings because of flooded waters.
Thibault said at the committee's initial meeting, he did not believe that his students had been involved as much as possible. He accused Thibault of covertly eliminating master's students from teaching. Other members of the committee agreed that a total elimination of master's students was not likely. However, the main focus is on the issue of whether or not that might be possible, and it is not very clear to us at this moment what were doing. "They are very enthusiastic and they are excited to teach what they teach, but I don't think they are as knowledgeable as a professor who already has their degree," said Matt Sutler, senior.

"We've had parents complain about French learning sessions. We've had parents complain with the absence of any graduate students," said Thibault. He also accused Thibault of being(work) the specific student and parent complaints with the committee and was deplored of their validity. "We've seen any of those complaints. Thibault is taking about," Nichter said. "It's not very to do here at this moment when were doing," said Thibault. Thibault disagreed with Nichter's accusations, saying that graduate students have been eliminated as part of our degree experience. "Sometimes we would teach them something and we would feel like they didn't really get it," Boltman said. "They are just really bad at that." But I believe talking with my students because of the potential financial impact. "We get credit for teaching and experience to be eliminated. "They are very enthusiastic and they are excited to teach what they teach, but I don't think they are as knowledgeable as a professor who already has their degree," said Matt Sutler, senior.

"We've had parents complain about French learning sessions. We've had parents complain with the absence of any graduate students," said Thibault. He also accused Thibault of being(work) the specific student and parent complaints with the committee and was deplored of their validity. "We've seen any of those complaints. Thibault is taking about," Nichter said. "It's not very to do here at this moment when were doing," said Thibault. Thibault disagreed with Nichter's accusations, saying that graduate students have been eliminated as part of our degree experience. "Sometimes we would teach them something and we would feel like they didn't really get it," Boltman said. "They are just really bad at that." But I believe talking with my students because of the potential financial impact. "We get credit for teaching and experience to be eliminated. "They are very enthusiastic and they are excited to teach what they teach, but I don't think they are as knowledgeable as a professor who already has their degree," said Matt Sutler, senior.

"We've had parents complain about French learning sessions. We've had parents complain with the absence of any graduate students," said Thibault. He also accused Thibault of being(work) the specific student and parent complaints with the committee and was deplored of their validity. "We've seen any of those complaints. Thibault is taking about," Nichter said. "It's not very to do here at this moment when were doing," said Thibault. Thibault disagreed with Nichter's accusations, saying that graduate students have been eliminated as part of our degree experience. "Sometimes we would teach them something and we would feel like they didn't really get it," Boltman said. "They are just really bad at that." But I believe talking with my students because of the potential financial impact. "We get credit for teaching and experience to be eliminated. "They are very enthusiastic and they are excited to teach what they teach, but I don't think they are as knowledgeable as a professor who already has their degree," said Matt Sutler, senior.

"We've had parents complain about French learning sessions. We've had parents complain with the absence of any graduate students," said Thibault. He also accused Thibault of being(work) the specific student and parent complaints with the committee and was deplored of their validity. "We've seen any of those complaints. Thibault is taking about," Nichter said. "It's not very to do here at this moment when were doing," said Thibault. Thibault disagreed with Nichter's accusations, saying that graduate students have been eliminated as part of our degree experience. "Sometimes we would teach them something and we would feel like they didn't really get it," Boltman said. "They are just really bad at that." But I believe talking with my students because of the potential financial impact. "We get credit for teaching and experience to be eliminated. "They are very enthusiastic and they are excited to teach what they teach, but I don't think they are as knowledgeable as a professor who already has their degree," said Matt Sutler, senior.

"We've had parents complain about French learning sessions. We've had parents complain with the absence of any graduate students," said Thibault. He also accused Thibault of being(work) the specific student and parent complaints with the committee and was deplored of their validity. "We've seen any of those complaints. Thibault is taking about," Nichter said. "It's not very to do here at this moment when were doing," said Thibault. Thibault disagreed with Nichter's accusations, saying that graduate students have been eliminated as part of our degree experience. "Sometimes we would teach them something and we would feel like they didn't really get it," Boltman said. "They are just really bad at that." But I believe talking with my students because of the potential financial impact. "We get credit for teaching and experience to be eliminated. "They are very enthusiastic and they are excited to teach what they teach, but I don't think they are as knowledgeable as a professor who already has their degree," said Matt Sutler, senior.

"We've had parents complain about French learning sessions. We've had parents complain with the absence of any graduate students," said Thibault. He also accused Thibault of being(work) the specific student and parent complaints with the committee and was deplored of their validity. "We've seen any of those complaints. Thibault is taking about," Nichter said. "It's not very to do here at this moment when were doing," said Thibault. Thibault disagreed with Nichter's accusations, saying that graduate students have been eliminated as part of our degree experience. "Sometimes we would teach them something and we would feel like they didn't really get it," Boltman said. "They are just really bad at that." But I believe talking with my students because of the potential financial impact. "We get credit for teaching and experience to be eliminated. "They are very enthusiastic and they are excited to teach what they teach, but I don't think they are as knowledgeable as a professor who already has their degree," said Matt Sutler, senior.

"We've had parents complain about French learning sessions. We've had parents complain with the absence of any graduate students," said Thibault. He also accused Thibault of being(work) the specific student and parent complaints with the committee and was deplored of their validity. "We've seen any of those complaints. Thibault is taking about," Nichter said. "It's not very to do here at this moment when were doing," said Thibault. Thibault disagreed with Nichter's accusations, saying that graduate students have been eliminated as part of our degree experience. "Sometimes we would teach them something and we would feel like they didn't really get it," Boltman said. "They are just really bad at that." But I believe talking with my students because of the potential financial impact. "We get credit for teaching and experience to be elimina..."
Nigeria election in 'disarray'

By Bashir Adigun

ABUJA, Nigeria — Nigeria's Supreme Court has ruled that the country's vice president is a presidential candidate and that the president and his predecessor cannot be barred from running for the presidency. The court also struck down an earlier appeal by the Nigerian electoral commission to disqualify the president from the race.

The decision in favor of Vice President Atiku Abubakar on Monday came after the commission had asked the Supreme Court to strike his name from the list of candidates for the presidential elections scheduled for April. The commission cited Abubakar's failure to meet a constitutional requirement that the vice president must have held the position of minister for three years prior to the election.

In a statement, the court said it had found no legal basis for disqualifying Abubakar, who has held the position of vice president since 1999. The court ruled that Abubakar had met the constitutional requirements for the vice presidency and that the commission did not have the power to disqualify a presidential candidate.

The move by the commission was seen as an attempt to prevent Abubakar from running in the election, which is expected to be one of the most competitive in Nigeria's history. The country's electoral commission faced criticism for its handling of the election, which was marred by allegations of fraud and violence.

The court's decision is likely to be challenged by the commission, which has already filed an appeal with the Supreme Court.

The court's decision is a significant blow to the government's efforts to stabilize the country and hold fair elections. Nigeria has been plagued by political violence and corruption, which has led to a lack of trust in the electoral process.

The country's election commission has been criticized for its lack of transparency and accountability, and has faced allegations of nepotism and favoritism.

The court's decision is seen as a victory for democracy in Nigeria, which has undergone significant political change in recent years. The country has made progress in recent years, with the adoption of a new constitution and the implementation of democratic reforms.

But the country still faces significant challenges, including a slow economy, high unemployment, and widespread corruption. The court's decision is seen as a step toward ensuring that the presidential election is held fairly and transparently.
leaving the janjaweed militias alone — brutally for individuals killing. The government denies the charge.

U.S. Defense Secretary Robert Gates, in Sudan as part of an international push to persuade the government near Khartoum, privately exerted pressure that the government would not support the janjaweed militias.

"The government of Sudan must disarm the janjaweed, the Arab militias that we all know cannot exist without the Sudanese government's active support," Gates said.

He also said Sudan was hindering international efforts to help the refugees.

The denial of visas, the harassment of aid workers and under-equipped AU peacekeepers force in Darfur, I want to calibrate the deployment of a joint AU-U.S. force with 17,000 troops and 1,000 police officers.

The United Nations and Sudan's government deny visas to non-governmental workers. "The denial of visas, the harassment of aid workers and under-equipped AU peacekeepers force in Darfur, I want to calibrate the deployment of a joint AU-U.S. force with 17,000 troops and 1,000 police officers.

"The government of Sudan must disarm the janjaweed, the Arab militias that we all know cannot exist without the Sudanese government's active support," Gates said.

He also said Sudan was hindering international efforts to help the refugees.

The denial of visas, the harassment of aid workers and under-equipped AU peacekeepers force in Darfur, I want to calibrate the deployment of a joint AU-U.S. force with 17,000 troops and 1,000 police officers.

The United Nations and Sudan's government deny visas to non-governmental workers. "The denial of visas, the harassment of aid workers and under-equipped AU peacekeepers force in Darfur, I want to calibrate the deployment of a joint AU-U.S. force with 17,000 troops and 1,000 police officers.

"The government of Sudan must disarm the janjaweed, the Arab militias that we all know cannot exist without the Sudanese government's active support," Gates said.

He also said Sudan was hindering international efforts to help the refugees.

The denial of visas, the harassment of aid workers and under-equipped AU peacekeepers force in Darfur, I want to calibrate the deployment of a joint AU-U.S. force with 17,000 troops and 1,000 police officers.

"The government of Sudan must disarm the janjaweed, the Arab militias that we all know cannot exist without the Sudanese government's active support," Gates said.

He also said Sudan was hindering international efforts to help the refugees.

The denial of visas, the harassment of aid workers and under-equipped AU peacekeepers force in Darfur, I want to calibrate the deployment of a joint AU-U.S. force with 17,000 troops and 1,000 police officers.

"The government of Sudan must disarm the janjaweed, the Arab militias that we all know cannot exist without the Sudanese government's active support," Gates said.

He also said Sudan was hindering international efforts to help the refugees.

The denial of visas, the harassment of aid workers and under-equipped AU peacekeepers force in Darfur, I want to calibrate the deployment of a joint AU-U.S. force with 17,000 troops and 1,000 police officers.

"The government of Sudan must disarm the janjaweed, the Arab militias that we all know cannot exist without the Sudanese government's active support," Gates said.

He also said Sudan was hindering international efforts to help the refugees.

The denial of visas, the harassment of aid workers and under-equipped AU peacekeepers force in Darfur, I want to calibrate the deployment of a joint AU-U.S. force with 17,000 troops and 1,000 police officers.

"The government of Sudan must disarm the janjaweed, the Arab militias that we all know cannot exist without the Sudanese government's active support," Gates said.

He also said Sudan was hindering international efforts to help the refugees.

The denial of visas, the harassment of aid workers and under-equipped AU peacekeepers force in Darfur, I want to calibrate the deployment of a joint AU-U.S. force with 17,000 troops and 1,000 police officers.

"The government of Sudan must disarm the janjaweed, the Arab militias that we all know cannot exist without the Sudanese government's active support," Gates said.

He also said Sudan was hindering international efforts to help the refugees.

The denial of visas, the harassment of aid workers and under-equipped AU peacekeepers force in Darfur, I want to calibrate the deployment of a joint AU-U.S. force with 17,000 troops and 1,000 police officers.

"The government of Sudan must disarm the janjaweed, the Arab militias that we all know cannot exist without the Sudanese government's active support," Gates said.

He also said Sudan was hindering international efforts to help the refugees.

The denial of visas, the harassment of aid workers and under-equipped AU peacekeepers force in Darfur, I want to calibrate the deployment of a joint AU-U.S. force with 17,000 troops and 1,000 police officers.
Little sleep can lead to disaster
Lack of sleep assumed to be a factor in the Comair Flight crash in Kentucky

By Barbara Isaac

LEXINGTON, Ky. — Most Americans pay little attention to where they sleep — until there's a tragedy.

Lack of sleep is a safety concern that gets some attention, particularly when it's an airline pilot or trucker, medical resident or even everyday people-drying-dishes.

But how do disinterested passengers and air traffic controllers feel about the potentially dangerous effects of sleep deprivation?

That's a question experts say has long been answered.

"They are such a part of our everyday life that we take it for granted," said Fred Tunic, director of the Center for Sleep & Orcadian Rhythms, the Air Line Pilots Association's licensed mental health provider.

"The highest and rarest form of white tea has anti-inflammatory and cancer-fighting qualities. A 2004 study at Pace University concluded that white tea can help by body's immune system fight off viruses and dangerous infections causing illness. The same study concluded that fluoride-rich white tea also helps prevent the growth of dental plaque, the researchers found. White tea may prevent OGG, muta-

"The problem with whole wheat flour is that it is expensive. Research is still in its infancy, but some say it is better for your body than white.

Nonetheless, while white flour and other teas and a lot more expensive. Research is still in its infancy, but some say it is better for your body than white.

The BG News has a opening for a qualified

Health

From green to white tea: switch may prolong life
By Judi Mckelvan Farrell

Product: White, 20 tea bags, $17.55

Key ingredients:

* From green to tea: it comes from the Camellia sinensis

* White tea leaves are picked and harvested before they fully open, when the bush is still covered by fine white hairs when the tea is turned into.

The pitch:

The highest and rarest form of white tea has anti-inflammatory and cancer-fighting qualities. A 2004 study at Pace University concluded that white tea can help by body's immune system fight off viruses and dangerous infections causing illness. The same study concluded that fluoride-rich white tea also helps prevent the growth of dental plaque, the researchers found.

Pros:

* Tea leaves for white tea processors even low processing than green tea leaves. Leaving the tea leaves for closer to their natu-

* It shouldn't be a surprise that white tea— and other teas and a lot more— also do for humans what it does for the body.

Cons:

* White tea is scarcer than other teas and a lot more expensive. Research is still in its infancy, but some say it is better for your body than white.

Enjoy the health benefits of white tea, which has been refined. This process strips away the naturally occurring oils, and some say bitter tasting, grains and cellulose fibers.

Whole-wheat flour, which has five times the fiber of all-purpose flour, has been found to play key roles in overall health and disease prevention.

Before you decide which flour to switch to, the structure of the flour, and the amount of nutrients that are retained or lost in the process. White flour (often called all-purpose) starts from the same wheat as whole, but has been refined. This process strips away the naturally occurring oils, and some say bitter tasting, grains and cellulose fibers.

Whole-wheat flour tends to be more dense than white, though this may not always be a problem with 50-

MECCA Management Inc.

COME IN AND SIGN A RESERVATION AGREEMENT TODAY AND WE WILL GIVE YOU A $25.00 GIFT CERTIFICATE TO MYES PIZZA!

$25.00 MYLES COUPON $25.00 MYLES COUPON 1045 N Main St. Bowling Green, OH 43402 419-333-5800 info@meccabg.com www.meccabg.com

"Certain terms & restrictions apply"
WEAR AND TEAR

Seven years. That’s how long it has been since an outdoor track meet was held at BG. The last time the current track was constructed, there was a different track in the White House and it is still standing. It is surrounded by fences and hedges due to a lack of maintenance. Broken pavers and overgrown grass are a common sight. The Whittaker Track Facility is in a state of disrepair.

The Whittaker Track facility is in quite a state of disrepair. It is surrounded by fences and hedges due to its location near the St. Bonaventure campus. It is not a safe place for running or training, as the facilities are not up to standard. This is why the decision to renovate the track was made. The new track will be made of a material that is more durable and easier to maintain. The new track will be a safer and more enjoyable place to train and compete.

SIDELINES

SOFTBALL

Wiener, Vallas recognized after stellar weekend

Sophomore Hayley Wiener and junior Allison Vallas have been recognized by the Mid-American Conference for their outstanding play in softball this season. Wiener has hit .342 with 7 home runs and 47 runs batted in, while Vallas has hit .316 with 4 home runs and 33 runs batted in.

OUR CALL

On the way down

Teddy Thomas, the Giants’ first baseman, has been recognized for his stellar week. He hit .348 with 7 home runs and 14 runs batted in, helping the Giants to a 3-1 record for the week.

Baseball

Today

vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.

1:00 (Day); 5 p.m.

vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.

- TODAY

Baseball

vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.

vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.

SCHEDULE

The Giants:

- September 17: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- September 18: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- September 19: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- September 20: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- September 21: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- September 22: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- September 23: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- September 24: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- September 25: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- September 26: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- September 27: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- September 28: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- September 29: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- September 30: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- October 1: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- October 2: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- October 3: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- October 4: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- October 5: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- October 6: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- October 7: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- October 8: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- October 9: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- October 10: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- October 11: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- October 12: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- October 13: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- October 14: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- October 15: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- October 16: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- October 17: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- October 18: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- October 19: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- October 20: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- October 21: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- October 22: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- October 23: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- October 24: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- October 25: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- October 26: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- October 27: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- October 28: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- October 29: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- October 30: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- October 31: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- November 1: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- November 2: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- November 3: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- November 4: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- November 5: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- November 6: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- November 7: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- November 8: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- November 9: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- November 10: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- November 11: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- November 12: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- November 13: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- November 14: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- November 15: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- November 16: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- November 17: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- November 18: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- November 19: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- November 20: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- November 21: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- November 22: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- November 23: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- November 24: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- November 25: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- November 26: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- November 27: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- November 28: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- November 29: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- November 30: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- December 1: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- December 2: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- December 3: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- December 4: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- December 5: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- December 6: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- December 7: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- December 8: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- December 9: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- December 10: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- December 11: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- December 12: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- December 13: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- December 14: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- December 15: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- December 16: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- December 17: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- December 18: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- December 19: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- December 20: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- December 21: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- December 22: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- December 23: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- December 24: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- December 25: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- December 26: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- December 27: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- December 28: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- December 29: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- December 30: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- December 31: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
- January 1: vs. Dayton; 3 p.m.
- January 2: vs. Ohio State; 3 p.m.
Fourteen-year-old professional bullfighter nearly gored to death

By Mark Steenstra
The News-Press
MEXICO CITY — A 14-year-old matador who left Spain to escape his home country's laws on young bullfighters was nearly gored to death in Mexico this Friday, his lung punctured by a 900-pound bull.

Jesus Miguel, who has been bullfighting professionally in Mexico for about the past two years, was fighting at the Aguascalientes Monumental bullring on Sunday when a bull came into the ring at top speed and thrust him in the air, appearing to carry his wounded yards with one horn firmly buried in his thorax.

"I'm dying, dad. I'm dying," government news agency Notimex quoted him as saying immediately after the goring.

Jesus's father, Antonio Sanchez Garces, is a also a well-known bullfighter who came with him to Mexico from Spain and was reported unharmed the ring on Sunday.

When his son was injured, the parents could not immediately be reached for comment.

The slightly built, baby-faced teen was billed as the youngest matador in the world when he came to Mexico almost two years ago at age 12, apparently to escape Spain's ban on bullfighting younger than 16. He reportedly had stood prior to the goring.

In his first appearance in Mexico, Juan has scored some victories that earned him the right to fight against the bullfighting sickle to his right shoulder.

At top speed, the bull landed a one-inch clover into the heart. "This surely would have been catastrophic where it would have been very difficult to control the bleeding," Notimex later connected to a necropsy on Monday but doctors were confident they could recover.

Williams said that the goring was not a lot of fun to play, because the stadium playing surface was off the line and he was not going to be able to do his best.

"It was a lot of fun," Williams said. "I was 14, and it was an advantage for me because we play the line of the bullfighting line of the bullfighting line."

In other BG regulars, the track featured North Fortep Ceremony University 24-16. The C team took down the University of Toledo 38-16, and the middle team finished 35-26. The combined team pushed the girls overall return to 38-16 on the spring season.

Part of the home victory is a trip for the A and B teams to Miami this Saturday, with the C team traveling to Ohio State in the Brawl meet. Next game are scheduled for May 1.

"It was a lot of fun," Williams said. "I was 14, and it was an advantage for me because we play the line of the bullfighting line of the bullfighting line."

In other BG regulars, the track featured North Fortep Ceremony University 24-16. The C team

took down the University of Toledo 38-16, and the middle team finished 35-26. The combined team pushed the girls overall return to 38-16 on the spring season.

Part of the home victory is a trip for the A and B teams to Miami this Saturday, with the C team traveling to Ohio State in the Brawl meet. Next game are scheduled for May 1.

"It was a lot of fun," Williams said. "I was 14, and it was an advantage for me because we play the line of the bullfighting line of the bullfighting line."

In other BG regulars, the track featured North Fortep Ceremony University 24-16. The C team

took down the University of Toledo 38-16, and the middle team finished 35-26. The combined team pushed the girls overall return to 38-16 on the spring season.

Part of the home victory is a trip for the A and B teams to Miami this Saturday, with the C team traveling to Ohio State in the Brawl meet. Next game are scheduled for May 1.

"It was a lot of fun," Williams said. "I was 14, and it was an advantage for me because we play the line of the bullfighting line of the bullfighting line."

In other BG regulars, the track featured North Fortep Ceremony University 24-16. The C team

took down the University of Toledo 38-16, and the middle team finished 35-26. The combined team pushed the girls overall return to 38-16 on the spring season.

Part of the home victory is a trip for the A and B teams to Miami this Saturday, with the C team traveling to Ohio State in the Brawl meet. Next game are scheduled for May 1.

"It was a lot of fun," Williams said. "I was 14, and it was an advantage for me because we play the line of the bullfighting line of the bullfighting line."

In other BG regulars, the track featured North Fortep Ceremony University 24-16. The C team

took down the University of Toledo 38-16, and the middle team finished 35-26. The combined team pushed the girls overall return to 38-16 on the spring season.

Part of the home victory is a trip for the A and B teams to Miami this Saturday, with the C team traveling to Ohio State in the Brawl meet. Next game are scheduled for May 1.

"It was a lot of fun," Williams said. "I was 14, and it was an advantage for me because we play the line of the bullfighting line of the bullfighting line."

In other BG regulars, the track featured North Fortep Ceremony University 24-16. The C team

took down the University of Toledo 38-16, and the middle team finished 35-26. The combined team pushed the girls overall return to 38-16 on the spring season.

Part of the home victory is a trip for the A and B teams to Miami this Saturday, with the C team traveling to Ohio State in the Brawl meet. Next game are scheduled for May 1.

"It was a lot of fun," Williams said. "I was 14, and it was an advantage for me because we play the line of the bullfighting line of the bullfighting line."

In other BG regulars, the track featured North Fortep Ceremony University 24-16. The C team

took down the University of Toledo 38-16, and the middle team finished 35-26. The combined team pushed the girls overall return to 38-16 on the spring season.

Part of the home victory is a trip for the A and B teams to Miami this Saturday, with the C team traveling to Ohio State in the Brawl meet. Next game are scheduled for May 1.

"It was a lot of fun," Williams said. "I was 14, and it was an advantage for me because we play the line of the bullfighting line of the bullfighting line."

In other BG regulars, the track featured North Fortep Ceremony University 24-16. The C team

took down the University of Toledo 38-16, and the middle team finished 35-26. The combined team pushed the girls overall return to 38-16 on the spring season.

Part of the home victory is a trip for the A and B teams to Miami this Saturday, with the C team traveling to Ohio State in the Brawl meet. Next game are scheduled for May 1.

"It was a lot of fun," Williams said. "I was 14, and it was an advantage for me because we play the line of the bullfighting line of the bullfighting line."

In other BG regulars, the track featured North Fortep Ceremony University 24-16. The C team

took down the University of Toledo 38-16, and the middle team finished 35-26. The combined team pushed the girls overall return to 38-16 on the spring season.

Part of the home victory is a trip for the A and B teams to Miami this Saturday, with the C team traveling to Ohio State in the Brawl meet. Next game are scheduled for May 1.

"It was a lot of fun," Williams said. "I was 14, and it was an advantage for me because we play the line of the bullfighting line of the bullfighting line."

In other BG regulars, the track featured North Fortep Ceremony University 24-16. The C team

took down the University of Toledo 38-16, and the middle team finished 35-26. The combined team pushed the girls overall return to 38-16 on the spring season.

Part of the home victory is a trip for the A and B teams to Miami this Saturday, with the C team traveling to Ohio State in the Brawl meet. Next game are scheduled for May 1.

"It was a lot of fun," Williams said. "I was 14, and it was an advantage for me because we play the line of the bullfighting line of the bullfighting line."

In other BG regulars, the track featured North Fortep Ceremony University 24-16. The C team

took down the University of Toledo 38-16, and the middle team finished 35-26. The combined team pushed the girls overall return to 38-16 on the spring season.

Part of the home victory is a trip for the A and B teams to Miami this Saturday, with the C team traveling to Ohio State in the Brawl meet. Next game are scheduled for May 1.

"It was a lot of fun," Williams said. "I was 14, and it was an advantage for me because we play the line of the bullfighting line of the bullfighting line."

In other BG regulars, the track featured North Fortep Ceremony University 24-16. The C team took down the University of Toledo 38-16, and the middle team finished 35-26. The combined team pushed the girls overall return to 38-16 on the spring season.

MARATHON
From Page It

antelope, he doesn’t look back.
he to see me,” Cheruiyot said.
so when I run, I don’t start at
my time.”
Cheruiyot outdistanced countryman Lelisa Kwambai as they hurried into Kenmore Square with a run to go and finish
less than a minute near the midpoint.
Sudoko

THE BG NEWS SUDOKU

You’ll find it in Aldine!

Endline, as per usual.

itate, he doesn’t look back.
he to see me,” Cheruiyot said.
so when I run, I don’t start at
my time.”
Cheruiyot outdistanced countryman Lelisa Kwambai as they hurried into Kenmore Square with a run to go and finish
less than a minute near the midpoint.
Sudoko

THE BG NEWS SUDOKU

You’ll find it in Aldine!

Endline, as per usual.

itate, he doesn’t look back.
he to see me,” Cheruiyot said.
so when I run, I don’t start at
my time.”
Cheruiyot outdistanced countryman Lelisa Kwambai as they hurried into Kenmore Square with a run to go and finish
less than a minute near the midpoint.
Sudoko

THE BG NEWS SUDOKU

You’ll find it in Aldine!

Endline, as per usual.

itate, he doesn’t look back.
he to see me,” Cheruiyot said.
so when I run, I don’t start at
my time.”
Cheruiyot outdistanced countryman Lelisa Kwambai as they hurried into Kenmore Square with a run to go and finish
less than a minute near the midpoint.
Sudoko

THE BG NEWS SUDOKU

You’ll find it in Aldine!

Endline, as per usual.

itate, he doesn’t look back.
he to see me,” Cheruiyot said.
so when I run, I don’t start at
my time.”
Cheruiyot outdistanced countryman Lelisa Kwambai as they hurried into Kenmore Square with a run to go and finish
less than a minute near the midpoint.
Sudoko

THE BG NEWS SUDOKU

You’ll find it in Aldine!

Endline, as per usual.
Ohio is home to oldest living WWI vet

By Jon Swarr

NORTH BALTIMORE, Ohio — J. Russell Coffiey gets an occasional photo request or visit from someone wanting to know more about his life. He's adored by the issues who bring him gifts of soccer and ping-pong balls.

The 108-year-old former college professor is the oldest-known survivor of World War I. He is shown wearing in uniforms and we did a lot of drilling inductees.

More than 47 million Americans joined the military from 1917-1918. There are only two other U.S. veterans still alive from the “war to end all wars,” according to the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs.

Coffey, born Sept. 1, 1898, didn't serve in the military. He entered the Army while he was a freshman at Ohio State University in October 1918, a month before the U.S. powers and Germany signed a cessation of hostilities.

He was discharged at the time. He wants to get out of it, he says now.

The history teacher and American soldiers are from Frank Road, near New Bremen, Ohio, and Harry Landis, 110, a military veteran living in the Veterens Affairs Department, John Balkio, Ill., is an active member of the 77th Division Memorial Association. It was the patriotic thing to do. It was the patriotic thing to do.

Russell Coppiey gets an occa-isional photo request or visit from someone wanting to know more about his life. He's adored by the issues who bring him gifts of soccer and ping-pong balls.

Coffey never talked much about the war, said his 89-year-old daughter, Jerry in Larsen. "That wasn’t his personal experience," he said. He told his only foreign mami-er, calling it his favorite. "They were really jolly people." He today lives at the Bradley Center College, a nursing home in northwestern Ohio where there are no memories of his past inside him.

Annual commemoration of this is to keep an eye on his descent. Three of this family's pictures and items in Murieen are taped to the furniture.

It was the patriotic thing to do.

The 108-year-old former college professor is the oldest-known survivor of World War I. He is shown wearing in uniforms and we did a lot of drilling inductees.

More than 47 million Americans joined the military from 1917-1918. There are only two other U.S. veterans still alive from the “war to end all wars,” according to the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs.

Coffey, born Sept. 1, 1898, didn't serve in the military. He entered the Army while he was a freshman at Ohio State University in October 1918, a month before the U.S. powers and Germany signed a cessation of hostilities.

He was discharged at the time. He wants to get out of it, he says now.

The history teacher and American soldiers are from Frank Road, near New Bremen, Ohio, and Harry Landis, 110, a military veteran living in the Veterens Affairs Department, John Balkio, Ill., is an active member of the 77th Division Memorial Association. It was the patriotic thing to do. It was the patriotic thing to do.

Russell Coppiey gets an occa-isional photo request or visit from someone wanting to know more about his life. He's adored by the issues who bring him gifts of soccer and ping-pong balls.

Coffey never talked much about the war, said his 89-year-old daughter, Jerry in Larsen. "That wasn’t his personal experience," he said. He told his only foreign mami-er, calling it his favorite. "They were really jolly people." He today lives at the Bradley Center College, a nursing home in northwestern Ohio where there are no memories of his past inside him.

Annual commemoration of this is to keep an eye on his descent. Three of this family's pictures and items in Murieen are taped to the furniture.

It was the patriotic thing to do.

The 108-year-old former college professor is the oldest-known survivor of World War I. He is shown wearing in uniforms and we did a lot of drilling inductees.

More than 47 million Americans joined the military from 1917-1918. There are only two other U.S. veterans still alive from the “war to end all wars,” according to the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs.

Coffey, born Sept. 1, 1898, didn't serve in the military. He entered the Army while he was a freshman at Ohio State University in October 1918, a month before the U.S. powers and Germany signed a cessation of hostilities.

He was discharged at the time. He wants to get out of it, he says now.

The history teacher and American soldiers are from Frank Road, near New Bremen, Ohio, and Harry Landis, 110, a military veteran living in the Veterens Affairs Department, John Balkio, Ill., is an active member of the 77th Division Memorial Association. It was the patriotic thing to do. It was the patriotic thing to do.